

HISTORY

Degree offered: BA

Minor: Yes (See Catalogue for requirements.)

Courses appropriate for beginning students:

- 105 Introductory Seminars in History. These courses are intended for first and second year students. Students will explore a more specialized topic or theme than in the 200-level courses. Students should have a strong interest in the topic or theme they choose. Not open to juniors and seniors. (F2i, F3)
- A variety of 200-level courses (see catalogue). The Department's 200-level courses are designed as introductory survey courses that require no special background. All 200-level History courses are suitable for first- and second-year students. All 200-level History courses count towards a major (and minor) in History, and so are also suitable for students considering a major (or minor) in History. There are no prerequisites for 200-level courses. (F3)

Courses required for majors and appropriate for beginning students:

- Any 200-level course (F3)
- 300 The Historian's Craft. This course is designed for majors or those seriously considering majoring in History only. Should be taken sophomore year or no later than fall of the junior year. (F2i)

Required courses in other departments: None

Recommended courses in other departments: None

Latest time to begin a major and graduate on schedule:

- Fall semester junior year

AP credit:

- See AP Exam table or Department of History website for details

Courses that close quickly:

- 105, 212, 233, 242, 243, 247

Courses that don't count toward a major:

- No more than one 105 course will count toward the major.