Kodak has changed all that.
The only thing that changed the name is that it's called a movie camera. Otherwise, the Kodak Instamatic M12 movie camera, is one of a whole new breed.

It's small. Fit right in your palm. Needs few editing. It's less than $50. In its weight, Kodak's Kwik Shot is easy to carry, and handles, one, less than $30.

And there's nothing mysterious about dropping in a film cartridge and shooting until you get a roll of film. And it's not a toy. The movies are super 8, which means a really sharp, bright picture no matter your scene.

There's a wide range of Kodak movie cameras and super 8 projectors (which you can play your 8 movie). Deep in the Kodak dealer's and on what's happening in the movie business.

Kodak Instamatic movie cameras.

From less than $30.

Remember when movie cameras were big, expensive, and mysterious?
