Negro Group Is Urging Write-In Vote For Ingram

A group of Negroes in Memphis and Shelby County is urging former Mayor William B. Ingram to accept a citizens' draft and run as a write-in candidate for the U. S. House from the Ninth Congressional District.

Mr. Ingram filed for this post but, later, withdrew.

His Negro supporters claim he has accepted the citizens' draft.

The Ingram backers said Negro voters will find it hard to support any of the other candidates: incumbent Dan Kuykendall, a Republican; James Brown, a Democrat, who has lost some Negro support; Claude Cockrell Jr., and Charles G. Vick.

Ingram supporters explained that voters using the write-in ballot would not use the voting machine on election day but would request a write-in ballot and fill in their choice.

Alumni Planning Big Fashion Show

Alumni of LeMayne-Owen College will usher in their year of activity with an elaborate fashion show on the evening of Nov. 22.

The show will be staged on campus in the Little Theatre located in the Alma C. Hanson Student Center, with Mesdames LeMayne-Owen as chairman and Rita Jackson, co-chairman, Miss Eunice Carruthers will be in charge of models, and Dover Crawford and Mrs. Ann L. Weathers will serve as directors of a souvenir booklet.

President Elmer L. Henderson announced two other projects, a basketball game and a student play.

The basketball game will match an alumni team against the LeMayne-Owen varsity.

The alumni will select a special night to sponsor the LeMayne-Owen Student Players in one of their plays.

Inside Memphis

SUCKER TIME is here again! They're starting those "Good Cheer" chain things early this year, and the Cats are falling in line believing they'll get a lot of free whiskey for Xmas. The boys at the top of the "Good Cheer" lists will get it all and the poor suckers on the bottom will shell out free bottles and get nothing in return.

RIPPLE IS the latest thing in wines. Remember when it used to be Thunderbird?

A. C. WILLIAMS of WDIA has been dubbed the Mayor of Soul.

THE AFRO LADS not only are lugging around large combs in their pockets, but stiff brushes as well.

ROSCOE McWILLIAMS, the county school librarian, stepped out of the County Court race without fanfare.

POLICE ARE CRACKING down on female street walkers who stroll Beale and the old Red Light District late at night. About 60 were reported picked up over the weekend.

MERCHANTS OF Lamar-Airways Shopping Center established a $2,000 scholarship in memory of E. C. (Shug) Jones, special policeman at the center who died of a heart attack while chasing two shoplifters. The scholarship will go to a deserving and competent Melrose High School student who wishes to pursue a career in the field of law or law enforcement.

Baptist Coming For Statewide Meet, Oct. 21-25

Dr. A. McEwen Williams, president of the Tennessee Baptist Missionary and Educational Convention, has called a special meeting of the Convention in Memphis, Oct. 21-25.

Sessions will be held at Tree of Life Baptist Church, 407 E. McLeMore, pastored by the Rev. Isiah Rowser.

A pre-convention musical has been promised for Monday night, Oct. 21.

Members of the Convention also will visit LeMayne-Owen College. LeMayne and Owen were merged during the summer.

Housing Experts To Visit Memphis

The National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials will bring its 1968 Codes Workshop to Memphis this month — at a time when the city is putting more and more emphasis on the enforcement of housing codes.

J. W. Parker, director of the Housing Improvement Department and NAHRO vice president for codes, said more than 300 codes officials from throughout the nation will attend the four-day workshop, Oct. 13-16, at the Sheraton-Peabody.

Mayor Henry Loeb and Mr. Parker, in welcoming the housing officials to Memphis, will have the opportunity to lay before the group Memphis' current efforts to reduce the number of substandard dwellings and to increase the available standard units.

New Federal $$$ For Job Training

The Department of Labor and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare have announced approval of five Manpower Development and Training Act (MDTA) projects for Tennessee costing $701,107 in Federal funds.

The Center for Continuing Education in Chattanooga will train 20 auto mechanics for 36 weeks, total cost $13,786, Federal $51,173.

A project to train 40 combination welders for 26 weeks will be conducted by the Technical Center at Memphis. Total cost $65,753 Federal $62,906.

The Adult Training Center at Memphis will train 40 production machine operators for 36 weeks, total cost $87,082, Federal $83,536.

A project, to be conducted by the Vocational Technical School at Greenville, will train 40 TV service men for 36 weeks, total cost $92,856, Federal $89,962.

Another project will provide training at various facilities in the State for 200 persons for up to 104 weeks in occupations in which there is a local need for more skilled workers, total cost $426,800 Federal $413,800.

Indict Ark. Man In Teacher's Death

A grand jury has indicted Willie Penelton, 26, of Edmondson, Ark. on a first degree murder charge in the fatal beating of a Memphis school teacher.

Beaten to death was Woodrow Miller Jr. 28, a teacher at Wisconsin Avenue Elementary School. His body was found at the end of Mitchell Road near Fuller Park Aug. 7.

Penelton is in county jail without bond. He was arrested several days following the slaying, after Mr. Miller's stolen car was traced to Edmondson.

Candidate Irwin Is Given Cool Reception At St. Paul Baptist

Democratic House candidate James Irwin was given a cool reception Sunday at St. Paul Baptist Church, 1144 East McLeMore, the Memphis World learned from a well informed source.

The source said Mr. Irwin and two other persons arrived at the church after the morning sermon had been delivered by the Rev. Roy Loggins and at a time when gifts to the church were being received.

Rev. Mr. Loggins was filling the pulpit in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Samuel H. Herring, it was learned.

Just before the benediction was pronounced, Rev. Mr. Loggins informed the St. Paul congregation that "We have with a candidate who would like to speak a few minutes in behalf of Vice President Humphrey," according to the source of information.

He was referring to Mr. Irwin who is opposing incumbent Republican Dan Kuykendall for the Ninth District seat.

Before Mr. Irwin could start speaking, he was challenged by a voice from the congregation. The challenger, whose name was not learned, is said to be a member and usher of St. Paul.

The challenge is said to have gone something like this:

"Aren't you Jim Irwin?" the member asked.

The answer was "Yes."

"Didn't you say you would vote for Wallace?" the member asked.

Mr. Irwin denied saying such a thing. The member said he read it in the papers. Mr. Irwin said he could not control what the papers print.

The member went on to say he was tired of candidates coming around before an election and never showing up again.

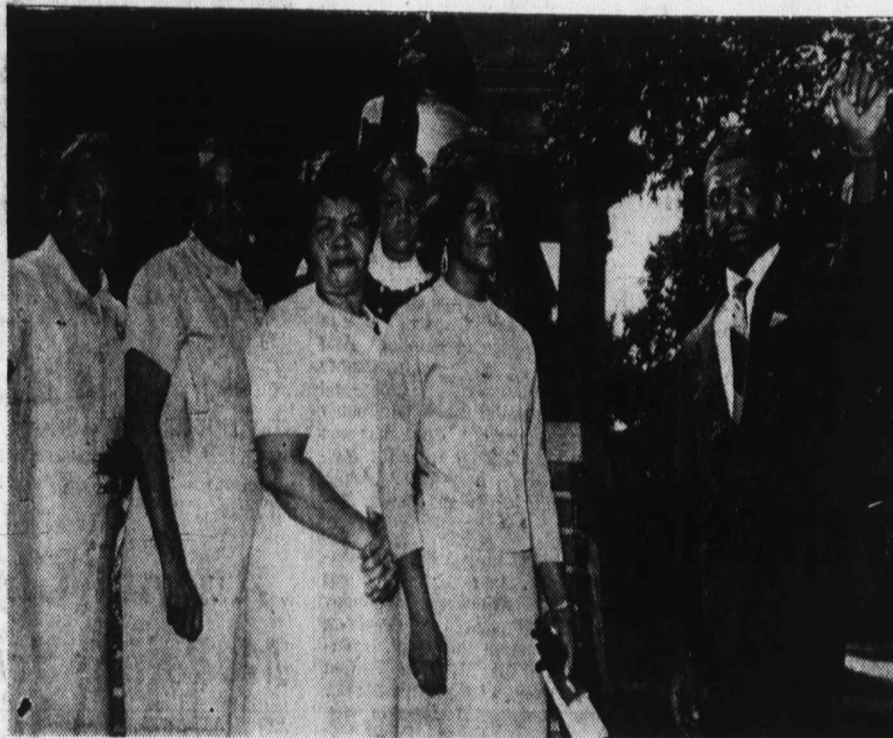

At the end of this exchange of words, Rev. Mr. Loggins pronounced the benediction.

Mr. Irwin and his two companions then left the church but lingered on the church grounds shaking hands.

Mr. Irwin has been quoted as saying that although he is supporting Humphrey, he may not go that route if the election is thrown into the House of Representatives.

He is quoted further as saying if elected he'll vote for the presidential candidate getting the most votes in Shelby County.

Wallace is sure to get a heavy vote in Shelby.

PARENTS VISIT CAMPUS — Parents Day at LeMayne-Owen College attracted nearly 150 enthusiastic visitors to the campus for a full day of activity. William Cross, dean of students, carried several of the mothers on tour and showed them the site selected for the new science building. Parents with Mr. Cross, left to right:

Mrs. Ruth Luckey Hardy, Mrs. Edna McCreight, Mrs. Emmitt Woods and Mrs. Gladys Gregory Overton. Child in the background is Michelle Overton, Mrs. Overton's daughter. Visiting parents were treated to lunch, a movie, reception and a dance.

Four Sons And Five Daughters Mourn Father

Funeral was held Monday afternoon of this week for 69-year-old Carl Everett Johnson, a retired farmer. His body was found Friday in Nonconah Creek, two weeks after he wandered from the home of one of his daughters.

The service was held from Centenary United Methodist Church, with the pastor, the Rev. James M. Lawson Jr., officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. J. O. Booth.

Burial was in St. James CME Church cemetery at Collierville. J. O. Patterson Funeral Home was in charge.

Palbearers were members of the steward board of Taylor's Chapel CME Church.

A countywide search was started for Mr. Johnson after he wandered from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edith Brown, of 192 Hon-

Memphis Rocked By 3 Slayings; Crime Wave Up!

The jumping crime wave in Memphis counted three more murders during the weekend. Fifth-nine have been recorded this year.

A double slaying took place early Sunday afternoon in an ally near Greenlaw and Fourth. Police said the twin killing followed an argument over a gambling debt.

Both victims were dead, sprayed on the sidewalk, when police arrived.

The dead men were identified as Hubert Holmes, 28, of 160 Chelsea, and Roy Solomon Hopkins, 31, of 184 Greenlaw.

Held on the two charges of murder is Isaac Franklin, 42, of 811 North Second, Apt. 7.

Witnesses said they heard three men arguing and that one drew a pistol and shot the other two.

In the other slaying, early Saturday, Eddie Lee Rooks, 40, of 1392 Latham was shot down in the 1100 block of Latham following a long quarrel that began Friday night.

Eddie Caston, 32, of 329 North Dunlap, was charged with the murder of Rooks.

LeMayne-Owen To Run Against Lane

The cross country quad of LeMayne-Owen College will run against the outfit from Lane College of Jackson, Tenn. this Saturday morning, Oct. 5, here on the CBS course.

Dressing for LeMayne-Owen will be senior Robert Carter, sophomores Harvey Eddings, Jesse Chittman, William Oliver, and Gerald Robinson, and freshmen Nicky Hayslett, Russell Floyd and Emerson Willis.

The LeMayne-Owen team will run again Tougalo College at Tougalo, Miss., Oct. 12, and will be at Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 19.

LeMayne-Owen won its opening cross country contest Saturday, Sept. 28, defeating Christian Brothers College, 26-29, on CBS's new 4.1 mile course.

LeMayne's Floyd, from Philadelphia, finished first with a 23:55 clocking. CBS's Brett Grandy was second in 24:23 and LeMayne's Eddings was third in 24:47.

Danforth Foundation Makes Short Term Grants

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — The Danforth Foundation announced today a new program of short-term leave grants to assist college and university administrators. The grants provide opportunities for administrators to enlarge their perspectives of current and future educational issues and to renew their inner resources for continued leadership in higher education.

In announcing the program, Merrimon Cunningham, President of the Foundation commented: "Administrative leadership is of critical importance for the future of higher education as the many incidents on college and university campuses in recent months attest."

Through this new effort the Foundation hopes to assist a number of individuals who while having past accomplishments hold promise for continued significant leadership in higher education. At the same time the Foundation also hopes to demonstrate the value of such leaves so that institutions will establish their own leave programs for administrators just as they now provide sabbaticals for faculty members.

The grants are intended primarily for presidents and principal academic officers of junior colleges, four-year college and universities. In selection preference is given to individuals who have served at least five years in their present position or in a similar position, but who are not yet within five years of retirement.

The following individuals have been named as recipients of the grants for 1968:

Isaac K. Beckes, President, Vincennes University; James E. Brooks, President, Central Washington State College; Stuart M. Brown, Jr., Dean, Cornell University; E. Lawrence Chalmers, Jr., Vice President for Academic Affairs, Florida State University;

Joseph P. Cosand, President, The Junior College District of St. Louis; County

By JEWEL GENTRY HULBERT

Last week-end was a different one for me. I rode up to Nashville with Mrs. Joanna Kelo and Mrs. Ann Weathers. They were house guests of Mrs. Lillian Dunn Thomas whose husband, a prominent Nashville Business man died six weeks ago. I was house guest of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Walker (she the former Mary Jordan who lived and taught in the Memphis City School system). Running by Mrs. Thomas to chat were two of Mrs. Kelo's long time friends, Mrs. Muriel Hawkins and Mrs. Love. I rang Mrs. Marion Roberts who also came by.

Mrs. Alfred Galloway (the a contractor and President of a Federal League) asked us by on Sunday evening for cocktails just before we attended a Jazz Concert that featured Arthur Prysock. It was a delightful. The Galloway home is shaping up to be an elaborate one. She and Mrs. Kelo are long time friends. Let's see, I will become friends as freemasons in college. She asked in Mrs. Mable Love, Mrs. Mildred Hale Freeman and her daughter, Miss Lurline Freeman.

Mrs. Carrie Dennis who was with her sister, Mrs. Lillian Thomas, Mrs. Mary Jordan and Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Archer (close friends to my husband many years ago at Memphis and A. U.). I also talked by phone to Dr. and Mrs. West (he the past president of Memphis). Dr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson (she the former Gloria Singleton, who asked us out) and Dr. and Mrs. Jack (she Rose Mary who recently lost her small son).

LOS DOCH AMIGAS PRESENT FASHIONS AND MARTHA JEAN STEINBERG

Martina Jean Steinberg will fly into Memphis this week-end to narrate a fashion review again this year for Las Amigas Women. This presentation has gotten to be a tradition and many Memphians look forward every year to attending. The show will be staged in the "Skyway" of the Peabody this year. Serving as chairman is Mrs. Denise Hawkins who has planned an unusual program.

Members of the club (who will attend Peabody) will assist. They are Mrs. Julia Atkins, President of the group. Mrs. J. C. Patterson, Sr. Mrs. Joan Golden, Mrs. Bernice Harris, Mrs. Deloris Gilder and Mrs. Ann Fletcher. Rush, most of the tickets have been sold.

WOMEN OF ST. ANDREW GIVE STATE TEA

Sunday was a big day at St. Andrew AME Church with the Women starting off with an Orolind Tea. and giving an elaborately planned State Tea in the evening in the reception rooms of their pretty South Parkway Church. Both activities however, just lead up to the big day, Oct. 13, when they will observe Women's Day.

The State Tea was unique with Mr. Dudley Martin playing the role of the President of the United States and delivering the State of the Union Address Seated with him were his Cabinet Members and Mrs. Corretta King portrayed by Mrs. Lucille Anderson of Collins Chapel CME Church.

Governors of the fifty states answered to the role call with their individual reports, of one-hundred dollars each from their state.

Mrs. Marie LeGrone introduced governors of the states and they were Sarah Walker, Myrtle Boucher, Thelma Green, Mary Sims, L. J. Bailey, Maggie Ball, Annie Collins, Inez Smith, Annie Dawkins, Eula Dumas, Pudy Elland, Matthe Taylor, Irene Massey, Alura Lee, Vera E. Thornton, Audrey Talfer, L. B. Smith, Ernestine Hurst, Ethel J. Perkins, John Taylor and Gwendolyn Isabel.

Emma Foster, Barbara Oser, Joseph Williams, Claudine Stancbury, Hattie Jackson, Judith Martin, Josephine Fields, Alice Helm, Frankie Sawyer, Dimple Levison, Hawthorne Bennett, Ivory, Celester Hervey, Verley Ball, Dorothy Merrill, Leona Owens, Little Woods, Lillie Rogers, Katie Walker, Ada Evans, Hattie Walls, Marilyn Halacre, Yvonne Riley, Tyres Campbell, Marie G. Harris, Ira Bell Bridges, Josephine Woods, Pearl Lifford and Josephine Young.

Mrs. Dorothy Merrill, ardent and dedicated church worker, is chairman of this big event.

MRS. RUBY GADISON, columnist for the Commercial Appeal and MRS. DOROTHY EVANS were among those named as Sears Roebuck's Career Women. and the 16 models made up the Fashion Parade given by Sears week before last and it all came to pass through the Sears Roebuck Career Fashion Council on a Monday evening in Holiday Hall of Holiday Inn, Rivermont.

Special guest was Miss Lilipta (Pish) Baldrige, once Social Secretary to the White House under Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy. The easy to now know socialite has also been Social Secretary in Rome and Italy. She now has her own Public Relations Office in Marchandise Mart, Chicago. She presented the Model's on Tuesday morning of last week on the "Good Morning from Memphis" program.

Medals were honored at a Cocktail Party in the Kingston Room of Rivermont with all of Sears Officials and Heads of Departments and their wives attending. Among the other guests were Dr. and Mrs. Jerome Barosso (she Jill) who is Fashion Coordinator of Sears. Russ Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. John Parson of the Arts Council and Mr. Walter Evans who accompanied his wife.

For the Cocktail party Mrs. Gadison wore a navy coat dress that featured white cuffs studded with rhinestones on long sleeves. Navy satin shoes and the new look silver threaded hose. She carried her think jacket. Mrs. Evans wore a pretty deep pink short cocktail frock lavishly beaded. She wore white satin shoes and a white think jacket.

MR. AND MRS. A. MACCO WALKER are back from a motor trip that took them to New York where Mr. Walker presided over the Trustee meeting of the Park University Board on which he is chairman. Mrs. Walker shopped during the day. They saw shows and friends during the evenings. The last two days of their trip was spent in Washington, D. C. with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Elland (Mr. Walker's childhood friend) and Dr. and Mrs. Jewel Conner (he's close to Mrs. Walker's family in Little Rock since she could remember. Incidentally the Ellands entertained for the Walkers at a brilliant party in spite of the Walker's push for time.

Oswald P. Brunson Named ITC Prexy

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Interdenominational Theological Center held at the Center Monday afternoon, Dr. Oswald Perry Brunson was unanimously elected President of the Interdenominational Theological Center in succession to Dr. Harry V. Richardson who had been president of the Center since its formation in 1958 and who had requested the privilege of retiring from the presidency on Aug. 31, 1968.

The announcement was made at the conclusion of the Board meeting jointly by Dr. Henry P. Dusen, formerly President of Union Theological Seminary in New York, the president of the board of trustees, and Bishop B. Julian Smith of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, vice chairman of the Board of Trustees and Chairman of a special Nominating Committee appointed by the Board last March to search for a successor to Dr. Richardson.

Dr. Brunson joined the faculty of the Interdenominational Theological Center in 1949 as Director of Field Education and Assistant Professor of Christian Education and became Vice-President in 1966.

Dr. Brunson was born in Sanford, Fla. July 19, 1927. He took his undergraduate college studies at Bethune Cookman College, Daytona Beach, Florida, graduating with the degree of bachelor of Science in 1950.

He received the bachelor of Divinity degree (summa cum laude), from Gammon Theological Seminary (one of the four schools which joined to form the Interdenominational Theological Center) in 1965.

His doctoral dissertation was a study of "The Origin and Significance of the International Theological Center." Dr. Brunson held pastorates in Methodist churches in Florida, Georgia, and Illinois before returning to the faculty of his alma mater in Atlanta.

He has lectured and taught in mission schools, clinic, pastoral institutes, leadership training schools and has served as Visiting Professor of Leadership and Group Dynamics in the Candler School of Theology at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia.

He is the author of a chapter on "Stewardship and Christian Growth" in a volume entitled Stewardship to be published by the Board of Lay Activities of the Methodist Church and has frequently been a contributor to a number of church journals.

The nominating committee consisted, in addition to Bishop B. J. Smith, chairman and Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, of Bishop E. L. Hickman, presiding bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Church Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president

U. S. Ambassador To U.N. Resigns; Wiggins Named

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Johnson Thursday announced the resignation of George Ball as U. S. ambassador to the United Nations and named Washington Post Editor J. Russell Wiggins to succeed him.

Johnson announced the resignation while Ball was holding a separate news conference.

The President told newsmen only that Ball's reason for quitting concerned domestic politics — apparently the presidential candidacy of Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

In announcing Wiggins' selection to replace Ball, who has been at the United Nations only since April, Johnson said the United States and the world had gained "an advocate of peace."

Wiggins, 65, has been editor and executive vice president of the Washington Post since 1960.

Johnson said that he believed few in public life commanded the respect, understanding, good judgment, and "deep compassion" of Wiggins.

Johnson said that Wiggins, born in Luverne, Minn., had been considered an "idiot" with "bringing truth to the American public."

At his news conference in the State Department, Ball said: "I have taken this step so that I may devote my time and energy between now and Nov. 5 to help assure the election of Hubert Humphrey and the defeat of Richard Nixon."

"To avoid any misunderstanding of my motives and purposes," he said, "I wish to state flatly that after the November election I shall return promptly to private life. I have asked the vice president not to consider me for any post in his administration."

Ball's statement showed his clear opposition to Nixon in the election.

"My decision has not been taken lightly," he said. "It stems from a solemn assessment of my obligation to my country, my family, and my own conviction."

He said it reflects his "firm belief that during the years immediately ahead our nation will face unparalleled dangers and opportunities in the large world arena."

"To surmount those dangers and utilize those opportunities," he added, "will require leadership with the most exacting qualities of mind and spirit."

Dr. Dwight A. Burgess Named At Daniel Payne College

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (SNS) — Dr. Dwight A. Burgess has been elected Dean of Instruction and Professor of Political Science at Daniel Payne College. The announcement came this week from Dr. J. King Chandler III, president of the college. Dr. Chandler said that Prof. Burgess comes to Daniel Payne College from a long term of service in the Jefferson County Public School system where he was an active member of numerous professional organizations and a versatile teacher of Social Sciences.

The announcement added that Dean Burgess completed his undergraduate and graduate preparation at Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Alabama. Subsequently, he served as the Director of a Summer Workshop for Disadvantaged Secondary School Youth. Professionally, he is active in National Council of Social Studies, and Alabama Council for College Studies Teachers. While in college he was elected to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" in 1952.

In fraternal and religious affairs, he has been an active participant along with receiving citations and recognitions for notable services. Dean Burgess is an active member of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. Additionally, he is a communicant a member of the Board of Trustees of the Senior Choir of St. John AME Church. He is an active member of the Memphis Southern Jurisdiction, Prince Hall Affiliates. He is married to Mrs. Leatrice Caldwell Burgess of Pratt City and they have two children; namely, Daphne and Dahlia.

The Callaway Foundation Gives Big Boost To Education

The Callaway Foundation, Inc., established by the Fuller E. Callaway Family of LaGrange, Ga., deserves the highest commendation for its action in providing a $10 million trust fund for senior Georgia colleges and universities, including all Negro colleges in the state.

The generous gesture will add materially in supplying our institutions of higher education with means of retaining and attracting superior faculty members and students.

All Negro colleges commend their action because they realize superior education is the key to solving most of the problems confronting us in this area.

In addition, the contribution will enable us to retain in this area the services of more of our most able graduates.

Initial plans call for the creation of 40 Fuller E. Callaway Professorial Chairs at 33 senior colleges and universities in Georgia.

Provisions have been made for expansion of the program through the establishment of additional chairs at the 33 schools, or chairs at other schools.

This is the largest private contribution ever given to education in Georgia.

The Callaways are Georgia people; they brought to west Georgia an industry, which not only found competitive bargaining in cotton, but a consumer of vast stretches of labor markets where honest people could make a livelihood. In addition, it offered educational values where generations are trained in the skills and machinery used in the cotton industry.

Along the Callaway Foundation has been the media of opportunity. It has invested vast sums in the areas of health, education and public service.

So, Georgia comes into a better day; a more prolific fount from which her educational vitamins flow.

Shakings on the Callaways who have come to shed opportunity and hope upon their native land from which their wealth has come.

May other foundations and individual sources follow in the main of the Fuller E. Callaways.

Painting To A Real Danger

(From The Atlanta Daily World)

During the past, in all the firmness of a statesman, Gov. George Romney did not hold his peace on Presidential candidate George C. Wallace as "a racist and hate peddler" in one of the most blistering attacks on this campaign, commends himself to the general American citizenry regardless of race or political affiliation. The Michigan chief executive also took a crack at Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia, saying he was in the same category with Wallace. He added that he would not greet Maddox when the Georgia governor visits Michigan to make a campaign appearance in behalf of Wallace. Of Wallace, Gov. Romney said, "The worst thing that could happen to this country would be for Mr. Wallace to be elected."

It is emphasized that Gov. Romney further said: in reply to a question as to whether he would meet with Wallace when the former governor of Alabama comes to campaign this Tuesday, "Absolutely not. His policy is racist. He builds hate. He stands for things that will destroy this country."

The latest poll shows Wallace gaining in strength, but there is a remote possibility of him winning. The real danger is his stirring of racial hatred and carrying some southern states and throwing the presidential election into the House of Representatives.

Under the present Constitutional system, the President is elected by a ballot of the electoral college which is made up of electors equal to the number of each state's representation in the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives, plus three electors from the District of Columbia, a total of 538.

The Presidential candidate must receive at least a majority of the 538 ballots cast, or 270, or the House is to pick the President and the Senate to pick the Vice President.

We accept the two-party system as essential to the democratic process of selecting officials. It provides a means for the voter to express a choice and provides for checks and balances which prevent the development of a dictatorship. But we see no excuse for any citizen encouraging unnecessary division among Americans by a third party.

Those who indulge in this unnecessary division, especially at this crucial time, weakens our country at home and abroad.

The Negro voters in the South can defeat the scheme of Gov. Wallace by simply making a survey to determine which of the two major candidates — former Vice President Richard Nixon or Vice President Hubert Humphrey — is the stronger candidate and support that candidate.

If the Wallace candidacy fails to carry any appreciable number of states he will be through as a national politician. Think on this issue.

Miss Mary A. Bragg Named Director Of Records At ASC

ALBANY, Ga. (SNC)—

Miss Mary A. Bragg has been promoted to the position of assistant director of records at Albany State College.

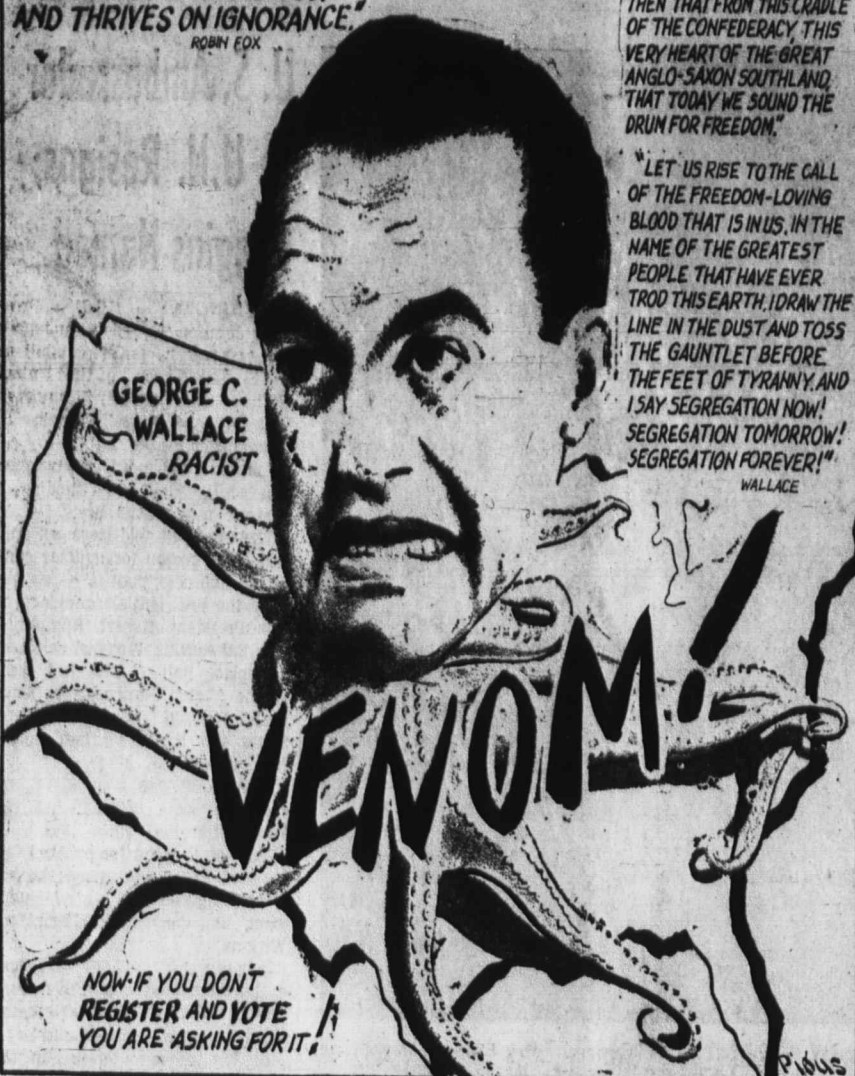

Her elevation into this post was disclosed here by the college's president, Dr. Thomas Miller Jenkins, recently. A native of Modesto, Calif., Miss Bragg will move into the post vacated by Ben C. Hamilton, who has been granted a one-year sabbatical leave to study at the University of Georgia. Miss Bragg, who has been on the Albany State staff since 1961, was formerly administrative assistant to the dean of instruction. A graduate of Allen University she worked as secretary to the dean from 1961 to 1962. After serving as secretary to the registrar at South Carolina State College for two years, she returned to the ASC staff in 1965.

Miss Bragg, a member of Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society and Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, did graduate study at Teachers College, Columbia University for a year.

The Confessions Of Aueyqnday

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNC)—

By CHARLES E. PRICE

A student from the University of Georgia who is doing his dissertation for the doctorate degree in political science, called me several weeks ago for an interview. The student is writing his dissertation on factionalism in political parties and has chosen the DeKalb Republican party for study.

I consented to an interview. The student asked some probing questions of me. He asked me, "Why are you a Republican?" An answer to this question required some soul searching on my part. I have not always been a Republican. I suppose I first flirted with membership in the party while a graduate student in political science at John Hopkins. It was not a serious flirtation for at that time I was active as a member of the party in Tyler, Texas, where I served as Academic dean of a little college and editor of a weekly newspaper.

Being a member of the Democratic party had its compensations. The Democratic party in Texas was organized entity. One could get into the party and work his way up from the present to the state organization. One could get the feel of the political process. The feeling of winning some and losing some. It demanded getting involved, taking positions and not waiting on safety of the sideline, second guessing the activists.

When I moved to Georgia later as Field Secretary for the NAACP, I discovered upon arrival what some astute Negro politicians are just now discovering, that the Democratic party is not a party in Georgia. It then became necessary for me to find a political party. I found the Republican party to be an organization with which I could cast my lot.

At the time the Republican party had Negroes in its leadership positions. Through the political process this had changed. But the change was made under rules of the party, and there appears to present always the opportunity for orderly change as long as the organization remains intact.

The disored which plagues the Democratic party because of the lack of organization would make me very uncomfortable.

Working within the framework of an organization is much more gratifying for me than each man going his merry way, seeking only personal gains. It is not necessary to participate in the decision making process.

Working within DeKalb Republican party has been a satisfying experience. Not that my views are controlling in the party, but that the party gives an opportunity for views to be aired.

It is easy for Democrats to just announce as Democrats and run for public office as Democrats, but it takes some intelligence to deal with political issues months after month on committees.

The thing of course which has caused many Negroes to shun the Republican party has not been any ideological hang up but a party out of power has no patronage to hand out.

The 76th House seat in DeKalb is a gift of the Republican party to the Negro of DeKalb. While the Democrats were in control of the country, these friends of the Negroes refused to draw districts line which would enable a Negro to be elected to the Grand Assembly. When the Republican gained seats in the General Assembly, all Republicans voted to draw the 76th District as is, over the protest of some leading Democrats in the country.

This achievement the 76th House seat DeKalb County, is the direct result of those of us who have continued to have faith in the democratic process and have worked to bring about a fuller realization of the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to future generations.

Woman In Hypnotic Trance

Testimony Points To 2 Condemned Men

By KENNETH BOMAR

PORT ST. JOE, Fla.—(UPI)—A writhing young Negro woman in a hypnotic trance alternately screamed and murmured Thursday as she recalled the night five years ago when two service station attendants were murdered.

Her testimony placed two condemned men at the scene of the slayings.

"No, Jesus, no," screamed Willie Mae Lee. Then softer, in answer to the hypnotist's prodding, "It's me, Pitts, Wilbert and Mr. Burkett and Mr. Floyd..."

The rare use of hypnosis in a Florida courtroom came in a hearing for a new trial for Wilbert Lee and Freddie L. Pitts, who are awaiting execution for the slaying of Grover Floyd Jr. and Jesse Burkett on Aug. 1, 1963.

Hypnotist Joe McCawley of Orlando, who induced the trance at the request of Circuit Judge Charles Holley, questioned the 24-year-old Mrs. Lee as she whispered into a microphone close at her lips.

"Don't do it... don't do it... Lord o-mercy, don't do it." Tears ran into her mouth.

"Shut up your damn mouth, Freddie told me."

"Down by the waterfall, they're getting out. Freddie telling Wilbert, 'hand me my gun'... don't carry those men down there. Let 'em go. Let 'em go."

Before being placed under hypnosis the thin Miss Lee, obviously nervous, told the court she gave conflicting accounts to investigators shortly after the murders "because I was tired and had to get some sleep."

"I first told them I was with Lambson Smith, but that was a lie," she said. Later she changed her story to say she was with Pitts and Lee in the night of the murders.

Miss Lee's statements were instrumental in convicting Lee and Pitts. They are seeking a new trial on the grounds that they ignored confessions after being beaten.

Lawyers for the two also hope to prove that Curtis Lee Adams Jr. is the real killer. Adams, who is serving a life sentence in a Port Lauderdale murder, confessed to the Port St. Joe slaying during a polygraph examination in December, 1966, but testified this week the confession was made after he had been drugged and beaten.

An overflow crowd of spectators, mostly Negroes, jammed the courtroom here Thursday as McCawley placed Miss Lee in a trance with two trained psychiatrists standing by.

He told her to "look at the eagle on top of the flag and relax. I'm going to count slowly, your eyes will close and you'll relax deeply and profoundly."

At the end of a long count, the hypnotist told Miss Lee, wearing a dark blue dress and white cardigan sweater, to hold out her arm. One of the psychiatrist patted it with a pin. It was numb.

Most of the spectators sat on the edge of their seats as the woman began murmuring into a portable microphone.

Pitts and Lee sat nearby. Pitts, a tall, thin man with glasses and nicknamed "Slingshot," stared at the woman during the hour-long interrogation. Pitts, a slightly chunky man wearing a white dress shirt open at the collar, at one point buried his face in his hands.

Under the trance, Miss Lee did not say she saw Pitts and Lee fire the fatal bullets.

After telling of the two carrying Burkett and Floyd down by the waterfall, she said.

"I'm running down the side of the road. What you did, what you did. Talking to Freddie... take me home, I won't tell. I ain't gonna tell. I swear I won't. Oh, carry me home please..."

She said Freddie carried her then to a lovers lane.

Defense attorneys objected to putting the woman under hypnosis on the grounds that they would not have a chance to cross-examine her. They also objected because McCawley had hypnotized the woman twice before.

McCawley, a licensed instructor in hypnosis, is director of the Ethical Hypnosis Training Center of Florida in Orlando.

MY WEEKLY SERMON

By REV. BLAIR T. HUNT,

PASTOR, MISSISSIPPI RIVER CHRISTIAN CHURCH, MEMPHIS, TENN.

Text: "Man Goeth To His Long Home—Ecclesiastes 12:5"

Man's first home was in the Garden of Eden; his last home is Heaven. Indeed, "Man goeth to his Long Home." God himself built the first and the last, but man has built all the others. Man has made many many mistakes in this old-age task; but whether he built this shelter for love in a cave, a cabin or a cottage; whether it is built of logs or brick or chiseled stone, it is the best thing he has ever done, the best thing in spite of his failures, and the most important thing.

I think God never loved us more than when he planned the home. His mighty heart must have throbbed with sympathy and good will, and his love for the sons and daughters of men must have been a flame when he thought out the home relationship and when he conceived this place for rest, for shelter, for happiness and for love.

It is to be noted, too, that God has so fixed it that the home does not depend upon the size of the house or the expensiveness of the furnishings, or the exclusiveness of social functions. Many a poor man goes to his home in the evening with a gladder heart than many a rich man. If you can, get the beautiful rug, the radio, the costly vases instruments of music, the television expensive and ornate furniture; get them all if you can; but these are not the most important things.

Manhood has more to do with the home than money; Womanhood has more to do with the home than wardrobe. Let the house be furnished first of all with light, laughter love with patience, prudence and peace; with honor, health and happiness; with reason righteousness and religion. Then the house becomes a home. A home is where you hang your hat; a home is where you hang your heart.

Man has made many mistakes in this Holy business of home building; but in spite of his mistakes he has never done anything else so worthwhile.

Yes, man's first home in the Garden of Eden was made by God; Man's last home in heaven was made by God; Man's last Home, Man's Long Home, the Home of the soul.

Jesus in God's Heaven are many Homes, there are Mansions, Place of Good Abode. Said Jesus, "I am going to tidy up and prepare these mansions" for those who love and obey him Jesus is preparing those mansions.

Everyday we are sending up payments, Timber and furniture for that last long home.

The big question: Where will we live in the ceaseless eternity? Daily we are investing either in Hell or Heaven. Where will your last long home be?

"Remember now your creator... because man goes to his long home... for God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil."

Two fishermen found the body. They said part of the body was in the water and the other part on the bank. Sheriff's deputies believe Mr. Johnson slipped on a wet portion of a hill about 15 feet above the water, and slid into the creek.

Mr. Johnson was active at Taylor's Chapel at Forest Hill, where he taught Sunday School 30 years and headed a committee which obtained buses for the Neshobia School in Germantown in the early 1960s.

He was the father of four sons and five daughters, all well known and nearly all of them teachers in the Memphis and Shelby County school systems.

Maxwell House Announces

Freeze-Dried

Coffee

Now, an entirely new process called freeze-drying actually makes it possible for you to brew real percolated coffee...without a percolator!

Maxim is an entirely new form of coffee.

Maxim is crystals of real percolated coffee. Concentrated crystals with the power to turn every cup in your house into a percolator!

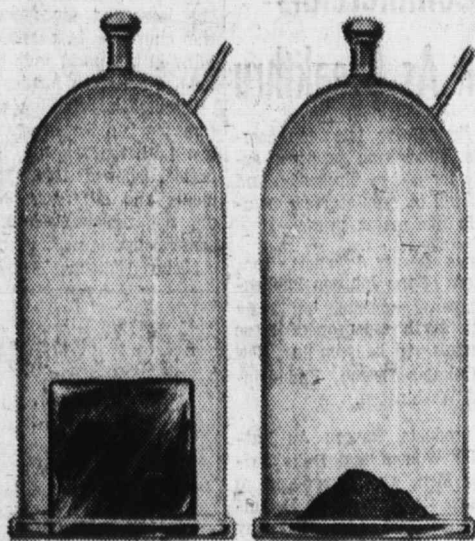

Maxim is an amazing breakthrough in coffee-making. It is entirely different from any instant coffee. It is entirely different from any ground coffee. Maxim is, in fact, concentrated crystals of real percolated coffee.

Maxim's secret—freeze-drying—is the result of years of coffee research at Maxwell House. A way has been discovered to transform actual pot-brewed coffee into concentrated crystals. Here's how it is done.

Freshly percolated coffee is poured into freezing containers.

Maxim begins with pots and pots of dark, strong, percolated coffee. This freshly brewed coffee is poured into special freezing containers. Here it is flash-frozen at the peak of perfection, when coffee flavor and aroma are at their break-fast-time best.

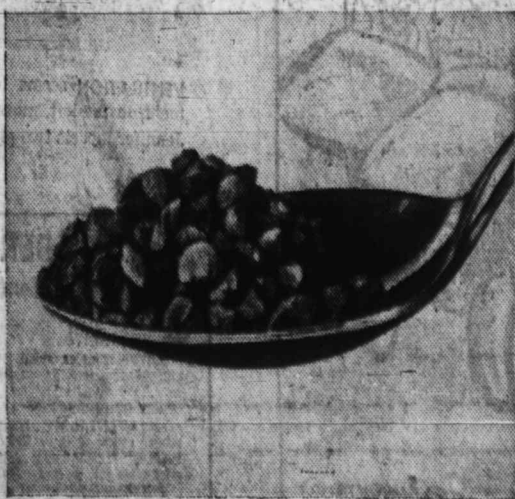

Vacuum chamber turns block of frozen coffee into crystals.

After the coffee has been frozen, the ice is drawn off—not by heat which destroys flavor—but by an amazing new vacuum process. It spirits the ice away without losing any of the honest flavor and body of freshly-percolated coffee.

Freeze-Dried crystals that need no refrigeration!

This "ice removal" leaves concentrated crystals of real percolated coffee. And that's exactly what Maxim freeze-dried coffee is—fresh-brewed coffee without the water. These waterless crystals stay fresh until you're ready to use them. They need absolutely no refrigeration and can be kept right in your kitchen cupboard.

Different from any other form of coffee.

You can tell at once that Maxim is unlike any other coffee you have ever used. Take a spoonful, and you see golden brown crystals that actually sparkle. Smell them, and you smell the rich, roasted aroma of freshly percolated coffee.

Turns your cup into a percolator!

The real miracle happens in your cup. The moment you add hot water Maxim's concentrated crystals explode into real percolated coffee. Maxim actually turns every cup in your house into a percolator! No pots. No grounds. No instant taste!

Important—you need less per cup!

Because Maxim's crystals are concentrated, you use less per cup than you do with any other form of coffee. For each cup, just use a level teaspoon (more or less to taste). You'll find it's surprisingly thrifty to use Maxim!

Discover Maxim—new from Maxwell House.

Get Maxim soon. Try it and see if you can detect a difference between Maxim and the good coffee you've been brewing in your percolator! You'll get the surprise of your coffee-loving life! Discover Maxim—the new Freeze-Dried coffee from Maxwell House.

One 4-oz. jar of Maxim makes as many cups as one pound of ground coffee.

Four Visiting Professors In Residence At Morehouse

Four distinguished visiting professors will be residence on the Morehouse College campus during the first semester of the 1968-69 academic year.

Dr. Shelton Beatty and Poet A. Spellman, who were at Morehouse during the second semester last year, will return to the Department of English.

Dr. Beatty retired in 1967 as professor of Men and lecturer in English literature at Pomona (California) College, a position he had held since 1949. A former Fulbright lecturer, he has traveled and studied extensively in Europe. Dr. Beatty will teach a course in "The English Novel" and conduct a seminar on "The Continental Novel."

Mr. Spellman, a member of the American Academy of Poets, has held two or three poetry readings a year at such places as The New School for Social Research, The Guggenheim Museum, St. Mark's Arts Project, Weaton University, Harvard University, Princeton University, and the University of Pennsylvania. He also conducted a daily program of music, music criticism, poetry and commentary for the Pacific Foundation's outlet radio station WBAI.

He has two books in print, has signed contracts for two others, and his poems have appeared in several anthologies. Mr. Spellman will teach two courses -- "A Survey of African-American Literature" and "The Jazz Experience as Literature."

The two new professors are Dr. Henry D'Angelo, mathematics, and Dr. Council Taylor, anthropology. Dr. D'Angelo is on leave of absence from the University of Denver where he is professor of electrical engineering. He is also associated with the Denver Research Institute where he has conducted various research projects on the analysis and synthesis of time-varying systems, and on the sensitivity of optimal control systems.

He has written a book, Linear Time-Varying Systems, to be published in 1969 and numerous articles for technical publications. Dr. D'Angelo is teaching two classes in algebra, one which is using as a demonstration class for an experimental course in the uses of the

Bishop Hatcher's Rites Monday And Tuesday

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Funeral services for the Right Rev. E. O. Hatcher, presiding bishop of the 14th Episcopal District of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, which includes Florida and the Bahamas, was held Monday, Sept. 30, and Tuesday (today) Oct. 1, at 10 a. m. at Jacksonville, Fla., and Dothan, Ala.

The distinguished prelate became ill at home early Monday afternoon and died at 7:30 p. m. in a local hospital. He was 66.

The Monday service was held at St. Paul AME Church, Jacksonville, with The Right Rev. George W. Baber of the Second Episcopal District, officiating; and The Right Rev. I. H. Bonner, of the Ninth Episcopal District, delivering the eulogy. The Tuesday service will be held at Cherry Street AME Church, Dothan, with The Right Rev. F. D. Jordan, delivering the eulogy.

A native of Dothan, Ala., Bishop Hatcher lived in Dothan during his early life and began his ministry there in 1904.

ELEVATED TO BISHOPRIC IN 1962

Elevated to the bishopric in 1962 after serving as editor and manager of the Southern Christian Recorder at the AME Church, he was assigned to the 14th Episcopal District in West Africa.

He later presided over the 15th Episcopal District and was assigned to the Third Episcopal District, which includes Ohio, West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania in 1966. He was assigned to the 11th District in 1964 and re-assigned at the recent 38th Quadrennial Session at Philadelphia, Pa.

The bishop has served as chairman of the Board of Trustees of Edward Waters College, Jacksonville, and also had recently served as president of the Council of Bishops of the AME Church.

In July, 1966, Bishop and Mrs. Hatcher were authorized to go to Rome, the Holy Land and Cairo on a research mission for the AME Church.

His affiliations included membership to the National Council of Churches of Christ; member of the Board of the Methodist World Conference Grand Executive Board of OES; and member of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Oretta Hatcher; a daughter, Mrs. Ruby Crawford, of Cleveland, Ohio; son, Eugene Hatcher, Jr., Seattle, Wash.; sister, Mrs. Julia Butler, New York City; grand-children, great-grandchildren a number of nieces and nephews, sister-in-laws, brother-in-law, daughter-in-law and other relatives.

Interment will be at North Highland Cemetery, Dothan, Ala.

Dr. Council Taylor was scholar-officer of the House in Anthropology at Yale University, from which he received his A. B. and Ph. D. degrees. As a Fellow of the Social Science Research Council he conducted field work in West Africa. A founding member of the UCLA African Studies Center, he instructed four Peace Corps Training programs for African countries at UCLA and directed African and Cross-Cultural studies for the Morehouse-Spellman Peace Corps programs in 1965 and 1966.

He is a Fellow of the International African Institute and the American Anthropological Association. Formerly editor of the American Anthropologist and the Yale Literary Magazine, his latest publication is After Systems of Kinship: Voluntary Associations in the New Africa. He will conduct a seminar in anthropology and teach two courses, "Black Peoples and Cultures of Africa" and History of Anthropological Theory."

The program sponsoring the visiting professors is part of a grant under Title III of the Higher Education Act to the undergraduate schools of the Atlanta University Center. Morehouse is fiscal agent for the grant and Dr. Ralph H. Lee, Assistant to the President, is Director of the program.

NAACP Seeks Two-Way Transfer In School Desegregation Cases

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have filed a brief amicus curiae with the United States District Court for Connecticut seeking a ruling requiring the Norwalk Board of Education "to operate its schools upon a fully integrated basis under policies which apply equally to all school children."

The brief was filed here, Sept. 25, in support of a suit brought by Norwalk CORE protesting the Board's integration plan while closing the predominantly Negro school transferring all the pupils to predominantly white schools. The NAACP maintains there should be a two-way transfer. Shifting some of the students of each race to schools predominantly attended by children of the other race.

The NAACP General Counsel, Robert L. Carter, explained, entered the case because "of overriding public consequences of the decision." The Association brief notes that "although the objective of the Board's policy is legitimate, the racial classification employed is invidious." Associated with Mr.

Carter in the suit are NAACP lawyers Lewis M. Stel of New York City and Emanuel Margolis of Stamford, Conn.

As the NAACP brief says, "In the opinion of amicus, the Board has denied equal protection of the law to black and Puerto Rican children by introducing a neighborhood school plan which, in substance, isolates minority group neighborhoods as unworthy for maintenance of integrated schools."

"Stripped to its bones," the brief asserts, "the Board policy requires only minority group communities and children to give up what the Board designates as a benefit in order to obtain the right to attend an integrated school. In effect, the Board is depriving the plaintiffs of equal treatment in order to avail themselves of another right."

The NAACP emphasizes that "The Board's plan does more than merely achieve integration. It puts into effect a policy which, according to the Board's own justification for the maintenance of the neighborhood school system, penalizes minority group children and minority group neighborhoods."

New Yorker Wins Campbell Food Scholarship Of $1,500

NEW YORK, N. Y. — John W. Ruffin, 3520 Olmville Avenue, named winner of a one-year $1,500 Food Scholarship to Cornell University sponsored by Campbell Soup Company.

Mr. Ruffin, who works for Grand Union Company was officially notified of his selection by James B. Johnson, Sales Manager — Eastern Division, Campbell Sales Company. An employee for five years, Mr. Ruffin is General Market Manager of the Grand Union store in Queens Boulevard in Forest Hills, New York.

Mr. Johnson said the scholarship is one of the things Campbell is doing to help develop capable and well-educated young people to fill the rapidly growing number of executive positions in all segments of the food industry.

The Food Distribution Scholarship is offered in cooperation with the Food Industry Educational Fund of retail and wholesale food distributors, manufacturers, suppliers and related industries. Founded at Michigan State University in 1960, the program has since been expanded to Cornell University and the University of Southern California.

Mr. Johnson said the total amount of the scholarship is $1,500. Of this, $1,000 is credited to the account of the scholarship winner and New Yorker Wins Campbell Food Distribution Scholarship $500 goes to the university to help offset faculty and administrative costs involved in the specialized educational program.

A 1963 graduate in Liberal Arts from Morgan State College, Baltimore, Maryland, Mr. Ruffin will study for a Master degree in food distribution. Special courses will include food merchandising, food store operation, and food chain administration.

Mr. Ruffin was chosen from a large group of applicants by a university selection committee in consultation with food industry representatives. Scholarships are offered to part-time or full-time employees or retail or wholesale food distributors eligible for membership in: Cooperative Food Distributors of America, National Association of Retail Grocers, National American Wholesale Grocers Association, National Association of Food Chains, Super Market Institute, United States Wholesale Grocers Association, or voluntary associations.

TV Commercials Seen As Breakthru

The first Negro television commercials, advertising products exclusively for use by black men and women, will be seen starting October 1, in five major cities.

Supreme Beauty Products, Inc., a division of the Johnson Publishing Company, publishers of Ebony and Jet, is the sponsor of these commercials to be seen in New York, Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia and Washington.

The products, Raveen Au Naturelle for Women and Duke Natural for Men, were introduced to the Negro community last December through the pages of Ebony Magazine, and have been advertised heavily in Ebony and Jet since then.

To reinforce the Ebony saturation, Supreme Beauty Products, via its agency, Redmond, Marcus and Shure, is scheduling a pilot series of TV commercials. The pilot project, scheduled for six weeks, at an estimated cost of $100,000 will amplify the continuing Ebony campaign and project an all-Negro product into major television exposure for the very first time.

2nd International Theological Talks Held At Bastad, Sweden

GENEVA — (LWF) — Participants in a second international Lutheran-Roman Catholic theological conversation have announced that they found "substantial agreement and convergence of opinion as they dealt with the task of the church in the world."

The talks, held September 15-19 at Bastad, Sweden, also showed "consensus concerning the critical function of the church in today's society" and called attention to "the possible new understanding and importance of the role of the laity that this implies."

A short summary of lectures and discussions at the Bastad meeting, which was closed to the press and public, was issued here on September 23.

International dialogue on an official basis between representatives of the Lutheran World Federation and the Vatican Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity opened on November 26-30, 1967, at Zurich, Switzerland.

That initial session, it was reported, was marked by ecumenical cordiality, candor, and agreement on some basic points in what will be a continuing study of "The Church and the Gospel."

The specific topic of the Bastad meeting was "The World and the Church Under the Gospel" and in this regard the participants noted that "both the emphasis on the laity and the focusing upon the churches' task and responsibility in the world were believed to hold promise for further ecumenical discussions following main lectures by two Roman Catholic and two Lutheran scholars, it was reported, showed that "the agreements and differences of opinion did not necessarily coincide with confessional identification." Lecturers at the Bastad sessions were:

Roman Catholic — Prof. Walter Kaspe and Prof. Johann Baptist Metz, both of the University of Munster, Germany; and Lutheran — Dr. Philip Hefner of the Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago, and Prof. Per Erik Persson of the University of Lund, Sweden.

The joint statement issued after the meeting said all of the lectures were addressed to the relationship of church, world and gospel. It said:

"Prof. Kaspe spoke to the question of the world as the arena of the gospel, pointing to the significance of the incarnation, revelation and history, and to the history of the gospel.

"Prof. Persson, in dealing with the world as the goal of the gospel, stressed the importance of the renewal of creation, the salvation of mankind and the resistance of the world to the gospel.

"Prof. Hefner was concerned with communicating the gospel to the world, pointing to the implications of the ecological perspective — that is, the necessary reciprocity with the society in which the church exists — for preaching, teaching, diaconic service and political and social engagement.

Other Lutheran participants were:

Prof. Georg Strecker, University of Gottingen, Germany; Dr. George Lindbeck, Yale University at New Haven, Conn.; Prof. Einar Molland, University of Oslo, Norway; the Rev. Carl Mau, Geneva, Lutheran World Federation associate general secretary; Dr. Harding Meyer, Geneva, LWF theology department secretary for inter-confessional relations, and Dr. Vilmos Vajta, research professor of the Lutheran Institute for Ecumenical Research, Suresbourg, France.

Other Catholic participants were: Father Jerome Hamer of Rome, associate secretary, Vatican Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity; Bishop Hans L. Marleson of Copenhagen, Denmark; Prof. Joseph A. Fitzmyer, Woodstock College at Woodstock, Md.; Prof. Heinz Schurman of the Ertzt Theological Seminary in the (East) German Democratic Republic; Prof. Johannes L. Witte, Gregorian University, Rome; Dr. August Hasler, staff secretary with the Vatican unity secretariat, and Prof. Charles Moeller of the Congregation for the Faith, Rome.

Representing the World Council of Churches as an observer at the talks was Prof. Werner Koppers of the Old Catholic Seminary in Bonn, Germany.

The next in the series of conversations has been tentatively scheduled for Zurich, Switzerland, possibly early in April 1969.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Can your hair be damaged from brushing, alone?

All hair becomes damaged from exposure to sun and natural elements. Certain greasy compounds and many chemicals, improperly used, also take their toll. Not to mention simple attempts at beautifying the hair with any brush not made of natural bristles. The results are brittleness, breakage, dry and dull looking hair.

Your professional beautician knows how artificial bristles actually brush away a great deal of the "lubricants" of the hair that give it body, lustre and protection. And trained beauticians claim that nothing beats Clairol® condition® Beauty Pack Treatment for overcoming brittleness, dryness and breakage... leaving hair lively and easy to manage. condition® is an easy-to-work-with cream which can even be applied during a chemical straightening retouch to prevent drying of hair that has been previously relaxed. condition® is the ultimate in repairing deep-down damage. And, when time is a factor for their customers, hairdressers turn to new Clairol® Hair Dew®—the lotion conditioner that penetrates so fast many think of it as an instant conditioner. When applied regularly by your beautician, Clairol® Hair Dew adds body, softens and gives a glowing new look to your hair that many friends will notice and admire.

Damage can come from using brushes with artificial bristles. But damage to every woman's hair comes from so many other causes that all human hair (including wigs) needs to be revitalized periodically. Visit your professional beautician and ask this expert to check the condition of your hair.

Only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

Dick Bass Newest Member Of Exclusive 5,000-Yard Club

LOS ANGELES — When Dick Bass finally quits playing football for the Los Angeles Rams he's got a nice surprise waiting for him; he'll find out how famous he has become in the field of sports.

The newest member of pro football's exclusive 5,000-yard club (11 members in the NFL, one in the AFL who has rushed for a lifetime total of 5,000 yards or more) is Dick Bass, who has many trophies he's won or game balls he's been given, or what the press has been saying about him all these years. He has his own philosophy about such things.

"I try to ignore the honors or writeups as long as I'm playing," he says. "I don't believe it's good to think about them now. When I retire, then I'll be time enough to look at them."

"Meanwhile, I send them all up to my mother and father in Vallejo. They have the game balls and trophies and plaques on a big mantelpiece, and they keep up the scrapbooks. My father subscribes to all the papers and sports magazines."

"When I visit them in Vallejo my mother tries to show me the collection, but I won't look at it — not yet. All that really matters now is the next game coming up. I was too happy beating the Steelers last Sunday to get a thrill over hitting the 5,000-yard mark. I thought about it some until Tuesday, then I put it out of my mind."

Despite Dick's protestations, it is safe to say the memory of that moment when he plunged four yards through the middle of the Pittsburgh line to reach the 5,000-yard plateau will not so easily fade.

"Coach (George) Allen told me in the dressing room at halftime that he didn't like special ceremonies during a game, but he'd make an exception this time if I passed the mark. When it happened, referee George Rennix presented me with the ball and said, 'I hope this gets you a good bounce on your next contract.'"

"I turned the ball over to Don Hewitt (Ram equipment man). He'll have it specially lettered with the yardage, date and opponent and send it up to my folks. After I'm retired I'll take a look at it."

Thus Dick Bass, at 5-10 and 195 pounds the smallest player in the league, joins such football giants as Jim Brown, Jim Taylor, Joe Perry, John Henry Johnson, Stue Van Buren, Rick Casares, Don Perkins, Hugh McElhenny, Lenny Moore and Ollie Matson in the NFL and Clem Daniels in the AFL. Only Perkins and Bass are still active. With a good rushing year Bass could move up to sixth or seventh on the all-time list.

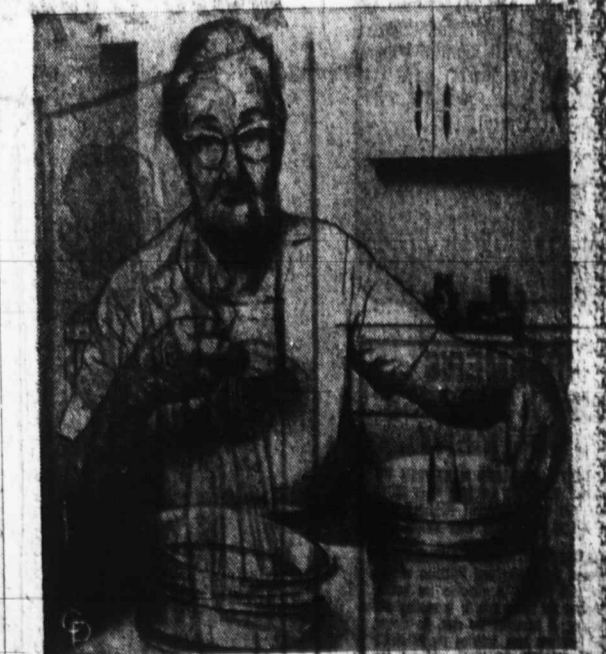

But Bass brushes such thoughts aside. "I'm just looking forward to playing Cleveland again. It's always a challenge to me, because the Browns have the league's top runner in Leroy Kelly. I'm counting on the defense Sunday to hold him down, because I get a special thrill whenever I can out-gain him."

Their last meeting was in the Playoff Bowl game last January in Miami. Bass finished four yards behind Kelly (51 to 55), but had a better rushing average.

Asked to compare his running style with Kelly's, Dick said, "Leroy is a slasher. I'm a pick-a-hole runner. Maybe I start for the outside, but I pick the first hole I see and cut through it."

In addition to his running, Bass is emerging as one of the Rams' prime receivers. Two of his last three touchdowns he scored against the Steelers when he passed.

NEW Official Says "Equality Demands We Produce Leaders"

DR. CHARLES L. HAYES

ALBANY, Ga. — (SWS) — The quest for total equality of black people demands that Negroes produce leaders who are not only strong, but who will skillfully and wisely guide us through the traps of callousness and intellectual myopia which endanger all true men, regardless of race.

"If such leaders are not forthcoming and soon," the keynote speaker to the annual Faculty Conference at Albany State College said, "American Negroes will not have won freedom at all, regardless of what the laws may say." They will have instead, Dr. Charles L. Hayes of the U.S. Office of Education said, "another kind of slavery — the slavery of the 20th century man."

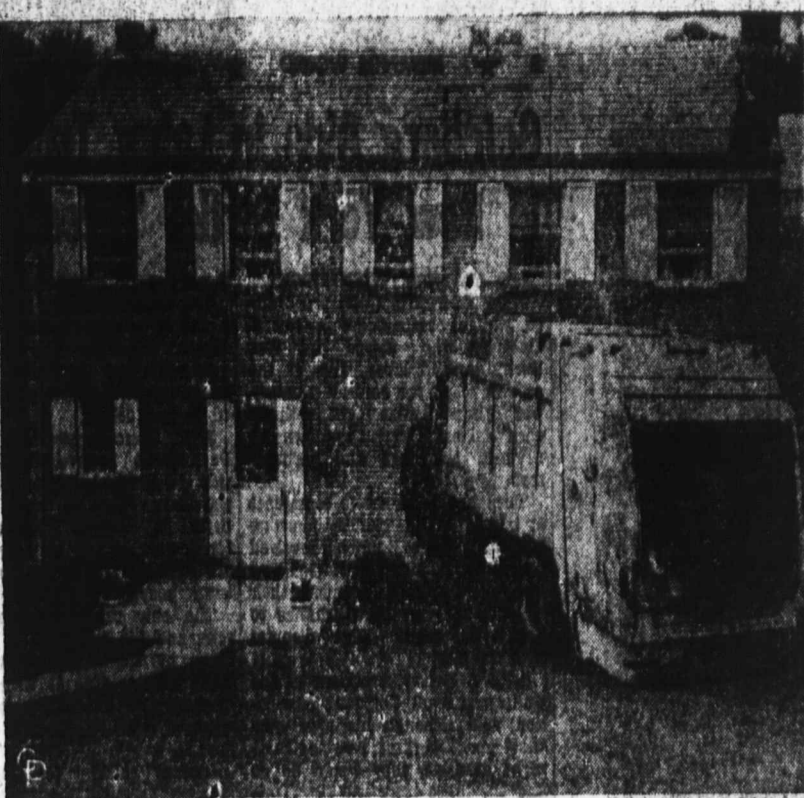

A well known educator who was on the A.T. State University (Greensboro, N.C.) for 17 years, Hayes said, "One of the things that has bothered me is I'm afraid to work in education. Colleges and universities have not so get out and get programs that are exciting enough to draw people to them," he said. "On the other hand, however, we must have something to offer once we get them there."

"If the Negro college dies because Negro students prefer large universities, you will produce no men of vision, regardless of race," said Hayes emphatically. "And if you produce no men of vision, students should prefer other schools."

The former American Council on Education intern at George Washington University said that we are not talking about the mechanical problems of getting warm bodies to pay tuition. "We're talking about the reasons for our very existence," he emphasized. "The question of whether our colleges should be encouraged to die."

NAIA District 25 To Include All Schools In Georgia, Florida

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — NAIA District 25 has been reorganized to include all NAIA members institutions in the states of Florida and Georgia according to an announcement by A. O. Dyer, NAIA Executive Secretary. The new district includes all former members of District 25 plus eleven former members of NAIA District 6. This change is part of a redistricting process that affects more than 100 NAIA member colleges and universities from Texas to Virginia.

In making the announcement, Mr. Dyer stated, "With this placing of all of its 50 member institutions into geographic districts, NAIA reaffirms its dedication to democratic principles and practices in all areas of its growing and increasingly complex organizational structure. We are proud that in 1947 we provided the first opportunity for some 70 predominantly Negro colleges and universities to compete for national championship honors. "These changes, effective for the 1968-69 competitive year, follow many years of careful planning and are now a reality in which we can all take deep pride. As in the past all leaders in these new districts will have equal opportunity to share in planning and administering district qualifying events and other functions of the district. Conference affiliations will not be affected."

"The NAIA Executive Committee which adopted this program after receiving a recommendation from its National Research Committee, deeply appreciates the cooperation of our members in the eight geographic district which are affected by this program. It will provide equality of opportunity for each athlete and team for our national championship, which in turn are qualifying events for Pan American and Olympic Trials," added Dyer.

Dr. Garland Dickey, athletic director at Berry College, Mt. Berry, Georgia, will remain as Chairman of District 25. O. W. O'Neal, Jr., athletic director at Albany State College, Albany, Georgia, has been named Vice Chairman of District 25 by NAIA President, Dr. Eldon W. Graber of Bluffton College, Albany, Ga. Atlanta Baptist Ministers Union Endorses Borders

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SWS) — In their weekly meeting, the Atlanta Baptist Ministers' Union unanimously endorsed the Political Candidacy of Dr. William Holmes Borders in the November General Election.

Dr. Borders, a Republican is opposed by E. G. Shepherd on the Democratic ticket for the 107th House seat. The ministerial body gave Borders praises for his role in the recent drama "Behold The Man", and expressed confidence in his ability to perform equally as well in the state law-making body.

The Board conducts objective research in the fields of economics, business management, human relations and public affairs. Facts, experiences and opinions in these fields are collected and analyzed, and the results are distributed through published reports, conferences, press releases and correspondence.

The work of the conference board is made possible through the support of more than 4,200 subscribing associates. These include business organizations, trade associations, government bureaus, labor unions, libraries and colleges and universities.

of 104 games, but wound up no better than second. The Cubs of 1908, with a healthy 104-49 tally, finished a 1-2 game behind the Pirates who coasted in with 110 wins and only 42 losses.

The '42 Dodgers were victims of one of the hottest streaks in the game's history, as the Cardinals that year finished with 41 wins in their last 46 games, to nip the Brooks at the wire with a final mark of 106-48.

ODDITIES DEPARTMENT: The Giants of 1933 won 97 games and capped the pennant, but the New York Club two years later won the same number and finished third. The Dodgers won the championship with 88 wins in 1911, but finished second the following year with 104 victories.

CUBS HOLD TWO MAJOR LEAGUE RECORDS

The Cubs hold two major league records for highest season percentage. The Chicago representatives of 189 won 67 games while losing only 17, for a percentage of .798, highest on record. The Cubs of 1933 set the modern percentage high at .703 with their banner performance of 116-53.

SHOULD HAVE 'DEMANDED A RECOUNT' OF GAMES

The 1908 Cubs and 1942 Dodgers must have been of a mind to demand a recount at the close of their respective seasons. Those clubs finished with a victory total

The Cardinals clinched the NL flag on Sept. 15 this year, the earliest since the 1955 Dodgers locked things up on September 8, the earliest clinching date in history.

The following are the clinching dates since 1905:

1905—Dodgers, Sept. 30, final day of season.

1907—Braves, Sept. 23, Monday of final week.

1908—Braves, Sept. 21, second last Sunday.

1909—Dodgers, Sept. 29, playoff (beat Braves two games to none).

1910—Pirates, Sept. 25, second last Sunday.

1911—Reds, Sept. 26, Tuesday of final week.

1902—Giants, Oct. 3, playoff (beat Dodgers two games to one).

1903—Dodgers, Sept. 24, Tuesday of final week.

1904—Cardinals, Oct. 1, final day of final week.

1905—Dodgers, Oct. 2, Saturday of final week.

1906—Dodgers, Oct. 3, final day.

1907—Cardinals, Sept. 18, Monday, second last week.

1908—Cardinals, Sept. 15, third last Sunday.

MARION JACKSON Views Sports Of The World

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS CINCHED NL FLAG, JULY 4th

Baseball historian will write for the record that the 1968 National League pennant race was over as early as Thursday, July 4th. It was Independence Day in the finest tradition of the Great American Pastime. It was then, that the St. Louis Cardinals ruthlessly dashed any notion that they would not repeat as National League champions, by pulling out to a commanding ten-game lead. However, the archives will be encribed with the knowledge that this is only the second time in the last 13 years that there has not been a down-to-wire dogfight in the "senior circuit."

Traditionally, the National League has always had knock-down-drag-out, lethal, hammer-type of pennant races. It has always been a ritualistic science that the bitterly-contested pennant races would be the rule rather than the exception. It has been a sort of on-the-edge-of-your-seat thing in which the villain, life in the "Perils of Pauline" would dash out dastardly, set in times continuous continuity until a home-run hero came to the rescue and delivered the goods with one thunderous smash.

That's the way National League fans like it and the good and bad actors in the circuit have generally followed the script. Occasionally there have been some sensation-seekers who have hammed it up.

There have been "ghost home runs" that decided the tie. Add mental lapses and pitching miscues, but there has always been an element of sheer drama that not even the Hollywood movie-makers could exploit in their synthetic circumstance.

Go-for-broke type of baseball has been a National League trademark, in which hitting challenges with everything, but the lamp post, was accepted mayhem. These gravels, two-fisted and shoot-from-the-hips brought excited throngs into the ballparks in the twilight-time of the season.

In almost every other season, prior to the Cardinals' coasting home in 1967, the NL was embroiled in a tightly contested campaign in which the issue was not decided until the final week, sometimes the final week-end, twice on the very last day of the season and twice by means of a playoff.

The Cardinals' "clincher" on September 15 this year was the earliest since the 1955 Dodgers locked things up on September 8, the earliest clinching date in history.

The following are the clinching dates since 1905:

1905—Dodgers, Sept. 30, final day of season.

Goldberg Aids In Labor Trouble In New York Strike Threats

By WALTER WISNIEWSKI
NEW YORK UPI—Former United Nations ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, who moved into New York's tangled labor crisis at the request of Mayor John V. Lindsay, won delays Monday night in threatened strikes or work slowdowns by firemen, policemen and garbage men.

They had been set to commence at midnight and Tuesday morning but the three unions involved agreed to go along with Goldberg who asked them to postpone their action and give him a chance to help settle their labor disputes with the city.

John J. Delury, president of the Uniformed Sanitationmen's Association, said although his men were "hot" about working past the midnight deadline, they would do so and the 10,000 rank and file members would vote on further postponement Tuesday morning.

The sanitation workers had said they would strike at midnight if there was no contract.

The Uniformed Firefighters Association, which represents 10,500 firemen below the rank of lieutenant, submitted Goldberg's request to its executive board, which agreed to the delay.

John Casese, president of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association PBA, which represents 22,000 policemen said his union would defer its planned "job actions" for a week or two "as long as we are sitting down and talking with labor people."

The only catch remaining was rang and file approval for further delay by the sanitation workers. They were to vote at their places of work and the results to be announced at a 10 A. M. news conference.

Lindsay called for Goldberg's help in averting the strikes and "job actions" threatened by the three unions to add muscle to their demands for more money, the primary issues in all three disputes.

NAACP Pushes Registration Drive Throughout Nation To Close Gap

By NAACP Throughout Nation
NEW YORK — Reports being received in the National Office of the NAACP, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, reveal widespread response to Executive Director Roy Wilkins' call for an intensified voter registration campaign designed to attain the maximum Negro vote in this crucial election.

Throughout the country NAACP units are engaged in an accelerated drive to close the 12 per cent gap between white and non-white voter registration.

In Natick, Mass., the South Middlesex Branch seeks additional registrations, but is more concerned because some registered voters fail to use their ballots. It is using the slogan, "A vote NOT cast is a vote AGAINST you."

When asked what was so different about the Newark campaign, Miss Sally G. Carroll, local president, said, "It is sort of a blitzing action to reach into untouched or difficult areas and haul out the individuals who might have been overlooked by other methods."

In three weeks, the Baltimore Branch registered 5,100 new voters. Cincinnati registered 2,702.

From Orleans, Executive Secretary Arthur J. Chaptal, Sr., reports that 120,000 Negroes above the age of 21 live in Orleans Parish, and that half of these are not registered. The local registered. The local registration campaign is seeking to diminish this figure. There is also concern because local registration authorities reportedly have duped more than 1,000 applicants into registering as members of the States Rights Party. An effort is under way to get these re-registered in either of the two major parties.

In St. Louis, the branch's political action committee headed by Dewey Creighton, is concentrating its efforts in Negro wards with low registration in the hope of bringing them up to par.

A statewide campaign has been launched in Ohio with special emphasis on the major cities. A similar NAACP-sponsored campaign was conducted throughout California where registration concluded on Sept. 12. In Virginia, the state

NAACP has set a goal of 100,000 new voters.

The national NAACP registration campaign will continue, Mr. Wilkins said "until all registration books are closed and beyond then to Election Day when black people will be transported to the polls."

Supremes Retain Humility Despite Great Success

NEW YORK — As the lights dimmed the applause deafened and it took 240 seconds by the clock before Diana Ross could be heard. While the Niagara of appreciation noise thundered down, she, Mary Wilson and Cindy Birdsong — The Supremes, the most successful feminine singing group in history — smiled a bit, vamped the stage and patiently waited for the chance to live up to their prestige.

While the crowd quieted, Diana Ross started singing the lead and the other two girls joined in to turn on their Motown sound, a mixture of Negro blues and a hand-clapping beat. Within seconds the audience was as still as the three Supremes had been a moment before.

By the time they belted into "Where Did Our Love Go" — their first big hit, the first of eight recordings of theirs that sold more than a million copies — they were in Supreme command.

The own an impressive list of show business credentials, including five consecutive recordings that topped the pop music polls — an achievement unmatched by any other American group — and, following a tour of Europe, became the first feminine singing group ever to become the best sellers in Britain, where much of today's pop music had its beginnings.

Following their Forest Hills concert, and while reading for their appearance on the Bing Crosby RCA Special that will be shown on NBC-TV on Oct. 2, 10-11 p. m., The Supremes attempted to peer into the future and discussed their easier-to-see past.

"We want to continue in show business, at least for a few years, but eventually we'd all like to marry and settle down," says Diana Ross, spokesgirl for the group. At this point, none is seriously involved in a romance, she adds. Success has meant much to the three girls. Diana and Mary Wilson grew up together in a section of Detroit called the Brewster Projects. "People with a lot of money do not live there," says Diana. Cindy Birdsong grew up in Camden, N. J., in a similar-type of neighborhood.

Diana speaks for them all. "My family never had aid when I was a kid. My father hustled, working two jobs at once, fixing things as a mechanic and working in an office. He always had time to see that we had a fantastic Christmas — one time with bikes.

"We were six kids, three girls and three boys. I was a real tomboy. I climbed trees to rob apples. I just wanted to have fun.

"Then my mother took sick — she had TB — and was sent to Holland, Michigan to get well. I had to go to the South where my grandfather — Rev. William M. J. — was minister of the Bessemer (Ala.) Baptist Church. I sang in his choir and maybe that's when I realized I loved to sing.

"After my mother got better I came back to Detroit and Mary and I started singing together. With Florence Ballard — we called ourselves the Primettes then — and we'd hitch-hike to record hops and sing for free.

"I was doing something at last when I started singing," she says. After they graduated from high school the Supremes started singing background music for Motown Records, eventually cut nine records of their own before scoring with a hit.

"We were on a bus tour in the South with Dick Clark. When we'd sing 'Where Did Our Love Go' people acted like they had heard it on the radio. By the time we got back to Detroit it was number one."

"It's nice to be number-one," she said.

Easter Seals Program Shines In Rehabilitation Services

CHICAGO—Easter Seals rehabilitation services last year placed 747 handicapped adults in remunerative employment, after specialized training or re-training. It was announced by Summer G. Whittier, executive director of the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The announcement was made to mark the opening of National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week (Oct. 6-12) and to point up the Society's cooperation with the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

ments for children during its Thanksgiving Clothing Appeal, an annual drive which has been scheduled for November 24 through December 1.

Both the dates for the appeal and its particular needs were announced here late in September by the Rev. Ove R. Nielsen, an assistant executive secretary in the overseas material aid agency.

"To help needy people in other countries we are seeking gifts of good clothing," the staff executive commented, "but we are placing very special stress on the need for blankets and children's clothing."

Noting that only limited amount of adult clothing is needed and that such garments are most useful when converted into blankets, he pointed out that "many congregations are already making blankets but we need many, many more."

Letters to parish pastors announcing the appeal and a brochure on the extent of need overseas cite several suggestions for making blankets from clothing.

Lutheran World Relief serves the American Lutheran Church, the Lutheran Church in America, and the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod in Christian social service and community development programs overseas.

Together, the three church bodies encompass some 17,500 congregations throughout the United States. Approximately 6,000 are associated with the LC-MS which cooperates in LWR appeals through its Board of World Relief.

Ten depots, located in various geographical areas of the country are used for the collection and processing of clothing receipts.

Grooming Hint for Men of Color

The trend of Negro men's hair styling is toward the "natural" look. This counsels the problem of brittle, dry, mousy hair that's lifeless looking. As these men prepare to enter business, it becomes increasingly necessary to add luster and manageability to make hair look neat, alive and well-groomed. This must be done without the greasy look or sticky feeling.

A really fine aid is found in Murray's Hair Dressing Pomade. A little dab in the morning keeps hair neat all day. It's found at drug and cosmetic counters everywhere.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK Looking Back to 1868

61-D Among phenomena of the 1868 national political campaign was "National Christian Association," formed in Illinois to oppose secret orders such as Masonry, and "atheism, spiritualism, free love."

The latter referred to polygamy practiced among some Mormon adherents. "Spiritualism" was a religion based on belief in capability of communication with disembodied souls who remain earthbound and subject to call. "Spiritualism" had an origin two decades earlier at the Hydesville, N. Y., home of a farmer, John D. Fox, his wife, and two daughters, Margaret and Kate. The girls, 15 and 12, told of being disturbed in sleep repeatedly by rapping noises. They professed to have detected that the raps were signals from a spectral being disposed to answer questions.

Circulation of the story brought hordes of the curious to the home, and made news. An agent took the sisters to large cities for paid demonstrations. Soon there were scores of "mediums" in practice. Scientific investigators reported evidence of fraud, but spiritualism attracted many well-known, articulate believers, including Horace Greeley and Prof. Robert Hare. Seances were held at the White House by the Lincolns.

Dr. O. W. Holmes, Sr. warned that "Spiritualism is quietly undermining the traditional ideas of the future state," before seances formed the "National Christian Association."

Meharry Medical College Gets Three Fellowships In Medicine

Three Martin Luther King Jr. Fellowships in Medicine totaling $6,000 have been awarded to Meharry Medical College students, Joseph P. Thornton, James O. Lowry and Robert E. Burnette by the Associated Physicians of Chicago's Cook County Hospital, Dr. Ralph J. Casort, dean of the School of Medicine, announced recently.

Lowry and Burnette will each receive $1,500 tuition fellowships. The balance of Thornton's $3,000 fellowship will cover his living expenses while he is enrolled at Meharry. Tuition for the academic year will be paid from the fellowships on a quarterly basis.

The purpose of the scholarship is to identify and encourage disadvantaged young people with high motivation and potential ability for medicine, according to the Board of Directors of the Associated Physicians of Cook County Hospital. Preference is shown to applicants of the high school and beginning college level for fellowships in medicine with prime consideration given those who want to become physicians and to those from the Chicago Metropolitan area.

Although prime consideration has been given those from the Chicago area, candidates from other areas, upon majority vote recommendation, have been presented to the association for endorsement.

The applicant must present bona fide evidence of enrollment in an accredited institution, whether at the preparatory collegiate or professional school level.

Joseph Peter Thornton, the son of Mrs. Rosie Thornton, 7138 S. St. Lawrence, is a sophomore medical student from Chicago. Thornton received his Bachelor of Science degree in biology from the University of Illinois in 1967.

Robert E. Burnette, a freshman, the son of Mrs. H. J. Burnette, 211 So. 12th Avenue, Maywood, Ill., was graduated from the University of Illinois, obtaining his Bachelor of Science degree in biology. James O. Lowry, a Hampton Institute graduate, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Lowry of 1083 S. Alleghany Avenue, Covington, Va. In 1965 he received his undergraduate degree in chemistry.

B'nai B'rith Sends Mercy Plane To Biafra Needy

A B'nai B'rith Foundation relief plane carrying 30 tons of drugs, condensed food, and clothing to Biafra left Sunday (September 29, 7:00 p. m., Building 260, Seaboard World Airlines Cargo Terminal, 150th Street Entrance) from Kennedy Airport.

The humanitarian mission, according to Eugene L. Sugarman, treasurer of the Jewish service organization, is "symbolic of the meaning of the Jewish high holy days" which began the week of Sept. 23 with Rosh Hashanah — the day Jews pray for peace and happiness for themselves and all the world, and ended Wednesday (Oct. 2) Yom Kippur — the Day of Atonement.

The cartons and cases of merchandise, worth $250,000 and gathered by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith at an airport warehouse, were contributed by the American Pharmaceutical Company, Eli Lilly, Bristol, Griffiths Laboratory, Pfizer, Upjohn, Sterling, Block Drug Co., Parke Davis Hoechst Chemicals, Johnson and Johnson, Rexall, Ipec Surgical Supplies, Atlas Chemicals, the Waldbaum food chain, Rokeach food and Russ Toys.

The charter flight, coordinated by Frederick Gash, an officer of ADL, will fly to Sao Tome, the Portuguese island off the coast of Biafra which has become the center of an international relief movement. The cost of the flight — $40,000 — will be paid for by the B'nai B'rith Foundation.

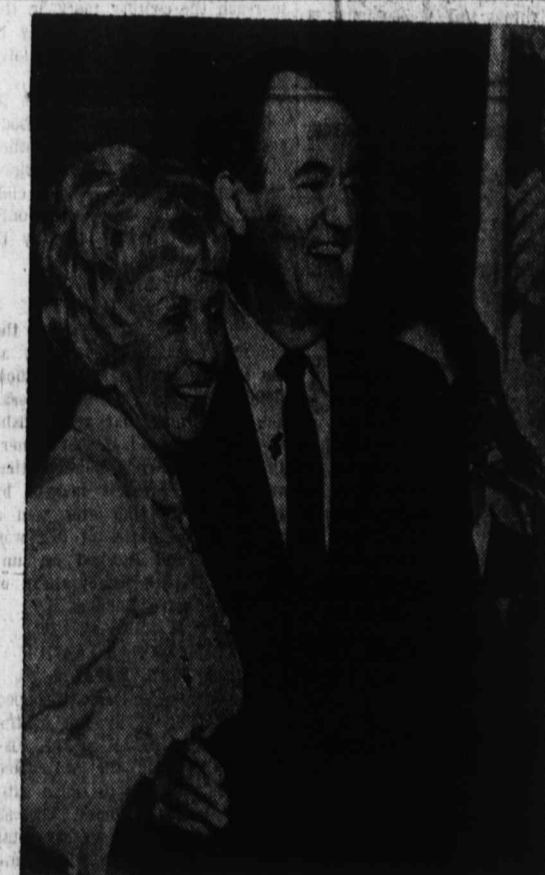

Able Nathan, the Israeli freedom pilot, will accompany the shipment and oversee its transference to Catholic and Protestant run air shuttles to Biafra to use in hospitals of the Catholic and Protestant medical missions.
