MORE $$ FOR HOSPITAL WORKERS

The underpaid striking employees of the predominant Negro city hospital, John Gaston, should receive positive answers to their list of demands.

And, by positive answers, we mean higher salaries and better working conditions.

Negro employees and Negro patients have been critical of the hospital for many years. Their pleas and cries were ignored until recently.

Feeble efforts have been made to appease the underpaid kitchen help, nurses aides, house-keepers, laundry workers and licensed practical nurses.

But these feeble efforts have not satisfied the union people who went on strike last weekend.

The hospital is run by City Hall which makes the situation messy and political. Surely there is someone in the crowd with guts enough to stand up and demand that the hospital be taken out of politics and that its operation be turned over to the Board of Trustees.

We say the gripes of the strikers should be dealt with positively because their demands are not out of line.

Here are their demands. Consider them:

- That night differential be paid employees on the 3-11 p.m. and 11 p.m.-7 a.m. shifts before Dec. 1, 1968.
- That "senior" employees be given pay hikes before Dec. 1.
- That all licensed practical nurses be brought up to a minimum of $400 a month before December. Present starting (Continued On Page Four)

STOMP DEATH NETS 10 YEARS

A man accused of beating and stomping a woman to death has been sentenced to prison for 10 years.

Pleading guilty to voluntary manslaughter and accepting the 10-year punishment was James Thomas France, 48, who resided at 2067 Carr.

The woman beaten and stomped to death was Mrs. Marguerite King, 57. She was found dead in France's home, last March 9.

When arrested and booked on the charge of slaying Mrs. King, France was quoted by police as saying he and Mrs. King had been drinking before the killing took place.

Death of the woman is said to have followed an argument over a jar of pickle relish.

Assistant Attorney General Joe Patterson presented the case to a jury in Judge Perry Sellers' vision of criminal court.

Javits says he'll press for jail for Israel.

Hollywood Boycott Over; Lamar May Be Next!

The Memphis NAACP last week lifted its two-week-long boycott of merchants in the Hollywood-Chelsea shopping area and turned its attention in the direction of Southgate and Lamar-Airways shopping centers.

Dr. Vasco A. Smith, chairman of the NAACP Ghetto Development Committee, said most merchants in the Hollywood-Chelsea area had agreed to increase Negro employment from 49 percent to approximately 85 percent.

He said the committee will continue to negotiate with several stores in the area which did not comply, "notably the Hollywood Furniture and Hardware Co."

He said Southgate and Lamar-Airways shopping centers "are now being studied for action in the immediate future."

Geo. W. Lee Honored At Writers' Banquet

Mr. Lee was honored for his "contribution to literature." He has three published books to his credit. Also honored at the testimonial was Mrs. Evelyn Reynolds of Philadelphia, author of three books of poems.

In a banquet address, Mr. Lee said: "At least a part of our interest on the civil rights front at this time should be a drive to get school systems to introduce ultra-racial textbooks for classroom instruction. Such a fight cannot be labeled as just an emotional outburst of disordered minds fearfully lacking in intellectual objectivity."

"I believe that racism on the part of whites and the felling of inferiority on the part of Negroes are

"CONGRATULATIONS AND ALL THAT JAZZ" is the message on this candle from Kansas City for Memphis' Sesquicentennial in 1969. Lewis Rowland, an artist at Hallmark Cards in Kansas City, created the silhouettes of jazz musicians in the 18 stained glass windows. The candle, a group assignment at the card firm, is three feet high, weighs 80 pounds and is 44 inches in circumference.

Negro Artist Peps Up Memphis Candle

Artists and craftsmen from Hallmark Cards have created the year's most unique candle and are about ready to ship it to Memphis.

The candle will be a present from the Greater Kansas City Chamber of Commerce for Memphis' Sesquicentennial in 1969. It joins candles from 149 other cities honoring Memphis' 150th year.

W. Percy Brooks, executive vice president of the Memphis Area Chamber of Commerce, said the candles will be on display during the entire year and then become a permanent part of the city's museum.

After a short display period in Kansas City, the candle will be brought to Memphis, on September 30, by members of the Kansas City Area Chamber for presentation to Memphis officials.

One artist, Lewis Rowland, played a major role in setting the tone of the gift, an artistic relation of the music histories of the two cities, Memphis Blues and Kansas City Jazz play a major role.

Rowland, an artist in the card company's specialty design department, created 18 silhouettes of jazz musicians for the 18 stained glass windows that circle the huge candle in two rows. The windows picture a torch singer and jazzmen playing drums, clarinets, trombones, trumpets, piano and other instruments.

Said the artist: "I painted large stylizations of the silhouettes on paper prior to actually putting them on the windows. To put them on they were reduced to the pro-

Complaints Over Voting In September 11th Primary Aired

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)—A request that last week's primary elections in Fulton County be voided and complaints of irregularities at mostly Negro polling places were brought before the Fulton County Elections Board Wednesday during a public hearing at the courthouse.

According to Bob Shaw, chairman of the Fulton County Republican Executive Committee, the joint primary ran smoothly in 90 percent of Fulton County's 198 precincts. He said with election officials having to cope with 650 new polling places and transferring thousands of voters from old places to new ones everything seems to have gone along smoothly.

GOP State Representative Mike Egan of the 116th district pointed out under current law the main responsibility for handling primaries "rests with the political parties" with local officials such as the elections board providing general supervision in a coordinating capacity.

give the state and county full authority and responsibility for operating not only the general election which they do now, but also the primaries which he said are "an integral part of the election process."

Request that the primary results be voided came from Theodore Lowe, research chairman of the Georgia Voters Education Association. The GEVA endorsed Wyman Lowe who was defeated in that race by former U. S. Representative Charles Weltner.

Theodore Lowe told the board that he had pictures and other evidence which he had turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation showing violation of the law pollticking within 250 feet of the polling places.

He said that cards endorsing Weltner and U. S. Senatorial candidate Maynard Jackson were "in a stack right by the voting booths" in one precinct and were "tacked onto a wall" inside another polling place.

Jesse Hill representing the All Citizens Voters Registration Committee said that he would like to see the board expand the five man panel to eight and the three new members be Negroes. "The Board is bipartisan but it is also lily-white," Hill said.

OUR HOUSE GUEST for one day and a few hours of another day was my cousin, MRS. WILZETTA JOHNSON BROWN, principal of Parkwood School (a beautiful modern and up to date school at Inkster, Michigan) (one of Detroit's suburbs). Wilzetta is just back into the States after taking a year's leave last year to finish requirements for the doctorate degree at the University of Hawaii. Her work on the masters and work toward the doctorate were previously done at the University of Michigan. Going with her was her young eleven year old son, "Chucky" who spent the first semester in "Prep" School in Honolulu. Spending Christmas with Wilzetta were two of her sisters, Carrie (Jarrett) of Little Rock and Zola Johnson of Indianapolis.

After the first of Jan. 1968 Wilzetta and Chucky started on a long-time planned trip "around the world" ... stopping first in Tokyo. In Japan, they also visited Osaka, Kyoto and Hiroshima. They left Japan and spent two weeks in Taipei, Taiwan (sometimes called Formosa, Nationalist government of the Republic of China) on to the beautiful harbor of Hong Kong ... and to Bangkok in Thailand where they loved the "Floating Market Tours as I did. In India "Wile" and "Chucky" went to Calcutta ... stopping at the Grand Hotel on Chowringhee Road where I spent my honeymoon ... They spent two weeks each in Bombay and New Delhi ... and as most tourists were excited over Agra where they saw the Taj Mahal.

They stopped in Karachi, Pakistan. Beirut and several other cities for one day only ... but their next visit was on the continent of Africa taking in Dares, Salaam in East Africa (Tanzania) ... Nairobi, Kenya's beautiful city where they saw Jo Mo Kenjatta (Kenya's president) Addis Ababa in Ethiopia where they spent a week to two weeks in each the French Riviera, Rome, Venice and Milan in Italy ... Luxembourg in Switzerland ... Finland, one of the most northerly countries in the world, they spent time in Helsinki, the capital city known for its flower vendors ... open air markets, an its beautiful harbor ... Frankford and Hamburg in Germany ... Amsterdam in the Netherlands ... The Hague (Gravenhage) seat of the government in the Netherlands and residence of the Royal Dutch family, tourist resort and metropolis where they visited Wilzetta's cousin who is with NATO. Their last stops were Paris, London ... leading in New York City the latter part of August after having left the mainland September 1, 1967.

Wilzetta came to Memphis to attend the funeral services of a long time friend, Mr. W. Williams, principal of the Junior High School at Forest City whose wife is her close friend. We met her on Monday evening ... Went over Tuesday to join her in Forest City where she was joined by her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. W. L. Jarrett of Little Rock.

Back in Memphis on Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Maceo Walker, Mrs. Johnetta Kelso and Mrs. Alma Booth, old friends dropped by to see her. It was Harrette Walker's parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. S. Ish with whom Wilzetta made her home in Little Rock while she attended high school and Jr. college. She credits Dr. Ish next to her father (as one responsible for her success in life) ... So does her brother, Bob who praised the Little Rock surgeon for pushing him. Bob owns and operates a very fine Bath House on Western Avenue in Los Angeles where many movie stars, entertainers from all over the nation frequent at every spare moment (Johnson's Bath House). Wilzetta attended Work Shops or Institutes the University in Copenhagen, capital and largest city in the Scandinavia while her son spent much of his time at Tivoli Garden's, city's famous amusement park ... the University of Bamby, the Gateway to India ... the University of Japan and the Sorbonne in Paris ... at Stockholm ... Luzern in Switzerland and studied Religions of the Eastern World in all of the cities of India that she went into. Opposes College Appointment Of Black Panther Member In Calif.

By JACK V. FOX
LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan carried his fight against Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver's appointment as a University of California lecturer on racism Sept. 20 to an open session of a bitterly divided Board of Regents.

Cleaver, the militant "minister of information" of the Panthers, was also here from his Oakland headquarters but he said he would not appear at the UCLA meeting "because it might create some problems."

Reagan, who has termed naming of ex-convict Cleaver to deliver 10 lectures at Berkeley an insult to the people of California, was expected personally to lead the drive to reverse the appointment made by a faculty committee acting on a student suggestion.

The governor, however, has only one vote on the 24-member board. Cleaver said Friday, Reagan and other Republican and Democratic politicians were using "demagoguery" to further their careers by using him as a "wiping boy" and obscuring the purpose of educating young people on racial problems.

Eighteen of the regents, meeting in closed session Thursday, failed to come up with a committee recommendation whether to approve or reverse Cleaver's appointment.

One regent said students should not be exposed to a man of Cleaver's character and record-prison terms for narcotics and assault of fences—no matter what his qualifications on Negro problems. Another praised him as a "sensitive, thoughtful" man as indicated by his book, "Soul On Ice."

Reagan, arriving here for the meeting, said he did not think Cleaver should participate in "even one lecture on a campus of the University of California."

There was opposition, however, to the regents' departing from the tradition of keeping hands of faculty selection of courses and lecturers. Cleaver is currently free on bond on charges of assault with intent to commit murder in a two-hour shoot-out with Oakland police officers.

The Negro militant said that he had pleaded innocent to that charge and that he was entitled to be presumed innocent until proved otherwise — therefore the matter was not relevant to his campus appearance.

Polltaker Says That No Candidate Is 'Shoo In'

NEW YORK—(UPI)—With almost one-fourth of the nation's voters apparently undecided, Republican Richard M. Nixon is no more a "shoo-in" for the presidency than Thomas E. Dewey was in 1958, a veteran polltaker said Tuesday.

Albert E. Sindlinger, president of Sindlinger & Co. of Norwood, Pa., said a telephone survey of 1,888 voters in 48 states conducted by his organization Thursday through Sunday indicated 23.1 per cent of the voters were undecided.

Sindlinger said another factor making the outcome of the election uncertain is the large number of supporters of third party candidate George C. Wallace who do not think he actually can win the election.

"I think that those who believe Nixon is a shoo-in now are the same who thought Dewey was in 1948," Sindlinger said. Dewey was defeated by Democratic president Harry S. Truman that year despite predictions that he would win over Truman by a wide margin.

Sindlinger reported in his latest poll that 17.8 per cent of those questioned said they "most want to see" Wallace elected president if the election were held now but only 4.3 per cent said they thought he "will actually be elected in November."

"The question is whether those who favor Wallace will vote for him," Sindlinger said. He said the difference in percentages between those who favor Wallace and those who think he can win indicated "there will be a lot of soul searching" by many Wallace backers before November.

The same poll showed Nixon winning 34.5 per cent of the vote and Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey taking 24.6 per cent.

Of the 23.1 per cent who were undecided 126 per cent said they had "no opinion" and 8.8 per cent

Another Negro General

The U.S. Army deserves our highest praise in the recent promotion of a well qualified Negro officer to the rank of brigadier general and the first to lead an infantry brigade (199th Light Infantry) in combat. They are presently charged with the responsibility of defending Saigon.

The esteemed U.S. commander in South Vietnam, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, said as he pinned the stars to the new general's tunic:

"I can think of no man who has worked harder or who deserves the promotion to general office more than Gen. Davison."

The other two Negro officers to attain the rank of general are Gen. B. O. Davis, Sr., (U.S. Army, retired) and his son, B. O. Davis, Jr., currently on duty in the Philippines.

Gen. Davison's qualifications and willingness to work hard are attested to by the fact that he served in the Reserve Officers Training Program (ROTC) at Howard University in Washington, D.C.

In addition, he holds a bachelor of science degree from Howard and two master's degrees, one from Howard and the other from George Washington University.

Experience-wise, Gen. Davison was in combat in World War II in Italy, serving with all-Negro infantry units. He left the Army in 1946 and attended medical school for a while then received a regular commission in the army and went back into the military.

He hopes his achievements in the Army "might help some ghetto youths pull themselves together and reach out for a satisfactory career."

We praise the Army for its promotion of Gen. Davison and hope that it will serve as an inspiration for our youth to work hard and to stay in school.

Political Affiliation Changes Big Boost For Two Party System

The recent shift in party allegiance from Democrat to Republican of five elected state officials is a good sign and will further strengthen the two-party system in Georgia which we have advocated for some years.

However, we hasten to add that we heartily agree with Chairman G. Paul Jones and other Republican officials in stating that racists will not be welcomed into the Republican Party. Dr. C. Clayton Powell, Atlanta, Vision Specialist and Republican leader, in commenting on the shifting of certain white state officials from the Democrat to the Republican Party, said:

"For those who are really trying to make this two party state with justice for all, I welcome them with open arms; but I am concerned about the Republican Party becoming the only party in Georgia."

Dr. Powell added that he urges "more Negroes to come over into the Republican Party in order to maintain a balance between the two parties. Georgia is definitely moving toward a two party state."

He said it is the responsibility of Negroes in the state to see that Georgia does not change from a one-party Democrat state to a one-party Republican state. I urge more Negroes to come over into the Republican Party."

We had anticipated the shift for some years. We believe that when people believe in the same basic Republican principles they should come together in the Republican Party. Those who have come into the party recently are considered moderates. It would be unwise for a person such as Gov. Lester Maddox to come over into the Republican Party because he is out of line with true Republicanism. The Republican Party has never had a north-south split over the race issue. It does not tolerate racists. The Democrat Party is badly divided. By more Negroes coming over into the Republican Party this will help ensure that this party will not become divided over the racial issue.

This change-over really strengthens the two-party system. It sees that both parties are balanced between liberals, conservatives, and racial minorities. This type of composition will prevent extremism from developing in either party. It aids in making a reality of the two-party system.

We have long advocated it because of the checks and balances it provides. It gives a choice without violence. However, a third party would further divide the American people at a time when we need unity.

In a two-party system, the winning party will be given sufficient support and backing of the American people to provide able and decisive leadership.

"After a reasonable period during which time the merchants made progress reports, it was decided to move into the direct action phase which included picketing, selective buying, and community rallies. Negotiations were continued during this time, and even after a temporary restraining order was issued on Friday, Sept. 13, negotiations between the merchants and representatives of the NAACP continued.

"Out of these negotiations came agreements raising Black employment in that area from 49 per cent to approximately 85 per cent, exclusive of working owners and their kin. The six month projection calls for an additional 5 per cent to 10 per cent increase. These figures represent a nearly 100 per cent increase in Black employment in the area. Equal success was achieved for the other three demands.

"Because of the above commitments, the picketing and economic withdrawal from merchants in the Hollywood-Chelsea shopping complex is now lifted. It should be noted that Hogue and Knott agreed to dismiss its lawsuit with prejudice and to pay all court costs. However, the NAACP specifically reserves the right to reinstate the boycott or any other proceeding which may be appropriate should there not be full compliance with the agreement, as well as continued progress in Black employment in the area."

directly related to the way the school textbooks have blotted out the black man's contribution to America. Thus, he Negro is an invisible man simply because people refuse to see him. No where is he more invisible than in the American education system.

"The American Negro has captured the attention of art and music has entrusted itself to his joyful care. From the musical pen of the late W. C. Handy come the only original art score that has been produced in American music, but history says nothing about this.

A Negro was with Columbus, Pedro Alonso, with piloted his flagship and stood with him when he planted the cross at Salvador. Negroes were with the Spanish explorers who discovered the Pacific Ocean, Mexico, South America, and the American West, but history books say nothing about them. When Baron Von Seubens's army, 200 black men were guarding his tent and leaving their bloody footprints upon the snows of Valley Forge, but history says nothing of this.

"I am happy to say that the spirit of American fair play is beginning to prevail and American educators are beginning to tell the story of the black man as its really is. Such an approach will give the Negro pride in himself and will establish the positive fact that the United States was not after all an exclusive Anglo-Saxon country in which everyone was white and that civilization and progress were almost wholly dependent upon and to the credit of white people. The white man has done a whole lot to belittle the black man and the black man himself has done much to help him do it."

With Sales At High School:

3 Connected With Marijuana Ring Jailed

WAYCROSS, Ga.—(UPI)—Three men have been arrested in connection with an alleged marijuana ring involving "wide-spread" sales at a local high school and illegal marijuana harvest, police said Tuesday.

"The school has been pretty well saturated as far as the male student population," said Capt. A. G. Bond, assistant police chief. Bond referred to the predominantly Negro Center High School.

He said marijuana cigarette called "reefers" were sold for $1 apiece, while a small matchbox of marijuana went for $5. Bond said sales were bringing in $1,000 a week at the school.

Arrested Monday night were David S. Moody, 28, and Jimmy Lee Odum Jr., 19, both charged with selling and possession of marijuana, and Ernest Tyson, 27, charged with conspiracy. Bond for Moody was set at $9,000, Odum at $5,000 and Tyson at $2,000. None of the three were students.

"It looks like just a few of these guys got together and just set up a ring of students and people around town," said Bond. "They were apparently growing it some-

MY WEEKLY SERMON

By REV. BLAIR T. HUNT, PASTOR, MISSISSIPPI AVD CHRISTIAN CHURCH, MEMPHIS, TENN.

"GOD'S FORGET ME NOT OR KEEPING MEMORY GREEN"

TEXT: "THIS DO IN REMEMBRANCE OF ME." I COR. 11:24

Sunday is World - Wide Communion day. Millions throuth the world will gather around the Lord's table "God's Forget-Me-Not," to keep their memories green.

Jesus said, as he ate his last supper with his disciples in the Upper Room, "This Do In Remembrance of Me."

All of us like to be remembered. But, oh, how we forget! We forget our promises, our vows . . . even our marriage vows. We forget God in whose hands our breath is. We forget the Christ of the Manger and the Cross. We just forget.

But God never forgets. He never forgets a single child of his. Your friends may have forgotten you, but God . . . never!

With us forgetfulness is one of our many faults. God knows how prone we are to forget . . . yes to forget him. That is the reason God gave us the beautiful ordinance, holy communion. God wants us to remember, therefore our text: "This do in remembrance of me," therefore this expression, "God's Forget-Me-Not," . . . therefore our subject: "Keeping Memory Green."

"Lord, keep my memory green" is a prayer that should be on your lips and mine as we behold the holy memory table.

We need to keep our memory green by gathering around the Lord's table because it serves to judge. Something ugly we have thought, said, or done is forced back into our memories, some unforgiven deed torments and judges us and we need the opportunity to seek forgiveness and begin life anew. There is a sweet forgiveness awaiting all who penitently ask for it, as we gather around the Lord's table, "God's Forget-Me-Not."

Jesus said, "This do in remembrance of me." Then it is at the Lord's table we come face to face with our Lord and Master. And when we see him we want to be like him.

Our souls cry out, "Here, O, my

U. S. noncombat deaths reach major proportions.

Callaway Foundation Gives $10 Million For Education

All Negro Colleges In State Are Beneficiaries

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)—The Callaway Foundation, Inc. of LaGrange, Georgia is making the largest private contribution ever given to education in Georgia by establishing a $10 million trust fund that provides senior Georgia colleges and universities with a means of retaining and adding superior faculty members. The action was announced in Atlanta by Fuller E. Callaway, Jr. of LaGrange.

Initial plans call for the creation of 40 Fuller E. Callaway Professorial Chairs at 33 senior colleges and universities in Georgia.

Provisions are made for expansion of the program through the establishment of additional chairs at the 33 schools, or chairs at other schools.

Those attending the announcement meeting in Atlanta Saturday included heads of the 33 schools, representatives of the news media, officials of The Citizens and Southern National Bank and the trustees of the Callaway Foundation, Inc.

NEGRO COLLEGES INCLUDED

Presidents of predominantly Negro colleges present included President Manley of Spelman College and President Hugh Gloster of Morehouse College. Both addressed the meeting. President John Middleton of Morris Brown College, acting President Thomas Jarrett of Atlanta University, President E. C. Calhoun of Paine College, Augusta, President Thomas Jenkins of Albany State College, and R. W. Campbell, Jr., of Savannah State College.

Mills B. Lane, Jr., president of the Citizens and Southern National Bank, presided at the meeting and introduced Mr. Callaway. Other speakers were Dr. George L. Simpson, Jr., chancellor, Board of Regents, University of Georgia, and President Sanford Atwood of Emory University.

All the speakers highly praised the Callaway Foundation for their liberal grant to higher education. Upon request of President Noah Langdale, Jr., of Georgia State College of Atlanta, Mr. Callaway

Currently 66 communities in Georgia — and all military installations — have fluoridated water supplies. The State Health Department and the Georgia Dental Association have repeatedly urged action by four of the state's largest cities, Atlanta, Columbus, Macon and Savannah toward fluoridation, which state and national studies have shown prevent the incidence of tooth decay in children by as much as 65 per cent.

In reporting to the Board on the Health Department's vital records responsibilities — legal documentation of births, deaths, marriages and divorces and legal name changes — program director Glenn

Fox charted the tremendous growth in citizen requests for copies of legal documents. "In the first 20 years of legal record keeping (1919-1939) the Health Department supplied only 10,000 copies," Fox said. "In the year just past we furnished 282,762 copies — for just one year."

Fox explained that the growing public need for legal documents — which brings some 2000 letters into his office daily — had resulted from increased dependence on official documents to validate requests or claims for such diverse programs as social security, Medicare and Medicaid, school registration, Little League baseball and industry retirement plans.

The health official quickly added that the waiting list problem had not been completely resolved. "But we are improving," he said.

Pastry Bazaar At New Harvest Bapt.

New Harvest Baptist, 2532 Warren St., will present a pre-Harvest — Reduction of the state's current 38 health districts to a possible 13 or 14;

— Consideration of state regulation of air pollution caused by automobiles, pending final federal action on the problem.

Day "pastry bazaar" Sept. 26 at 3:30 p. m.

Special guests appearing on the musical program will be the Austin Singers of Greater Mt. Pleasant Church, followed the pastry hour when coffee and all types of pastry will be served.

Various churches have been invited to attend.

Annual Harvest will be observed the second Sunday in October.

Two Year Study Planned For University In Bahamas Islands

FREEPORT, THE BAHAMAS (LC) — The Steering Committee of the proposed International University here has announced a "make haste slowly" policy in determining what can be done for higher education in the Bahamas in cooperation with the government, the Port Authority and others.

In an all-day meeting in Freeport, following further conversations with the government in Nassau, the five-member committee of the Board of College Education of the American Lutheran Church decided on a new tack that will defer a decision on the university project.

Dr. H. B. Kiddah, Jr., of Miami, N. D., chairman of the Steering Committee, said an administrator will be appointed for a two-year period, effective Jan. 1, 1969 to develop consultative educational services that may be acceptable to the government while at the same time continuing the feasibility study of the university project.

The administrator would develop proposals jointly with appropriate agencies and institutions that will assist potential college students, financially and academically. Other assistance might be provided to education of teachers and adult education.

The Group companies of the Port Authority, Dr. Kiddah announced, have agreed to a maximum budgetary grant of $100,000 per year for a two-year period ending Dec. 31, 1970. This will be made to the ALC's Board of College Education and earmarked for the exclusive use of the Steering Committee's educational effort.

In the event, this leads to an agreement between political, educational and financial interests for the establishment of an institution of higher education, the Steering Committee would name a Board of Regents as the policy making body.

Dr. Kiddah and Norman O. Finzel, a committee member and executive director of the College Board, told the Development Council on Sept. 13 of the "holding operation" plans. They expressed the hope that they may ultimately lead to realization of the university dream.

Noting that the people of Grand Bahama have pledged $26,824 in a fund raising campaign for the university, Dr. Kiddah expressed the hope that they will continue their support. He made clear however, they were free to take several courses of action; cancel their pledges, defer payments, or request the Steering Committee will return of any contributions already made. The funds are held in trust and all will be returned in the event the university does not materialize.

Dr. Kiddah said he will hold his next meeting in Freeport, Nov. 14-15.

The Board of College Education, sponsor of 12 independent colleges in the U.S.A. last October, appointed the Steering Committee to study the feasibility of establishing a degree-granting university, the first in the Bahamas. The Grand Bahama Port Authority approved a license to establish a university at Freeport, pledged $100,000 to start off a fund raising campaign for $10,000,000 and a grant of a 400-acre beachfront site.

The Bahamas government amended its education act this year to include higher education, and the leaders of the University project then renewed conversations in June with Premier Lynden Pindling and the minister of education to determine what could be done to assist higher education in the Bahamas.

McGee Bundy, President of the Ford Foundation, delivered the lectures in 1968.

O. J. Simpson Leads USC Over Minnesota, 44-6

MINNEAPOLIS, UPI—All American O. J. Simpson drove for four hours on Saturday to lead defending national champion Southern California to a 29-20 victory over Minnesota in an intercollegiate football game.

Southern Cal trailed 20-16 with three and one-half minutes to go, but Simpson then broke through for two quick touchdowns—the last with half a minute to go to give the Trojans their season opening victory.

The game which drew a crowd of 80,300 in dark, rainy weather, was in doubt until the final few minutes.

USC and Minnesota, which shared the Big Ten championship last season, fought to a 13-13 tie in the first half and third quarter was scoreless. Then midway through the fourth quarter, Southern Cal took a 16-13 lead on a 29-yard field goal by Ron Ayala.

Minnesota brought Gopher fans screaming to their feet on the next kickoff.

George Kemp took the kick off on the Minnesota 17, lateraled across the field to John Wintermute and Wintermute, with beautiful blocking, ran 83 yards down the sideline for a touchdown.

Bob Stein converted an Minnesota lead 30-14.

After an exchange of punts, USC charged again, Simpson, who piled up 236 yards rushing in the game ripped through the line and around end five straight times from the Minnesota 46 to the seven. Then, with 3:31 to go, he swept right end to score.

In the fading minutes the Trojans plowed 37 yards in six plays for another touchdown, with Simpson going the final seven yards.

In addition to his 26 rushing Simpson added 59 yards on six passing receptions, and 72 yards on three kickoff returns to finish the day with 597 total yards.

Old North Church Renewed, Again a Tourist Mecca

BY SANDO BOLOGNA

BOSTON — The historic Old North Church in Boston's crowded North End is as good as structurally new as it was in the mid-1700s.

An extensive restoration, started four and one-half years ago, has provided visitors with a shining edifice of the nation's symbol of liberty and freedom.

The work was planned and supervised by the Rev. Howard P. Kellett, rector, who felt that the church was in such a condition "that there was no reason why it should be standing from an engineering point of view."

At a cost of $350,000, the brick church has been restored from the foundation and its basement where 1,100 bodies were buried in tombs, to the steeple where the lanterns were hung for Paul Revere to spread the alarm of the arriving British through the nearby villages and towns.

"IT HAS cost a great deal of money," says the Rev. Kellett, "but the work has been done through voluntary offerings." There has been no financial assistance from federal, state or local sources, he adds.

Two years ago the balconies were in such weak condition that they couldn't be used by worshippers or visitors. "Now they're completely safe and sturdy—just as good as when they were first built," Kellett asserts.

Christ Church (it's official name), begun in 1723, is the oldest existing church building in Boston. It was the second Church of England parish in Boston, planned for the sea captains and merchants whose homes overlooked Boston's wharves.

THE FIRST time the brass chandeliers were lighted was for the Christmas Day service in 1724. The chandeliers are still being used for late-afternoon and evening services.

The church's interior was restored in 1912; the famous steeple in which bells were used the first time in 1745, was destroyed by a hurricane in 1954. However, it was rebuilt in the original style.

Interest in the edifice has increased to the point that an estimated 500,000 or more pilgrims came there during 1967. The church is an important stop in the Boston Freedom Trail which many pilgrims cover in a planned walking tour.

For the first time, the tombs under the church are dried because of the restoration work. All the wood beams in the edifice have been treated and strengthened with steel arms.

Visitors are now permitted to see the sealed arch tombs where a total of 1,100 bodies were buried. On the walls of the church are memorial tables of some of the most famous buried in the tombs.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Why does some hair break off when combing?

Your hair is precious and delicate...and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally curly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does?

Your professional beautician knows that curly hair tangles and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing. Otherwise, unnecessary irritation to the scalp and damage to the shaft and ends of the hair occurs. To achieve this needed softening and a temporary relaxing effect that prevents breakage on all human hair (including wigs), most beauticians rely on Clairol® Hair-So-Now® spray-on creme rinse. For combing ease and for beautifying your hair in many other ways, trained beauticians stock a complete family of fine Clairol products for your specific needs.

Church Union Not So Far In Future Says Dr. Paul A. Crow

ARLINGTON, VA. -- The Consultation on Church Union has a hard but not necessarily long ecumenical road to travel, according to its newly-appointed general secretary.

The Rev. Dr. Paul A. Crow, Jr., in a report to the Consultation's executive committee meeting in the Hillside Inn here, Sept. 18-19, said that church union is not so far off dependent on a time factor as it is on "changing the outlook of our constituencies toward the church."

He indicated that such a change of attitude will require the reversal of the history which has produced the differences now existing among the various Protestant denominations in the United States.

"It will also require that church members begin to think of the church in new forms and new relationships," he said.

Asked about a possible time table for union among the nine denominations which are presently in the process of drafting a merger plan, Dr. Crow noted that there is a sense of urgency, but that "the spelling out of a time table is not necessary."

He said, "First of all we must learn to deal with each other and with the dynamics of the churches involved as well as with the realities that they face in their own situations."

The general secretary indicated three matters of importance for the further consideration of the Consultation's executive body.

First, priority must be given to the actual drafting of an acceptable union plan. Work on a plan has already begun by a commission appointed by the executive committee last June.

Second, there must be an awareness in the churches of emerging opposition to the Consultation and its efforts. This opposition is both

First American Heroine British Statues Pay Pocahontas Homage

By Steve Libby
Written especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

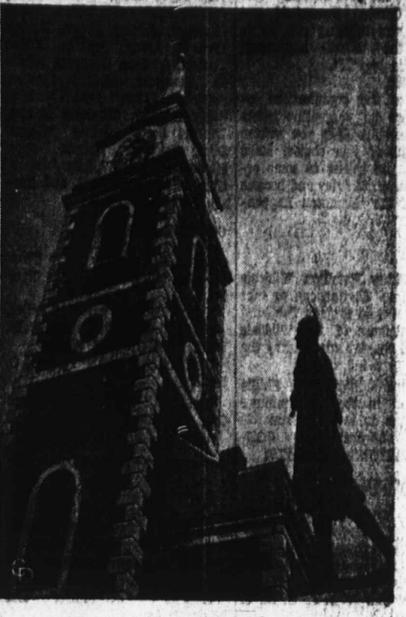

IT'S DOUBTFUL that any toddler, picking up his first history book in school, has not thrilled to the exciting story of the young Indian maiden Pocahontas. Few events in the early history of our country have had such an impact on students. The young lady did more singlehandedly to publicize Virginia than many great men have done.

Pocahontas did it without the benefit of a press agent, in an age when people responded to situations according to the dictates of their minds.

Great Britain was the scene of her death, and the British have paid tribute to the Indian maiden in several ways.

Far from the hunting grounds of her own people, Pocahontas is still remembered. She is bronze, beautiful, charming and lifelike in a statue at the Thameside port of Gravesend, Kent, There, outside St. George's Church, she wears an Indian costume and a feather in her hair.

THIS IS Pocahontas as the British people remember her, nearly 400 years after bluff and bearded John Smith was captured and condemned to death

This memorial statue outside St. George's Church in Gravesend, Kent, pays homage to the heroic Indian girl who became the "white" of John Rolfe.

National Urban League Supports Decentralization-Public Schools

The National Urban League most emphatically supports the concept of school decentralization. The present school system has failed. Black students in ghetto schools fall three and four years behind white youngsters, and only a small fraction of black students go on to college. This is a situation which would not be tolerated if it applied to whites; it cannot be tolerated by blacks.

NOTICE ANYTHING?—Susan Schulte of Marshall, Mo., is standing behind two stalks of corn whose leaves shoot upright instead of arching outward from the stalk as most corn leaves usually do. Plant breeders at the Missouri Farmers Association research nursery in Columbia think the plant with upright leaves can absorb more sunlight, which will result in more corn per acre.

In the interests of the children of our city, we ask that communities be allowed to exercise more control over the education of their children. True decentralization has never been given a chance, and New York City now has the opportunity to demonstrate its creative possibilities for the entire nation.

We propose that:

1. The Ocean-Hill Brownsville school district be recognized for what it is -- a bold new experiment in education.
2. The school board and the union, in gesture of sincere concern for the children and in recognition of the failures of the past, agree to honor this demonstration project by suspending the normal policies and practices which apply to other school districts.
3. The parties agree that measures taken in this experimental program set no binding precedents for the rest of the system.
4. The immediate issues at dispute involving a single school district should be declared invalid as applied to other school districts at this time. This would keep these issues where they belong -- at the local level -- and they would no longer keep all the city's children from their right to an education. The schools should be reopened.
5. Teachers, as well as parents, should have expanded participation in the operation of the schools. This can be accomplished through a decentralized union, perhaps with locals for each school district, effectively allowing teachers to participate with parents and administrators in running the schools.
6. All parties should recognize that this dispute is really a human rights issue involving improved education for children who have been denied a decent education in the past. It is not merely a question of union security.
7. The city and the union should show their faith in the people of the community by allowing the Ocean-Hill Brownsville school district to operate an effective experimental program. A true experiment can only take place if traditional rules are waived to permit new approaches. The district's governing board contains outstandingly qualified men and women, democratically elected by the community.

Its teaching staff -- predominantly white -- is dedicated and committed to this bold new venture. After years of accusing black and Puerto Rican parents of apathy, their concern with the schools should be welcomed and their effective participation encouraged.

8. Conditions in the schools should be created which will protect parents and teachers from intimidation from outside influences -- black or white. Our children cannot learn in an atmosphere of fear and conflict.

The National Urban League, which has long experience in education and which created its own school system for dropouts and placed them in colleges across the country, stands ready to assist this experimental venture in whatever ways desired by the community.

Nixon-Agnew Team Gets Professional Campaign Help

A team of the leading professional campaign managers and political strategists in the country will make a 14,000-mile whirlwind tour of 15 cities across the nation next week to conduct briefing seminars for state Citizens for Nixon-Agnew committee staffs.

The group will hold meetings in two cities each day starting in Boston Monday, September 23rd, and ending the following Tuesday afternoon in Richmond, Virginia, Charles S. Rhyne, National Chairman of United Citizens for Nixon-Agnew, announced recently.

Rhyne said the elite corps, which labels its trip on "Airborne Campaign Management Seminars," will be led by Raymond V. Humphreys, campaign veteran and Director of the Division of Education and Training of the Republican National Committee.

In making the announcement, Rhyne explained that while only 15 seminars are scheduled, "they are carefully planned so they will cover each geographical area of the United States, and we expect representatives from Nixon-Agnew Citizens' Committees in all 50 states to attend."

In addition to Humphreys, who also conducted the education and training program of the Republican Congressional Committee, on the panel will be Robert Price, manager of the Lindsay for Mayor campaign; Thomas Houser, campaign manager for Senator Charles Percy; Carl B. Rubin, chairman of the Taft for Congress Committee, which returned Robert Taft, Jr., to the House of Representatives; and Roy Pfeutch.

Minister Specializes In Suburban Race Relations

NEW ORK -- A minister whose primary job will be to deal with white racism in the suburbs has joined the staff of the United Presbyterian Council on Church and Race.

The Rev. Wilbur K. Cox, who believes that "it is important to try to help suburban people see how they are part of the problem of racism, and what they can do about it," began work this week on the Council staff. He is an associate to the Rev. Dr. Gayraud S. Wilmore, Jr., chairman of the denomination's Division of Church and Race, which is the staff unit of the Council.

Mr. Cox was pastor of the Marquette Park Presbyterian Church, an all white congregation in South Side Chicago, from 1965 until he accepted his new post here. From 1960 to 1965 he was pastor of the Olivet Presbyterian Church and a member of the Inner City Council, a team ministry in the Potrero Hill district of San Francisco. He had served as an intern in a ghetto area of Detroit following his studies at McCormick Theological Seminary, from which he holds a Bachelor of Divinity degree.

"After spending seven years in primarily Negro congregations," Mr. Cox said, "it seemed to me the signs were saying white people had to get out of that kind of situation; that in order to really deal with white racism we have to know 'typical' white people and work with them."

"This job calls for me to deal with people who need a ministry, to try to help suburban whites to participate in the larger community around them."

One of his tasks, he adds, is "to try to help white churchmen, who want to be involved, find the right kind of involvement for this particular time.

The day is gone when whites can run into the ghettos, do some

Nearly 500 Tons Donated In LWR Clothing Appeal

NEW YORK -- (LC) -- Contributions to the annual Spring Clothing Appeal of Lutheran World Relief this year amounted to 999,843 pounds, a 388,085 pound decline from the 1,386,928 pounds received a year ago.

Bernard A. Confer, executive secretary to the overseas material aid agency, attributed the decrease in large part to special promotional stress on the need for clothing for children and blankets and bedding.

The emphasis on such need, it was reported, accounted for an estimated increase of eight per cent in those items and resulted in roughly 250,000 pounds, or nearly one-fourth of the total receipts.

More than half the total involved carlot shipments of clothing from state and large metropolitan areas to LWR clothing depots.

Wisconsin once again led all other states in carlot weight with 184,900 pounds, a 14,700 increase over last year. Greater New York City and Long Island was second with 103,260 pounds, and Illinois was third with 71,200 pounds.

The five key cities contributing to the Wisconsin total were Madison, Sheboygan, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, and Racine.

Other states with high carlot weights were Pennsylvania, 69,000; Iowa, 46,840; Ohio, 41,700; Michigan, 25,000; California, 24,331; North Dakota, 12,910; and the District of Columbia, 10,000.

Decision In NAACP Suit Bars Craft Union Bias

CINCINNATI -- A local electrician has won a case in the Federal District Court here which will make it possible for many unions about the country to exclude Negroes from membership.

In ruling that Anderson L. Dobbins must be admitted to Local 212, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the court held that a private individual has a right to legal action in the Federal courts against a union under the Civil Rights Act of 1866 which bars racial discrimination, private as well as public.

In a 90-page opinion, on Sept. 13, the Federal court ordered that, because of Mr. Dobbins' experience in the electrical field, he should be admitted into the union immediately; he must not be required to pass a journeyman's admission examination; and he must be placed on the union's referral list as of the time he last applied for work and membership which was in September, 1955.

The court also ordered the union's referral system suspended. This will be replaced by referral procedures which the court will devise within 30 days.

As it reached the Federal court, the Dobbins case combined an action brought against the union local by the NAACP under the 1866 Act and an action brought by the U. S. Department of Justice under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

In commenting on the decision, Robert Carter, general counsel for the NAACP, said:

"This means that the 1866 Act bars private as well as public discrimination in employment. In effect a private litigant no longer will have to rely in the Equal Employment Opportunity provision in the 1964 Civil Rights Act to file suit in Federal Court."

"The effect of the ruling," Mr. Carter continued, "is to bring the activities of all craft unions who refer workers to construction contractors within the category of public function of state control."

Mr. Dobbins, 36 years of age, is a graduate of a Cincinnati vocational high school and Hampton Institute, with a bachelor degree in electricity and trade education. He has been attempting to gain admission to Local 212 since 1949. Because he has been denied membership in the union, he has had to work in a variety of jobs with limited income.

Evidence at the trial established that Local 212 never had a Negro member to work with union contractors. It also was established that Mr. Dobbins has had more formal education in electricity than any of the union's officers.

Man, 30, Appears To Be Victim Of Lynching

A 30-year-old Prichard, Ala., Negro, E. C. Deloach, was found torture-hanged Saturday morning—several arrests are expected this week, Prichard police said.

L. R. L. Heathcote revealed Sunday that at least half a dozen persons are still being questioned and that after examination of suspects, warrants would possibly be served.

The bloody and gagged body of the victim was found hanging by his heels from an outside roof corner of an abandoned school in the Negro section of Prichard. The battered body was discovered by an ambulance driver who acted on a tip.

The lynch victim, who had apparently been tortured and killed elsewhere and then brought to the deserted school, was clad only in a pair of blue undershorts.

Prairie View Edges Jackson State, 10-8

JACKSON, Miss. UPI—Prairie View spoiled Jackson State College's season opener 10-8 Saturday night at Southwest Athletic Conference game here.

Prairie View's Richard Johnson kicked a 26 yard field goal and John Benton scored a touchdown on a four-yard final period run to defeat the Citers. Alford Clanton scored on a five yard pass from Richard Lampkin and Alfred Hall ran for the points for Jackson.

A Negro man and woman were arrested Saturday night in connection with the killing. They were held on charges of public drunkenness.

Officers said there apparently were no racial overtones to the murder.

Friend of the victim, who lives near the death spot, told officers: "Last night—Friday—he passed my house and waved. This morning I came out on my porch and saw him hanging with those rags stuffed in his mouth. I knew him for 15 years. He never harmed anyone."

Deloach worked as a forklift operator at the Alabama State Docks in adjacent Mobile.

women had been under constant psychiatric treatment since the attack and the psychiatrist was advising that she not be required to testify in court because of the possible damage to her health.

Calhoun said the second case was dismissed because it depended heavily on the success of the prosecution of the first case.

USIA Picks Atlantan For Foreign Service

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — The U. S. Information Agency has successfully launched a new experimental program with a young Atlanta college graduate, as one of the nine participants selected from around the United States.

He is Arthur H. Richardson Jr., 21, of 18 Leathers Circle, N. W., Atlanta, who went from S. H. Archer High School to Lenox School, Lenox, Massachusetts, and came back to Atlanta to earn a B. A. degree from Emory University.

Sworn in as a USIA Foreign Affairs Intern by the Agency's Director, Leonard H. Marks, Richardson will now combine on-the-job training at the Agency's headquarters in Washington, D. C., with graduate studies at the George Washington University leading to a Master of Arts degree and a career in the Agency's Foreign Service.

At that time, Richardson will be eligible to serve in any one of the more than 100 countries where USIA supports the foreign policy of the United States by explaining it to the people; by building overseas understanding of U. S. institutions and culture; and by advising the U. S. government on public opinion abroad and its implications for U. S. policy.

The Voice of America, USIA's

global radio network, is probably the best known of its communications media, but the Agency also uses television, motion pictures, graphic arts, publications and personal contracts. Richardson will be given training in all these fields during his work day.

The pioneer program is made possible by a grant from the Ford Foundation, with the aim of broadening the ethnic base of the Foreign Service Information Officer corps.

With Richardson and his fellow Foreign Affairs Interns showing the way, recruitment is about to begin for a second class to be drawn from the pick of new college graduates — hopefully including more Georgians.

Clergymen Can Help Alcoholics Says Chaplain

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — It has been said that the key to the ever growing problem of alcoholism lies in the clergy.

A paper presented by Chaplain George P. Dominick, chief clinical chaplain of Atlanta's Georgian Clinic notes the many-faceted potential of ministers. Because of their training, he said "Clergymen are well able to tolerate and understand the ever-present death wish and self-destructive behavior of the alcoholic."

He continues with the underlying tensions of the alcoholic pointing out that persons with a drinking problem "want to be loved and cared for."

Ministers, he said, can stimulate community action, tapping resources of his church and his parish.

Since 1964, about 1,312 ministers and theological students have participated in the Atlanta clergy training program with 26 theologians engaged in full-time internship training at any given time.

Chaplain Dominick stated that 42 percent of the emotional troubled people usually turn to their priest or clergy for help first, and that the clergy is one of the few people who can approach the troubled home without first being asked.

Atlanta's Georgian Clinic has an interdisciplinary staff consisting of a unique blending of medicine, psychology, and theology.
