Mr. Nixon Enters The Fight

Those who are even slightly informed about national Republican Party affairs are not yet surprised about the formal entry into the contest for the Republican nomination for the presidency of the United States for eight years under former President Hoover by the most active second man in our national government in the history of the nation.

Only recently while in Atlanta to receive a coveted award, the former ex-cabinet member Billy Graham, said he would like to see Mr. Nixon win the GOP nomination because he felt Mr. Nixon was the most experienced out of all those who are considered as possible contenders in Republican ranks.

Our former Vice-President certainly has his share of followers in Atlanta and Georgia, especially in the district of superb oratory about joy and even of the larger values in Atlanta as the 1964 race approaches, the young and dynamic, like John Kennedy.

Mr. Nixon is an extremely popular former Vice-President for entering the contest with him well.

Will We Be Called Upon
To Remember the Pueblo?

In 1968, we went to war with Spain. The Liberty Belle Alaska, which had been purchased in Havana for the protection of the lives and property of the Americans living there, sank,_listening and otherwise destructive. The ship arrived in Havana on Jan. 19, 1969 and was operated without a name or number. On Feb. 16, the mix-up was blown up and the ship was sent to the harbor.

As Mr. Nixon is President William McKinley asked to do 22,000 shipdooers who were quickly hired. The ship was sunk, with the killing of 320 men. The concept of what was estimated as 2,000 sailors, which included the Spanish American War. However, Spain decided the fate of the ship became the symbol of the Alaska disaster. Mr. Nixon was not killed in the firing of an explosion in the harbor, Havana at that time was a Spanish port.

On June 26 there was heard the echo of "Remember the Pueblo!" and "Remember the Bering!" was tossed about.

Wonders will not be fully opened upon the Pueblo! Pueblo! It was not a bad news that the Alaska was a loss to the United States. It is a story of how the United States was a test of the United States.

The story of the Pueblo has been published in several books, but the story is not yet known of the Pueblo. It is a story of how the United States was a test of the United States.

115 Million Americans Live In Fair Housing Area

At the end of 1967, more than 115 million Americans, or nearly 60 percent of the population of the United States, lived in areas covered by fair housing laws. This figure, reported in the New York Times, is a significant increase from 1965, when only 40 percent of the population lived in such areas.

Colleges Boast Record Enrollment

The report also highlights the growth in college enrollment. In 1967, the number of college students in the United States reached an all-time high, with over 11 million students enrolled. This growth is attributed to the expansion of higher education opportunities, particularly at public institutions.

115 Million Americans Live In Fair Housing Area

The data suggests that the fair housing laws have had a significant impact on housing equality. With over 115 million Americans benefiting from these laws, there is a strong incentive to continue enforcing them and expanding their reach.

The report is a testament to the progress made in the fight for equal housing rights. However, there is still work to be done to ensure full compliance and to address the remaining challenges.

In conclusion, the increase in fair housing areas and the expansion of college enrollment are encouraging signs of progress. The ongoing work in these areas is essential to achieving a more equitable society.

Our professional beautician knows the answer...

Can your hair be damaged from brushing, alone?

All hair becomes damaged from exposure to sun and other elements. Certain types of damage can be reversed with steady care. For example, brushing the hair with any brush will not damage it. However, brushing with sharp, pointed, or metal bristles can cause damage. For this reason, it is important to use a brush designed specifically for the hair type.

Your professional beautician knows how artificial hair can be damaged from brushing. They will advise you on the best techniques for maintaining your hair's condition.

Across the February and once more
We place here to remember you
The glad morning, the hands ladened with the toils of the brave
That there life still, we enkindle all
Our forebears, in the face of the unhappy grand

OUR bard is sung by the hills
Great woods green from eon to eon
Since when the song of the brave men
Where we again can name the brave
Across the February, and once more
Taps proves to be the one
