Kennedy's Statement Hurts U.S. Viet Policy

By JOHN PHILLIPS

United Press International

ASSASSINATED President Kennedy died a hero for a generation that had come of age on the American scene because of his leadership. The world now awaits the next move in the policy of the United States, and it is not clear who will take over from the man who was assassinated.

President Kennedy's death has put the United States in a difficult position. The United States has been involved in Vietnam for many years, and it is not clear how the United States will react to the loss of its President.

In the face of this uncertainty, it is important to remember that the United States has a responsibility to the people of Vietnam, and that it is important to continue to support the people of Vietnam in their struggle for freedom.

You Should Know These Financial Dangers Signs

* * *

One way to tell the truth is to look for the sign. If you're dealing with a salesperson, look for the sign that he's trying to sell you something. If you're dealing with a bank, look for the sign that they're trying to get your money. If you're dealing with a government agency, look for the sign that they're trying to take your money.

Cashier's Window

If you're in a store and you see a cashier's window, it's usually a sign that the store is trying to make a sale. Cashiers are trained to look for signs of a sale, and they're often able to spot a customer who's about to make a purchase.

Credit Card Sign

If you see a credit card sign, it's a sign that the store is trying to get you to use your credit card. Credit card companies often pay stores a commission for every transaction that's made using a credit card, so they're often willing to pay for a credit card sign.

Do's And Don'ts

1. Always check your balance before you make a purchase. If you're not sure how much money you have in your account, you're more likely to overspend. If you're not sure how much you have in your credit card balance, you're more likely to overspend.
2. If you're using a credit card, always pay the minimum due on time. If you're not sure how much you owe, you're more likely to overspend. If you're not sure how much you owe, you're more likely to overspend.
3. If you're using a debit card, always make sure you have enough money in your account. If you're not sure how much you have in your account, you're more likely to overspend. If you're not sure how much you have in your account, you're more likely to overspend.

World Of Religion

* * *

The world is full of religious beliefs, but what do they all mean? Here are a few questions to ask yourself:

1. What do you believe is the ultimate purpose of life?
2. What do you believe is the best way to achieve your purpose?
3. What do you believe is the best way to achieve your purpose?

Do you have a favorite religion? If so, why do you like it?
