

Senator Edward Brooke Warns Of Dangers Of Election Issue Going To House In 1968

George H. Brown Jr. Given Endorsement

The George H. Brown, Jr., headquarters this week announced that he is being endorsed by Alpha Delta Lambda chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity.

Mr. Brown, running as an independent, is seeking a seat in the State House from District 5.

Negro Insurance Firms In Big Drive

More than 8,000 agents of Negro-owned life insurance companies will talk "power" to an estimated 2,000,000 black families in the five weeks beginning Nov. 4.

They will promote the economic power and security that life insurance represents during the National Insurance Association's observance of National Service Month. National Service Month is the annual conservation and policy owner service effort jointly undertaken by 46 companies representing a quarter billion dollars of life insurance in force.

Miss Social Belle Contest Underway

The NAACP-sponsored Miss Social Belle contest is underway with 15 young ladies competing for five cash prizes. The winner will be crowned Miss Social Belle at a coronation ball scheduled for the Peabody on the night of Dec. 6.

Mrs. Ann Willis, general chairman, said there is still time for other girls to enter the contest. They should contact the contest chairman, Mrs. Leon Griffin (946-5693) or Mrs. Willis (596-8718).

The Miss Social Belle committee has conducted several meetings planning the affair and all of the contestants have been photographed. Their pictures will appear in newspapers and in a souvenir booklet.

14 L-O Students Make Who's Who

The 1968-69 edition of Who's who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges will carry the names of 10 seniors and four juniors now enrolled at LeMoyn-Owen College.

Selection of these students was based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,000 nationwide.

Tennessee Baptists In Call Meeting

A call meeting of the Tennessee Baptist Missionary and Educational Convention is underway this week (Oct. 21-25) at Tree of Life Baptist Church, 407 E. McLemore. The Rev. A. McEwen Williams of Memphis is president.

President Williams said a visit to LeMoyn-Owen College is scheduled for Friday.

WILL HORTON QUIT?

The man in the middle is Atty. Odell Horton and he's walking around with a 'monkey on his back.'

He could shake this load and place it on the shoulders of Mayor Henry Loeb, where it belongs, since the mayor and certain city councilmen are actually calling the shots in the current strike of city hospital employees.

As director of city hospitals and health services, Mr. Horton is the spokesman for the mayor. This position makes Mr. Horton, a Negro, the target of Negro labor leaders and Negro strikers.

Speaks At King's Church

Ask For Divine Help For People In Casting Votes

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Senator Edward Brooke, Republican U.S. Senator of Massachusetts, told an overflowing Men's Day audience at Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta Sunday morning "to pray for Divine guidance that you will make the right decision" in the coming election.

Senator Brooke, the first member of our race to be elected by the people to this high office did not mention either of the three candidates by name for the presidency but it is known that he has traveled in the campaign with Richard Nixon.

He deplored and assailed the record of one candidate by saying "there is a danger of this election being thrown into the House of Representatives." And the US lawmakers also said that man had violated the Constitution and the paying position, and he is the first Negro to serve in the cabinet of a Memphis mayor, a better paying position.

Horton may find himself the victim of circumstances due to violence cropping up in the ranks of the strikers, and the Rosenfeld report released Monday which criticized City Hall and Horton.

The report recommended that City Hall get out of the hospital business and that Horton be replaced with an "executive director," a physician skilled in hospital administration.

Should the mayor and City Council follow the recommendation of the Rosenfeld report, it is believed Loeb would create a comparable position for Attorney Horton.

Mr. Horton has made some good moves. Perhaps the one that stands out above others is his demand that all city-supported hospitals be opened to charity patients and that staffs be fully integrated.

This, never the less, doesn't mean too much to the strikers, nearly all Negro. They want more money and a guarantee of better working conditions.

They were given a raise along with the sanitation workers, but still are underpaid.

How far they will go to force the city to recognize their demands is the big question. Already, there has been some violence and several arrests. Riot lines have been escalated and parades through the heart of town are growing longer.

Appeals were made Sunday from pulpits in support of the striking employees and a boycott has been

MISS SARAH KELLY

Memphian Draws Praise In Ohio

Miss Sarah Kelly of Memphis entered the Cleveland (Ohio) Job Corps Center for Women, Sept. 20, 1968. She immediately impressed her teachers with her maturity, sincerity and her desire to prepare herself for gainful employment.

After completion of her basic training courses, Miss Kelly pursued her on-the-job training at Nitti's Supermarket and was given their highest recommendation.

Nitti's management was so impressed with her performance at their store that she was offered regular employment at the rate of $2.26 per hour. After graduating from the Cleveland Center in June, 1967, corpswoman Kelly accepted the offer and worked for several months. She is presently employed by A. and P. Supermarkets and her salary continues to increase.

Negro Women's Club Leader Endorses Nixon-Agnew Ticket

The president of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs has announced her endorsement of Richard Nixon for President.

Mrs. Myrtle Olsson of Oklahoma City, the newly-elected president of one of the largest Negro women's organizations in the country said that her endorsement is a personal one, and does not necessarily reflect the sentiments of her organization.

In making the endorsement Mrs. Olsson said she supports Nixon because she feels as he does that private enterprise must work in the black community to a greater extent than it is now.

She said that she also feels very strongly that along with more private enterprise, the people of the black community must be managers and owners as well as workers of private enterprise in their communities, a position Nixon also supports.

Mrs. Olsson further said that she like Nixon's stand in favor of developing new federal and local educational programs to provide every child black and white an equal chance at the starting line. For these reasons, she said, she is for the election of Richard Nixon for President.

Mrs. Olsson is the former president of the Southwest Region of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs.

Magician Runners Rack Up 4th Win

Teh LeMoyn-Owen cross-country squad will be idle this week after posting its fourth victory in as many starts last Saturday against Fisk University at Nashville. The Memphians edged out a close win over Fisk, 27-26.

They also hold victories over Christian Brothers College Lane of Jackson, Tenn., and Tougaloo of Tougaloo, Miss.

The Magicians of LeMoyn-Owen will invade Alabama A. & M. at Huntsville, Nov. 2, and will host Fisk, Nov. 6.

Tougaloo, Tuskegee and LeMoyn-Owen will engage in a three-way cross-country meet here Nov. 8.

Atty. Crawford In County Court Race

Atty. W. Frank Crawford, running for a seat on the Shelby County Court for position 11 (at large) is seeking support of Memphis voters.

Mr. Crawford is with the law firm of Thomason, Crawford & Williams.

Inside Memphis

A FEW LOCAL DEMOCRATS have taken on the almost impossible task of establishing unity among the seven Negro Democratic organization as a means of building up a solid black vote for Vice President Humphrey in his bid for the Presidency.

SUPPORTERS OF JAMES I. TAYLOR, the real estate man who defeated A. W. Willis in the August Democratic primary, are betting that he will continue his winning ways and turn back his newest opponent, George H. Brown Jr., who filed as an independent for the District 5 seat in the Tennessee House of Representatives.

THE SMALL TRIANGLE of land in front of Booker T. Washington High School, bounded by Mississippi and Lauderdale, has been sold by the City Board of Education for $6,000.

THE RITZ THEATRE, located on Mississippi at Walker, one of the last of neighborhood movie houses, has been closed and boarded up.

QUITE A FEW people agreed with singer Dionne Warwick when she declared: "There is no such thing as the Memphis sound." Here for a recording session, Miss Warwick said "You can't confine a sound to one city or to one state."

A NEW TYPE PLOICEMAN is on the scene. The men in blue on duty Friday night at the Catholic-Melrose game were quite gentle in their dealings with Negro youngsters.

SEN. EDWARD BROOK

laws of this state. He has made statements which would pit race against race. If he were elected, it would paralyze the nation. The speaker asked "what can be done to save the state?" He clearly indicated he was referring to candidate George Wallace.

Education Week To Be Celebrated

Memphis news media will cooperate with the Memphis Education Association in celebrating American Education Week Nov. 10-16.

The kick-off for AEW will be an official proclamation by Mayor Henry Loeb in the presence of Donald N. Crader, MEA president, Thursday, Nov. 7.

Special street banners, business and motel marquees and bumper stickers will urge local citizens to visit special open house programs in the city schools.

Informative data concerning innovative programs in the Memphis schools will be released each day by radio, television and newspapers.

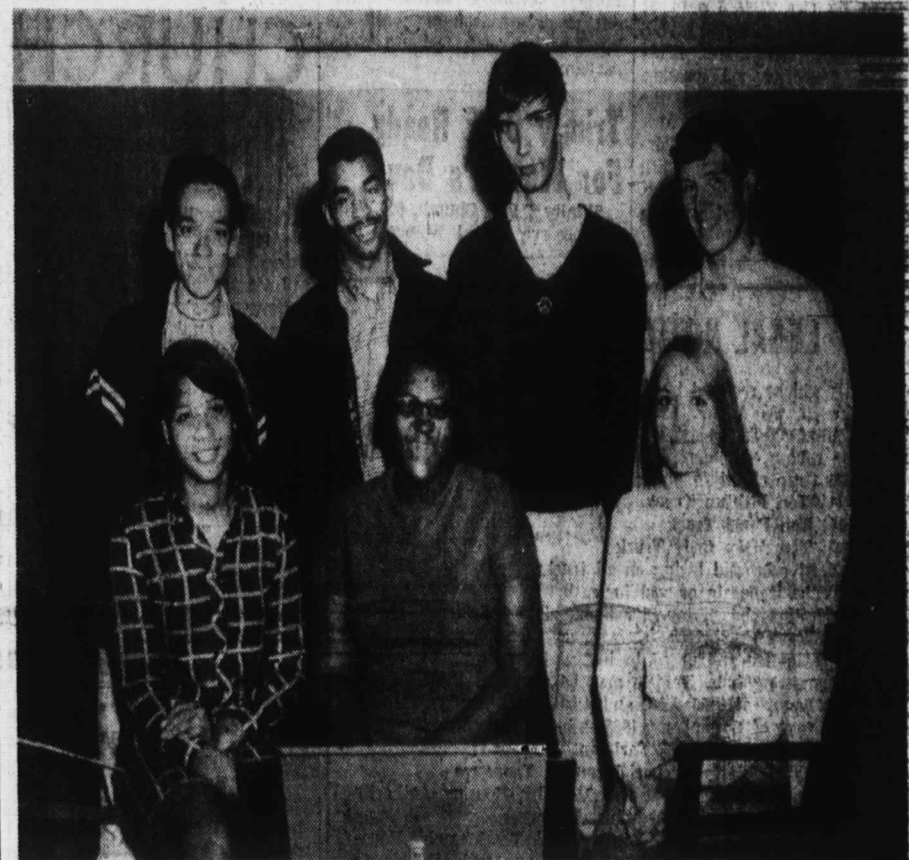

Other organizations participating in special emphasis on AEW are Memphis Chamber of Commerce, The American Legion, National Congress of Parents and Teachers,

Postage Stamp Will Salute W. C. Handy

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson said this week that a postage stamp will be issued next year saluting W. C. Handy, the musician and composer who put Memphis on the jazz map.

The stamp will celebrate the sesquicentennial of the city. Memphis will stage a W. C. Handy Memorial Music Festival next June in honor of "the father of the blues," who died in 1958. His best known compositions include "Memphis Blues," "Beale Street Blues" and "St. Louis Blues."

'IN WHITE AMERICA' — These LeMoyn-Owen and Southwestern drama students are combining their talents for the presentation of Martin Duberman's 'In White America.' The play, described as a platform reading, will be presented in LeMoyn-Owen's Little Theatre, Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and Nov. 2, and at Southwestern, Nov. 3-4.

LeMoyn-Owen, Southwestern To Stage 'In White America'

The student drama clubs of LeMoyn-Owen College and Southwestern at Memphis are combining their talents for the presentation of Martin Duberman's "In White America."

The production will be presented at LeMoyn-Owen, Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and Nov. 2, and at Southwestern, Nov. 3-4.

James R. Lee, drama coach at LeMoyn-Owen, is directing the play. Ray Hill is in charge of the Southwestern group.

The cast will include Priscilla Hayes, Jesse Jones, Ridley Anderson, Melrose Kohler and Carolyn Henry (singer-vocalist) of LeMoyn-Owen, and David Harty, Bill Peresta and John Bryan (guitarist) of Southwestern.

"In White America" described as a platform reading, is a documented history of the Negro in the United States from the first arrival of slaves up to the present decade.

The New York Times called the play "Painfully vivid theatre. A flaming editorial."

The public is invited to all of the performances.

Melrose Looks Like Winner In City Grid Race

It's almost safe to say the Golden Wildcats of Melrose High School will be the 1968 City Champs.

They were a well-oiled machine Friday night at Crump as they topped highly touted Catholic, 27-6, before 9,000.

Melrose, Catholic and Treadwell were in a three-way tie for first place, each at 2-0-0. In the Class AA Division of the MIAA race as the week of grid activity got underway.

Treadwell defeated Frayser, 12-6, and remains in a tie for first.

FRIENDSHIP SET FOR WOMEN'S DAY

The women of Friendship Baptist Church, 1355 Vollentine Avenue, will observe annual Women's Day, Sunday, Oct. 27. The theme will be

"Woman's Touch in a Changing Society."

The women of Friendship are proud to present their own Mrs. Essie Shaw and Mrs. Mildred Jackson on the 11 a. m. and 3 p. m. speaker.

Mrs. Shaw is a well-known personality in the Klondike Community and a faithful worker in the church. She is a member of the Imperial Choir, Correspondence Committee, church secretary, and coordinator of the Sunday School Christmas and Easter Programs. Educationally, she is a graduate of Tennessee State University and has done graduate work at Memphis State University. Presently, she is a member of the Hamilton High School faculty.

Mrs. Jackson, the afternoon speaker, is equally as talented. She is probably best known throughout the city as an exceptional vocalist rather than as a speaker but her talents in public speaking are also infinite. At Friendship, Mrs. Jackson is a Sunday School teacher, youth advisor, member of the Imperial Choir, Correspondence Committee, and advisor to the Youth Choir. Educationally, she is a graduate of LeMoyn College and has a master's of arts degree from Memphis State University. Mrs. Jackson is also a teacher at Hamilton.

Fanion Raps Council Members

Gerald A. Fanion, deputy director of the Tennessee Council on Human Relations, rapped several members of City Council this week. In a special statement to the news media, he said:

"The Tennessee Council on Human Relations must call into question the attitude of certain members of our City Council. This attitude seems to say that they will decide who is to be a leader for 40 percent of our population. The War On Poverty and the Map South Projects have recently been under fire by The City Council. As a result of this controversy the funds for Map South have been withheld because certain councilmen do not like Rev. James Lawson.

"By taking this stand the Council is saying several things, namely, (1) We do not trust the judgement of the 31 other members of the Map South managing board of committee; (2) We the Council will decide who is to speak on behalf of the black Community; and only a person that we like and who thinks as we do is one that we will approve; (3) We will use our economic power to continue to control the black Community; and (4) we will continue to deny we are racists with our lips but will prove

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority Rounds Out Summer And Gets Into Year's Activity

The members of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority had a busy summer with plans for the year's activities. In the early summer there was a picnic at Shelby Forest State Park with graduates and undergraduates and Sigma members.

Three times in the summer a chartered Greyhound bus took many of the same group to Petit Jean State Park in Arkansas. There they toured the Rockefeller farms and Museum. After eating lunch at the Mather Lodge at Petit Jean the return trip took in Little Rock where a tour of the State Capitol was made. Many of the group were graced with the privilege of sitting in the Governor's chair.

In the early fall Gamma Chi Chapter of Sigma Gamma Rho

Sorority, Inc. was chartered at Memphis State University with Earnestine Townsel as the president. The members of this chapter participated in a rush party on Friday night that was held jointly with the other three sororities at Memphis State. Each sorority had a certain period for performance. The Sigma were joined in their performance by the Sigma girls from Lane College who were escorted by Mrs. Clara Hewitt, campus coordinator for the Southeastern regional, and Mrs. Helen Owen, advisor for the chapter. Mr. Hewitt is always gracious enough to do the driving.

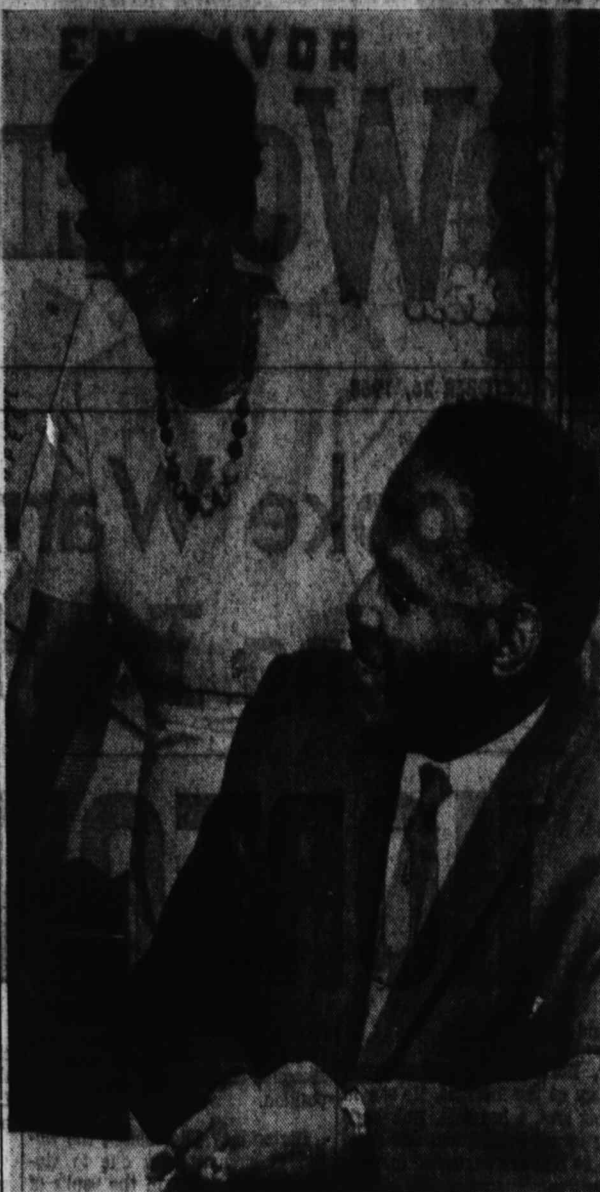

In September the new officers of Omicron Sigma were ready for the 1968-1969 programs. Founders Day observance during the week of November 11, with Mrs. Helen Owen of Jackson, Tennessee as the speaker, to be held at Olivet Baptist Church; a social affair in Dec. The New Folk Singers on January 23, at Bruce Hall; Regional Conference in Miami, Florida in April, and the Boule in August to convene in Atlanta, Ga.

The recently elected officers of Omicron Sigma chapter are: Mrs. Bernice Fowler, president; Mrs. Azalee Malone, first vice-president; Miss Mattie Anderson, second vice president; Mrs. Mary Perkins, secretary; Mrs. Versie Lipford and Mrs. Krina Jacob, assistant secretaries; Mrs. Willette Bowling, treasurer; Mrs. Eldora Amos, parliamentarian; Mrs. Frances Flagg, keeper of records and seals; Mrs. Charles P. Roland, reporter.

In addition to the president of Gamma Chi Chapter at Memphis State the other officers are Margaret Locke, vice-president; Hazel Burgess, secretary; Barbara Johnson, assistant secretary; Dorothy Williams, treasurer; Loretta Wells, parliamentarian.

UNIVERSAL LIFE INSURANCE OFFICIALS ENTERTAIN CASHIERS FROM TEXAS, OKLAHOMA AND CALIFORNIA

An unusually pretty cocktail party was the one given by officials of the Universal Life Insurance company who came to Memphis last week from Texas, Oklahoma and California for a Regional Meeting. The party was given Saturday from 9 to 1 at the Downtown. Almost first to be seen upon entering the pretty paneled fifth floor reception was Mr. A. Maceo Walker, president of the Universal Life who was most gracious to his guests. With him was his "First Lady" looking exceptionally pretty in an aqua "after five" frock. She too mingled among the guests and was a bangle of smiles. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Walker in receiving were their Officers who are Mr. H. A. Gilliam, Mr. G. T. Howell, Mr. J. A. Olcott, Mr. Thomas Willis and Mr. R. I. Wynn. Officials unable to attend were Mr. B. G. Olive and Mr. Howard Chandler.

Superintendents on hand greeting the gay group were: Mr. Harold Shaw, Mrs. Patricia Walker Shaw (a man and wife team who are the Walker's son-in-law and daughter), Mr. Harold Brooks, Mr. Eldridge Williams, Mr. Harry Thompson, Mr. Rogers Tillery, Mr. A. T. Richard, Mrs. Helen Bowen, Mrs. Frances Hassell, Mr. Wiley Brooks, Mr. Johnnie London, Mr. Lief Cain and Mr. Edward Parker. Auditors attending were Mrs. Marie H. Denson, Mr. Frank Whitley, Mr. B. C. Joseph, and Miss Lynnwood Jones, Traveling Cashier.

Managers who came were Mr. W. E. Bates of Memphis, Mr. J. W. McKinney from the West Memphis office, and Mr. E. L. Young, asst. agency director in charge of the eastern area.

VISITING CASHIERS

Visiting cashiers who came from California were Mrs. Geraldine Clark, Los Angeles, Mrs. Charlie Whitaker, Oakland and Mrs. Ida Courtney from Compton. From Texas came Mrs. Thelma Frasier, Beaumont, Mrs. Lee Metra Jackson, Dallas, Mrs. Betty Turner, Ft. Worth and Mrs. Elizabeth Plerson, Houston. Miss Maxine McCormick, Lubbock, Mrs. Mildred Shaw, Tyler, Mrs. Pearl Reese, Waco and Mrs.

Inez Martin San Antonio. Coming from Oklahoma were Mrs. Leona Hudson, Oklahoma City, Mrs. Bobbie Foster, Tulsa, Mrs. Elsie Lee, Cashier and Miss Jesse Rankins, West Memphis Cashier.

ALPHA INVESTMENT CLUB HONORS ADVISOR, MR. H. A. GILLIAM

Ten Matrons were organized one year ago Sunday by Mr. H. Gilliam, whom the matrons asked to help them play the Stock Market. These matrons were Mrs. Della Robinson, Mrs. Essie Shaw, Mrs. Lillian Wolf, Mrs. Eloise Flowers, Mrs. Agnes Agnes Anderson, Mrs. Carrie Scott, Mrs. Ethel Lee Bell, Mrs. Helen Bowen and Mrs. Myrtle Smith who served as hostess at the Lorraine Hotel Sunday when members honored Mr. Gilliam for his advice and patience.

Mrs. Helen Bowen presented Mr. Gilliam his wife and their son, the handsome Mr. "Art" Gilliam, member of Press, Erma Laws and me.

Members of other Investments who spoke complimenting Mr. Gilliam for assisting them with investments clubs were Dr. Theron Northerness, Mrs. Pearl Burce, Mrs. Louise Ward, Mrs. Mary Agnes Franklin and Mrs. R. G. Anderson, who gave greetings for Alpha. Mrs. Bowen then presented Mr. Gilliam who spoke out of deep gratitude after she was presented to a plaque by Mrs. Robinson.

And I quote: "I don't have many things to excite me but this honor this afternoon has been one of the honors that has excited me. The other was when I was made a Kentucky Colonel at the Insurance Convention in Louisville."

MRS. LILLIAN NEWMAN PRESIDES OVER FIRST MEETING FOR SENQUAM

The first meeting for members of the Senquam Club was a bit late because of the illness of their president, Mrs. Lillian Newman. The first meeting of the season was an anniversary meeting and was held at the Four Flames. Members attending were Mrs. Newman who presided, Mrs. Josie Flowers, Mrs. Mae Fitzgerald, Mrs. Marie Pinkston, Mrs. Marilyn Miller, Mrs. Ida Robinson, and Mrs. Emogene Wilson. Mrs. Pauline Hardy and Mrs. Aggie Hawkins, treasurer were absent. Mrs. Hawkins has been in with her pretty baby girl.

MRS. VICTORIA HANCOCK IS HOSTESS TO DEKOU

Mrs. Victoria Hancock was hostess to members of the Devote Bridge Club for the October meeting at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Mayweather, caterers for the affair. Both food and service were superb. Members winning the first prizes were Mrs. Leola Gilliam, Mrs. Esther Brown, Mrs. Louise Ward, and Mrs. Ida Jamison. Others of the club who played were Mrs. Sallie Bartholomew, Mrs. Leota Gammon, Mrs. Iris Harris, Mrs. Walterine Outlaw, Mrs. Faith Thornton and Mrs. Grace Young. Guest prizes went to Mrs. Jennie Tarpley, Mrs. L. Sugarmon, Mrs. Patricia Shaw, and Miss Martell Trigg. Other guests were Mrs. Ruth Beauchamp, Mrs. Doris Boden, Mrs. Claude Foster, Mrs. Carolyn McGhee, Mrs. Lynn Ross, Mrs. Myrtle White and Mrs. Hancock's daughter Mrs. Danese Welsh.

MRS. GEORGE WEST AND MRS. HELEN WEST ENTERTAIN TOGETHER

Mrs. George West and Mrs. Helen West were hostesses at the "Y" for the October meeting at which time members honored Mrs. Harry Haysbert with a few speeches and gifts. Mrs. Haysbert will leave Memphis to join her husband who has been promoted to the National Staff of the Boy Scouts of America and the couple, who came here from Denver, will live in Princeton Junction, New Jersey. Members who helped celebrate were Mesdames Lillian Jones, President Trigg, J. A. Beauchamp, T. J. Beauchamp, Milton Brandon, W. P. Guy, Sr., J. C. Mickle, Martelle Trigg, T. H. Watkins, N. M. Watson, Mrs. Geo. West and Mrs. Helen West.

Again I quote a daily New York Paper sent me by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Irons. "Eddie Wilcox, 60 pianist, orchestra leader, composer, arranger and vocal coach, was buried in his native Raleigh, N. C. last weekend. Wilcox, who played with the great Jimmy Lunceford band was appearing at the Trio Lounge in Brooklyn when he collapsed on Sunday night two weeks ago from a heart attack and was rushed to the hospital. The pianist became the leader of the Lunceford band after the famed leader died. He is survived by a wife, Constance with whom he lived at 1570 Riverside Drive, in New York and two brothers, William and Thomas."

The handsome MR. LOUIS JONES, a prominent Los Angeles business man, is the house guest of Mrs. Johnetta Walker Kelso. The two met many years ago when he attended an A. K. A. Meeting in Cleveland at the residence of Mr. Bob Hemingway. It was Mrs. Leland Atkins who entertained for us and Mrs. Kelso was escorted by Mr. Jones. A picture last week of Mr. Jones appears in last week's Jet of Mr. Jones who was Lena Horne's first husband and the father of his children. Mr. Jones and Mrs. K. have been extended many courtesies in Memphis and the lovable visitor is deserving of all and more.

MRS. KENNETH WILSON, known to us as Jennie V. Samuels, was in town last week. Glamorous, charming and easy talk to Jean received many courtesies in Memphis. Among those extending them were Mrs. James Byas and Mrs. Caffrey Bartholomew. Mr. Willis is Vice President and in charge of advertising for Afro America. Recently Mr. Wilson and several other men bought a three million dollar Dodge Company in Baltimore, Dr. and Mrs. Byas were invited on the Wilson's yacht early

Hamilton 'Cats On The Go-Go

Hi! All you cool cats and slick chicks, here are your swinging reporters, Mary Brown and Carolyn Broomfield, back with the latest chitter chatter from around the Mighty Wildcats' Den.

SPOTLIGHT

This week our blue and white beam shines on a very fine and well-known organization around campus. Mrs. Freida Marr is the club's advisor. Its officers are: President, Geraldine Thomas; Vice President, Malissa Armmer; Secretary, Joyce King; Asst. Sec. Anita Young; Treasurer, Sharon Lewis; Business Manager, Debra Brown; Chaplain, Joyce Baker.

The club's purpose is to help junior and senior girls prepare for the future and develop themselves into gracious and intelligent young ladies. The very fine young ladies who make up this club are: Yvonne Satterfield, Mary Brown, Brenda Treadwell, Dianne Tennial, La Verne Williams, Linda Smith, Patricia Tate, Lois Williams, Dianne Hicks, Helen Greene, Paula Hunt, Patricia Talbert, Rhonda Alexander, Norma Jackson, Felicia Moore, Marva Johnson, Valeria Phillips, Rhonda Jones, Claudia Canada, Malissa Armmer, Debra Brown, Joyce Baker Sharon Lewis, Anita Young, Patricia Benson, Sylvia Washington, Carnelia Flowers, Kay E. Miller, Denise Lewis, Rosalind Lomax, Joyce Cowan, Veima Redmond, Queen Bates, Evonne Shipp, Gwendolyn Hughes, Maria Rice, Joyce King, and Linda Kneeland.

Well, by now I'm sure you've guessed the name of this organization from the outstanding qualities described, the club is none other than the Les Dames Charmants. Hats off to a fine club. SPORTS The Hamilton Wildcats downed the previously unbeaten whitestata Spartans, 14-7, Thursday, Oct. 10 before 600 fans at Halle Stadium. The Wildcats touchdowns were made by Tony Tate, and Donald Alexander Billy Richmond kicked the 2 extra points. To our very fine football team we say "Continue to stay on the ball." CAN YOU DIG IT? 1. we hear that W. F. has her eyes and heart on a certain Hamiltonian with the initials H. G. (is this true?) 2. K. C. do you remember the

Lakeview School Has Junior Fire Marshal Unit

John Flemming, eight grade homeroom teacher, is faculty adviser for the Junior Fire Marshals organization at Lakeview School. Purpose of the unit is to assist fire drills. An assembly program was presented Oct. 2. Liet. H. D. Taylor of the Chickasaw Garden Fire Department gave a talk concerning fire prevention. He also installed officers of the organization and presented members with pins. Miss Mary Jane Cotham, seventh grade homeroom teacher, played a piano prelude. The school chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Hines sang "Lift Ev'ry Voice and Sing" and "Let Us Break Bread Together." Patricia Geeter, seventh grader, read scripture, followed by the Lord's prayer led by Timothy Haley another seventh grader. Miss Lillie Mae Walker, principal made a short talk. Lakeview had its first fire drill Oct. 10. Junior fire marshalls at Lakeview Elementary School are Glenn Burnett, captain; Jerry Drane, Hugh Allen, Henry Fortner, Char-

this fall. In Memphis Mrs. Wilson visited her mother, Mrs. Betty Evans on Waldoff. MRS. HATTIE SHIELDS JOHNSON is back on the job at the Memphis World where she is bookkeeper after attending the funeral services of a brother, MR. GEORGE TENNANT. Mrs. Tennant was an ardent church worker serving as a deacon at Zion Hill Baptist Church for more than 20 years and a member citizen of Atlanta having lived all of this life around the Athens of the South.

Fear Tactics Will Not Fool The Voters

If anything has been the daily service of fear and delusion on the eve of an election, it is the employment of fear and delusion meant on the whole to confuse the voters.

The 11th hour "regulators" have already begun the old, old practice of frustration and otherwise deceptive agencies meant to so confuse the electorate that one would be at a loss to decide which way to cast a ballot. In fact, those whose case and candidate is of such a faulty and weak quality as to employ methods of deception and fear should be ashamed to have a candidate.

So, the voting public is warned not to be stampeded in this election. An advertisement has appeared in a local newspaper suggesting that former Vice President Richard Nixon would approve Negro children riding in the back of a bus. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Mr. Nixon has a record of fairness and justice in race relations. He has been elected twice by a big vote of a majority of Americans to the high office of Vice President.

And more important, in his 1960 race for the presidency, he received over 60 percent of the votes of the Atlanta Negro community.

During the campaign, Mr. Nixon has made major addresses outlining a program to improve the lot of our people.

He has proposed a plan to help our people in the ownership of businesses.

To accomplish the goals of restoring human dignity and self reliance, Mr. Nixon has proposed:

1. Passage of a Human Investment Act to provide tax incentives to hire and train the unskilled skills of those at the bottom of the employment ladder.
2. Establishment of a Computer Job Bank to be located in areas of high employment to bring together the job and the man.
3. Creation of a National Student Teacher Corps of high school and college students to tutor core-city children.
4. Providing Extended Training Programs in core-city schools to teach basic language and communication skills after school hours and in the summer.
5. Recruiting Viet Nam Negro veterans for teacher training.
6. Sponsorship of a National Home Ownership Foundation to increase mortgage capital in the slums to enable the poor to own their own homes.

The program gives the black man in the ghetto a piece of the action.

So when we see advertisement aimed to incite fear about Mr. Nixon, we can only conclude somebody is becoming desperate.

Do not be an obstinate and confused citizen. Get out to your public meetings and see and hear the candidates. One such meeting will be held Wednesday night at Union Baptist Church.

Don't Let The Polls Do Your Voting

During the week reports of a Gallup Poll came out and it claimed as of now a high percentage of the Negro voters expressed an intent to vote for Vice President Hubert Humphrey. It suggested 83 per cent, while only 26 per cent of the white majority favored the Democrat nominee.

It is true that an estimated 95 per cent of our people voted for President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey in 1964. Also significantly the poll reports that 60 per cent of the white voters joined with Negroes in the big vote for Johnson-Humphrey in 1964.

If this recent Gallup Poll projection of the vote in the coming election proves accurate then the Negro voters will be some what isolated out on a limb with a losing candidate.

The latest poll on the rating of Nominee Richard Nixon, Nominee Humphrey and candidate George Wallace with the voters in general puts Mr. Nixon way out in front.

Moreover, for point of information, the Atlanta Negro voters gave Mr. Nixon about 60 per cent of their votes in his 1960 contest with the popular late President John F. Kennedy.

The candidates and the issues are vastly different in 1968 than they were in 1964, and how citizens voted then can not be any indication as to how they will vote next month.

We believe our readers will watch the polls with interest but they will not be influenced much or any by them.

The two major candidates are well known and they have long public records, so the voters should be able to make an intelligent decision without any assistance from any outside source.

Watch the polls, but do not let them do your voting.

"Some in the white community are in a mood to fight back at black community. But I hope there are not enough people with hatred in their hearts to support this man," the senator said.

There are 30 million in the country classified as poor but only 7.3 million of them are on relief, he said. He also said a majority of those classified as poor are white. He said that some of the programs to help the poor are good, but he added "the private sector of the economy must learn we cannot survive half capitalist and half-socialist."

The challenges is to train people to fill needed skilled jobs, he said, because this will help give the more self respect and self reliance. Relief tends to destroy initiative and self respect, he said.

Referring to the election again, Senator Brooke said in the weeks ahead we have a great and momentous decision to make and no one should shrink his responsibility."

Encouraging his audience to be optimistic about the future, he cited his election in a state where our people make up a very small percent of the population. However the senator said with all of our progress the problems of race against race."

But Senator Brooke said: "In Christ there is no east; there is no west; there is no black; there is not white." This nation has become great because of its diversity, he said. And the people must make this one nation and indivisible, he declared.

Co-pastor A. D. King, extended the invitation in the service. Rev. M. L. King, Sr., made remarks at the end of the service.

Other participants in the program included the call to worship by Alphonso Jones; Invocation by Arthur Henderson; Responsive reading by Roy E. Dobbs; the morning prayer by Robert McLeone; recognition of visitors by Wendell R. Buggs; and introduction of the speaker by Howard King.

A special motorcade escort brought Senator Brooke from and back to the airport.

MY WEEKLY SERMON
 by
REV. BLAIR I. HUNT,
 PASTOR,
 MISSISSIPPI RIVER CHRISTIAN CHURCH
 MEMPHIS, TENN.

"PRAYING FOR CHRISTIANS"

TEXT: "Praying always for you, since we heard of your faith in Jesus Christ. — Col. 1:3.

We should pray for all classes and conditions of men. Pray for the heathen that they may be evangelized; for the wicked and criminal that they may turn from their wicked way; for the unworried that they may accept Christ as their Savior; for the sick that they may have the healing grace of God; for the sorrowing that they may be comforted; for the old that they may have a sense of God's presence; for children that they may become true children of God; for ourselves that we may be unresisting instruments in God's hands.

But, in out text, it occurred to the apostle, inspired by the Holy Spirit, that he ought to pray for Christian people. So Paul tells the Christians at Colossae that he has been praying for them every since he heard of their faith in Christ and their love for all saints.

It may seem to some that we do not need to pray for Christians. The yare saved. Why pray for them? But Paul thought differently. Paul has them on his prayer list. He prays for them. Do you?

It is not enough that souls be converted. It is not enough that names are added to the church roll. For example, it is not enough that a babe should be born. At birth the babe is a helpless and dependent little bundle of human flesh. The babe must be nursed and nursed for weeks, for months, for years. So with the child of God, he is just a little child in Christ, drinking milk. Pray for him.

Reverals are joyful times. We see loved ones we have prayed for converted and added to the church. It seems our prayers have been answered. But somehow or another we take them off our prayer list. We cease to pray for them. We have a long list of back-sliders, inactive church members. It strikes me we may make a list of inactive members, place this list on a bulletin board in the church's vestibule and ask all good church members to put them on their prayer list.

Christians need your prayers. Your pastor, your choir need your prayers. Christians sometime become discouraged. Their lamp of faith flickers. They wonder, "do other Christians care for my soul ... is anybody praying for me?"

We read, "the effectual, fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." We need to know and feel and practice this man. There is a divine mental telepathy. When we know somebody is praying for us, it warms our souls and strengthens our spiritual-moral fibre.

Let our fellow Christians know we are praying for them, and in some strange, psychological, magical, miraculous method they become instruments in the hand of God, helping to answer our prayers.

One of the grandest intercessory prayers ever prayed, yes, the grandest was prayed, by Jesus as recorded in the 17th chapter of the Gospel of St. John. Christ's days in flesh were nearing an end. The shadow of the cross darkened his pathway. He knew the cruel tangs of sin would soon snatch his body away from his beloved disciples. He would be railroaded to the cross as public enemy No. one.

He knew his disciples would be bewildered, lonely, and alone; hounded and hunted like helpless victims before the hungry hounds of hell, so, in anguish he cries to his heavenly father, his only father, praying for his disciples, for you and for me.

Against Jesus says, "I am praying the father that he will send you another comforter, That He may abide with you forever."

Christ prayed for us Christians that we may not be left comfortless. Let us, too, like Christ, like Paul, pray for Christians.

U. S. Scores Stunning Sweep Of Three Olympic Gold Medals

BY JOHN G. GRIFFIN
UPI Executive Sport Editor

MEXICO CITY — UPI — The United States scored a stunning sweep of three relay gold medals and another in the high jump at the Olympic Games Sunday, all with World or Olympic records, but for young Jim Ryn there was just a silver medal and disappointment.

On a brilliant day before 80,000 fans in the University of Mexico Stadium, the American track and field forces completed their Olympic work with a total of 15 gold medals — surpassing the total of 14 won at the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

Four times the Star Spangled Banner floated to the peak of the Olympic flagstaff — for triumph in the men's 400 meter relay, the men's 1600 meter relay, with a World record for each of these, and for a crowd pleasing Olympic record victory by Dick Fosbury of Medford, Ore., in the high jump with his unique backward "Fosbury Flip."

RYN LOSES

This gave the United States a total of 12 gold medals in men's track and field and three in women's events. At Tokyo, the United States won 12 times and the women twice.

But Ryn, who had been the "glamor" athlete in most of the world's Olympic speculation, went down to defeat in the finals of the 1500 meter run when his brilliant finished kick was not enough to wipe out a 30 meter lead by his arch rival, Kipchoge Keino of Kenya.

In addition to Keino, who set an Olympic record of 3:34.9 in his triumph, the only non-American winners on the closing day of track and field were Margitta Gungel of East Germany in the women's shot put with a World record of 64 feet, four inches and Mammo Wolde of Ethiopia in the traditional Olympic marathon, in two hours, 20 minutes and 28.4 seconds.

U. S. TRIUMPHS

These were the United States victories on a cool but sunny day under a sure skies: The men's 400 meter relay — Charlie Greene of Seattle, Wash., Mel Pender of San Pedro, Calif., Ronnie Smith of San Jose, Calif., and Jimmy Hines of Oakland, Calif., in a World record 28.2 seconds. The women's 400-meter relay team of Barbara Ferrell of Los Angeles, Mildred Elder of Rosedale, Miss., Margaret Bailes of Portland, Ore., and Wyomia Tyus of Griffin, Ga.

In 42.3 seconds, another World record.

The men's 1600-meter relay team of Vincent Matthews of Queens Village, N. Y., Ron Freeman of Elizabeth, N. Y., Larry James of White Plains, N. Y., and Lee Evans of San Jose, Calif., in the World record time of 2:56.1.

Fosbury, who clearly was the crowd favorite as he took the high jump with a leap of 7 feet 4 1/2 inches for an Olympic record. Fosbury delighted the crowd with the style that is his alone. The lanky Fosbury runs pell-mell to the bar and then jumps over backwards, landing on the back of his neck every time.

1500 DISAPPOINTS

But the 1500 meters was the "big one that got away" for the United States. Ryn, 21, of Wichita, Kan., is the World record holder for this distance and for months Americans have rated him their No. 1 Olympic gold medal hope. But on this day and in this place, he was

Lack Of Faith In Black Capability Is Ghetto Block

In a major speech prepared for delivery before his Seattle chapter today, Berkeley G. Burrell, president of the National Business League, charged that the National Administration is without commitment to aid black leadership in the economic development of the ghetto.

He called upon presidential candidates of both major parties to declare their commitment to this cause. Howard Samuels, administrator of SBA, who is doing a great job, cannot be expected to be the sole source with his agency's limited resources.

In a ringing speech, Burrell said that with the help of Federal mortgage money, whites are fleeing to the "Ranches of Suburbia," and leaving the dilapidated inner cities to blacks.

He said, "I am angered and frustrated that even in the Black demographic trap the Black urban 'Kraal' called ghetto, in which I live, I have neither the means nor the authority to develop economically, and no one will believe that I could, even if our sixty-eight year old organization were given the wherewithal." The Economic Development Administration is providing limited technical assistance funds to strengthen black business practices but with only a token commitment from the administration. Burrell said that America, the only second best to Keino, a man who had tasted defeat twice before in these games in the 5000 and 10,000 meter runs. Keino, after following an early pace by teammate Benjamin Jipcho, jumped into the lead with 2 leaps to go and built up a huge lead.

All this time, Ryn was far back, following his strategy of relying on a last lap sprint. The strategy proved fatal to his gold medal chance. When he finally poured on the coal in a 55.2 last lap, he had too far to go to catch Keino.

Ryn over took budo tumbler of East Germany, who had been second going into the last turn and there was a bit of bumping between them at this point but it did not matter, the race was lost anyway.

Ryn gave it all he had but 75 yards from home he looked behind at tumbler — a sign that at that moment his Olympic gold medal dream had ended, and all that was left for him was to protect the silver medal.

world's showcase for economic development, had failed to solve the economic development problem of its largest minority. He said that "despite lip service about total integration, the fact remains that past, present, and future efforts to attain this goal have not been, and are not promising for this century."

Burrell said that in racist America there are two separate and unequal societies and that Black people in a concept of self-determination must make the best of a bad situation.

He said that when America is ready to pursue higher goals of social behavior, that responsible Black people would still be around, but in the meantime they must move for Black equality with or without racial integration.

Burrell outlined seven steps that he considered necessary for Black equality. These steps are: (1) Assailing Black manhood, which carries with it the demonstration of Black responsibility in America is to respect us as men, then we must act like men, not juvenile delinquents.

(2) Being responsible for running his own affairs.

(3) Sharing equitably in the financial, commercial and industrial establishment of this nation.

(4) Work to overcome the economic imbalance of the ghetto.

(5) Acquire control over ghetto land.

(6) Develop capital, and

(7) Develop competitive skills.

In closing, Burrell called upon local white businesses and financial entities to demonstrate their interest and confidence in Black people by making substantial investments in Black businesses. Such assistance will be of great value in the Black ghetto development effort. Howard Samuels of SBA is in the forefront of this crusade, he concluded.

Bradford Latest Book Is "Oakland's Not For Burning"

In 1968, Amory Bradford was asked by the U. S. Department of Commerce to head a project of its Economic Development Administration in the ghetto area of Oakland, Calif.

In this capacity, Bradford coordinated the $23,000,000 pilot program to provide jobs and training for the hard-core unemployed. Through this project, the Federal Government took a major step forward in its ability to deal with the problems of the inner city.

Bradford, a graduate of Yale began his career in New York as a lawyer in 1937 and ten years later joined The New York Times management. He was vice president and general manager in 1953 when he resigned.

In 1963 and 1964 he served as consultant to the Ford Foundation on a NATO program in Greece and Turkey, an urban planning program in Athens, and training projects of the International Labor Organization in Switzerland and Italy. During 1964 he also served with the management of Scripps Howard Newspapers. He has been resident and member of the Executive Committee of New York City's Regional Plan Association, and consultant to the RPA on a variety of urban programs.

In July 1968, Mr. Bradford was appointed consultant to the Greater Jamaica Development Corporation to establish a multipurpose urban center in Jamaica, Queens, New York.

Bradford divides his time between New York and California.

Lindsay Gets Boos And Catcalls At New York Center

NEW YORK — The American Jewish Congress today voiced "shock and dismay" at the harassment of Mayor Lindsay recently at a meeting in the East Midwood Jewish Center in Brooklyn.

Rabbi Arthur J. Lelyveld, president of the American Jewish Congress, said that such demonstrations "serve only to inflame passions and incite violence in an area which requires not hot tempers but cool reason, not bad faith but good will."

"A decent respect to the opinion of mankind and to those with whom we may differ is basic not only in the tradition of the American people but also in the history of the Jewish people," Rabbi Lelyveld declared.

"Violence in speech and rudeness in action are antithetical to everything we Jews have stood for over the centuries."

"We of the American Jewish Congress are chagrined that a synagogue should have been the

NAACP Freedom Sunday Set For Virginia

NEW YORK — A resolution endorsing the stand of the New York City NAACP branches in support of decentralization of the New York City schools was adopted by the NAACP Board of Directors at its meeting here this week. The motion specifically mentioned the "interim decentralization plans for 1968-69 (as) adopted by the New York Central Board of Education."

In a reference to long-range decentralization, the Board, which met on October 14, stated that it had the "expectation" that such plans "will provide for the election of local governing bodies representative of parents and the community."

A special reference to Ocean Hill-Brownsville gave NAACP support to that local governing board "as an experimental project." But the NAACP motion cautioned that "in no way should this (decentralization) plan or any other plan be employed to perpetuate segregation of the resegregation of schools."

The 1968-69 decentralization plans specifically provide that local school boards must give all teachers the same rights they now have under the law," the motion said. "We fully expect to support those rights at the same time that we insist upon teacher-administrative accountability for pupil performance and achievement."

CHICAGO — Americans spent more than $5 billion last year on every kind of grooming aid from bobby pins to the unimaginable notion of "blush makeup."

The cosmetics industry is a booming one. According to Drug Trade News, men spent $745 million in 1967 for shaving products, and that is a gain of $45 million for pressed cake powder, and $217 million on assorted lipsticks.

The sale of cosmetics, which includes such items as cleaning creams, powder puffs, eye makeup and face lotions, totaled $330 million in 1967 and $783 million in 1968. Other 1967 figures for beautifying aids were: oral hygiene, $638 million; hair products, $1.3 billion; hand products (creams, polish, etc.), $185 million, and other toiletries (perfumes, bath salts, deodorants), $1.7 billion.

But, despite infrequent reactions Cosmetics Act was passed to provide for seizure of dangerous cosmetics and legal action against the maker.

But, while drugs require New Drug Application approval by the FDA, and food additives must conform to regulations controlling use, cosmetics are not covered by similar premarketing provisions.

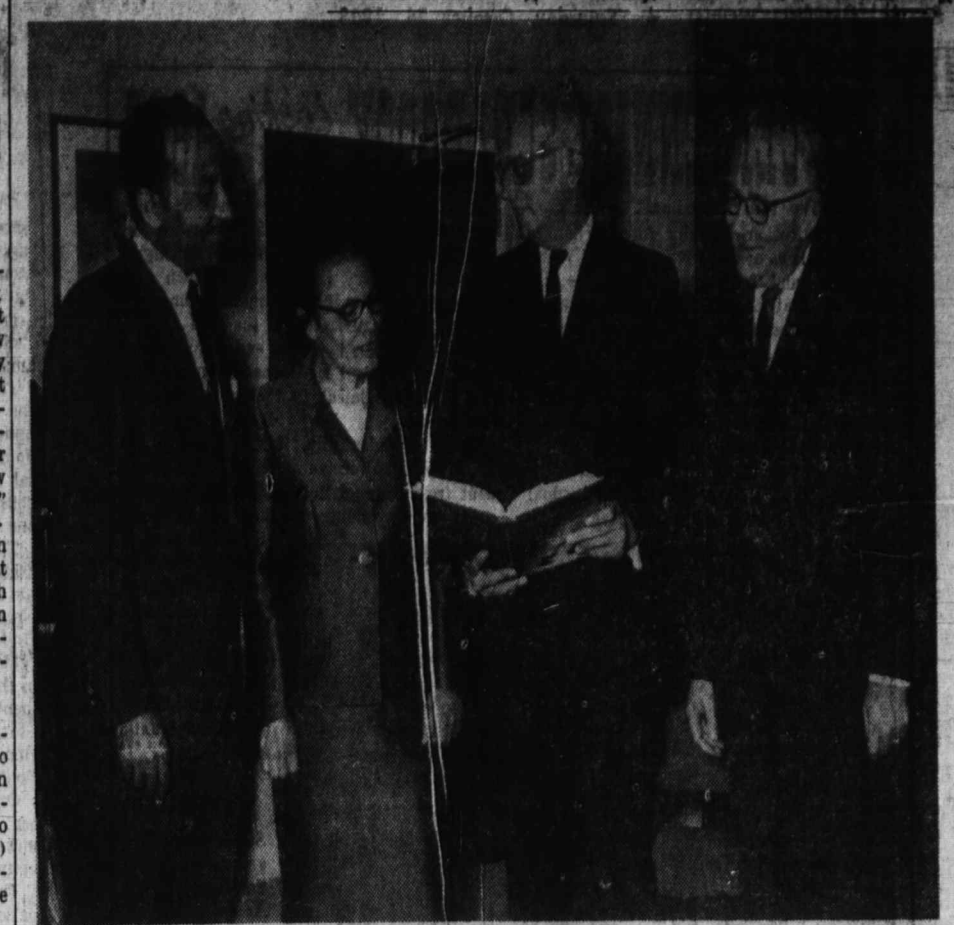

Anybody can market a cosmetic at any time, without submitting it to any authority for testing and evaluation.

And many hard questions about safety may be asked at the Conference on Evaluation of Safety of Cosmetics, which is sponsored by the American Medical Association and the Society of Toxicology. The meeting will be held October 27-29 at the Marriott Twin Bridges Motor Hotel Arlington, Virginia.

One of the key speakers will be scene of such an exhibition, and that members of the Jewish community should have treated a distinguished public official with such indignities.

"The difficult and complex problems of school decentralization, community control and teachers' rights cannot be solved by the kind of behavior that took place last night. To the Mayor and to Rabbi Harry Halpern of the East Midwood Jewish Center, we express our assurances of concern and our shock and dismay at the manner in which they were treated."

AMA Safety Of Cosmetics Conference Focuses On $5 Million Dollar Industry

Paul Lazar, M. D., Assistant Professor of Dermatology, Northwestern University Medical School, Chicago, who will discuss some of the reactions that patients have had to cosmetics.

Dr. Lazar notes that a big prob-blem today is photosensitivity. He said the use of some toiletries, particularly certain gels, have made some women sensitive to sunlight and they develop rashes and itches, He said some consumers have become "persistent light retractors" in that they remain sensitive to sunlight, for example, even after they stop using the irritating product.

Nail hardeners and their dyes have also brought injury to some users, and these are examples of other cosmetic problems. Dr. Lazar will probe at the conference.

More stringent controls over the cosmetics industry are likely in 1969. Discussing regulatory considerations at the AMA meeting will be J. Kenneth Kirk Associate Commissioner for Compliance, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Food and Drug Administration.

Kirk said the FDA would like to spend more time studying the composition of cosmetics, and he added that "if the FDA and the industry can reach agreement on what the bill ought to be" there will be significant legislation introduced in Congress next year that may extend FDA jurisdiction over toiletry and cosmetics products. The 1966 Food and Drug Act contained no provision for cosmetics. In 1938 the Food,

Negro Lawyer To Appaer In Supreme Court

NEW YORK — A young black lawyer will go before the U. S. Supreme Court to defend the rights of a group of white supremacists. Eleanor Holmes Norton, Assistant Legal Director of the American Civil Liberties Union, will argue for the National States Rights Party, which has been barred from holding public meetings in Somerset County, Maryland.

On August 6, 1968, officers and members of the National States Rights Party held an outdoor meeting in Somerset County, at which they stated the intent of their organization was to gain political power and repeal all civil rights acts. During the meeting, blacks were consistently referred to as "niggers" and exhorted to "start taking reservation for Africa."

However, leaders of the rally cautioned their listeners against violence and stressed the purely political nature of their battle. There was no violence at the meeting and no arrests were made.

On the following day the white supremacists were enjoined from holding another meeting that evening and for the next 10 days. This was later extended to 10 months.

The ACLU will argue that the petitioners were unconstitutionally deprived of their rights of free speech under the First and Fourteenth Amendments, and that lacking proof of a clear and present danger, the injunctions were unjustified.

Mrs. Norton, who is appearing before the high court for the first time, wrote the amicus brief supporting Governor George Wallace's

Looking Back to 1868

The 14th Amendment to the Constitution actually forced changes in Section 10 of more Northern and Western States and Territories than in the late Southern States. In 1868, there were 27 States and Territories. Only eleven accepted the 14th Amendment. Only six of the remaining 16 at the beginning of the Civil War could Negroes vote. New York (under special property qualifications), Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Wisconsin.

It was not until the 24th Amendment was passed in 1951 that the individual States were required to open their polls to Negroes.

Some of the Southern States in 1868, while a number of Northern States were delaying ratification of the 14th Amendment, were already open to Negroes. In 1868, under the Northwest Ordinance, had rejected ratification of the 14th Amendment. However, it was to end distinction of color and political rights based on color in an 1870 amendment to the State constitution.

Thus, paradoxically, it was possible for U. S. Grant to receive more votes for President from Negroes in Southern States than in a corresponding number of Northern States of proportionally total population. The 14th Amendment was to be required to extend voting rights in Northern States, it was not effected until 1970.

1968 Housing Act Spurs Interest Of Business Men Over The Nation

The Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 can launch American industry into high orbit in the race to provide six million housing units for low and moderate income Americans in the next 10 years, a spokesman for the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development said recently.

Addressing a congress on technology, engineering and marketing of the National Forest Products Association in Vancouver, British Columbia, Robert F. McAuliffe, director of HUD's Office of Business Participation, told businessmen they can revolutionize the housing construction field by using the tools available in the Housing Act.

The Act, he pointed out, creates 12 new programs and expands seven others to help rebuild the cities and meet national housing goals of 36 million units in the next decade, of which 6 million will be provided with Federal assistance.

The legislation, he said, offers a number of inducements to the private sector of the economy to enter the housing field with the expectation of realizing reasonable profits.

He described as "most attractive" the National Housing Partnership between private enterprise and the Federal Government, which offers tax incentives to make the housing market more attractive to private investors.

Industrial and financial firms may now pool their housing investments through a series of limited partnership arrangements, spreading the risks over a large number of projects. By taking advantage of existing tax laws, they can offset losses over the first 30 years against other taxable income.

In the area of urban renewal, the Neighborhood Development Program allows a community to begin actual construction work on the basis of one-year planning. Neighborhood improvements can be completed while the more detailed overall planning is still underway.

Through "turnkey" and other methods, private enterprise can build and manage public housing cutting time and cost of construction.

Among programs already in existence, federally guaranteed "cash flow" debentures are now available to encourage the development of new communities by helping the private developer overcome severe financial obstacles.

Mr. McAuliffe, formerly a systems planning executive with International Business Machines Corporation, was named director of the Office of Business Participation last February.

The office serves as a focal point in securing the active cooperation of the business, financial and industrial community in meeting national housing and urban development objectives.

Meharry School Gets $30,000 From Two Foundation Grants

Thirty thousand dollars in matching funds under terms of a grant given by the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation and Phelps-Stokes Fund has been allocated to Meharry Medical College, President Lloyd C. Elam announced recently.

The Nashville Area Chapter of the Meharry Alumni Association, under the direction of Dr. A. P. Johnson, president, was instrumental in securing the grant for the college, by raising $30,000 to match the foundation funds, Elam said.

The Phelps-Stokes Fund, established in 1911, has donated most of its attention to the education of Negroes, both in Africa and the United States.

Meharry is one of 39 institutions in the Cooperative College Development Program. (CCDP) a Phelps-Stokes program. The program is financed in part by the Sloan Foundation.

Organized in 1935 with 23 member colleges, the CCDP assists its members in individual fundraising activities.

The chairman of the Sloan Foundation is Dr. Frederick S. Patterson, president of the Phelps-Stokes Fund.

An incentive to the colleges, Sloan matches contributions from their alumni, dollar for dollar, and contributions from within each college's state and locality. Dr. Patterson, former president of Tuskegee Institute, said, "The Phelps-Stokes fund is deeply grateful for the opportunity to work with predominantly Negro colleges as they strengthen their much needed resources."

This program grew out of the Earl J. McGrath study, "Predominantly Negro Colleges and Universities in Transition," which indicated the role black colleges should play as they progress toward complete integration, Patterson said. He added that this transition without financial strength from all potential sources would be an impossibility.

Members in CCDP encompasses a range of institutions, from those which have already achieved excellence to those which, given a little encouragement, show real promise of reaching it. Dr. Arnold J. Zurcher, vice-president and executive director of the Sloan Foundation, said.

Co-directors of CCDP visit and consult with the colleges about their programs of development and sponsor conferences at which the president and other officers of the colleges gather with CCDP representatives.

Despite sociological and financial handicaps, Zurcher said "many colleges have achieved a high level of excellence comparable to some of the best in the land. It is our hope that with arbitrary handicaps removed and the assistance of such programs as this, many can become strong and self-sustaining institutions, qualified to perform an education function which at this time American society requires."

Human Relation Center Opened At American International School

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. — American International College recently announced the creation of a Center for Human Relations and Community Affairs under the direction of Dr. Robert R. Carkhuff and Andrew H. Griffin, Jr.

The center, according to Dr. Carkhuff, "will provide a systematic extension of existing, new learnings from counseling psychotherapy and education to large-scale action programs."

Dr. Carkhuff, the former associate professor of psychology at the State University of New York at Buffalo, is of the opinion that there presently is no other program in this country established like the AIC Center for Human Relations and Community Affairs.

"We will have direct involvement in community programs. This will not be an abstract or purely academic program. The key will be personal participation," Dr. Carkhuff said.

"We will train trainers to conduct their own in-service training programs by providing them with necessary self skill."

From the center, located in a house at 20 Homer St. in Springfield's Model Cities area, two programs are now underway — one with Head Start and the other with the Springfield Action Commission's Concentrated Employment Program (CEP). "At least four additional programs are now on the drawing board," Dr. Carkhuff said, "each of which will train trainers to conduct their own in-service training programs."

The center will be officially opened Wednesday (Oct. 23) afternoon at 6 by Hosea L. Williams, director of voter registration and political education, Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Mr. Williams will also appear at a Wednesday evening in AIC's Bova Memorial Gym where he will be a speaker at an event sponsored by the AIC Religious Center and open to the public free of charge.

Mr. Griffin, former executive director of the Northern Education Service and well-known community organizer, will be the associate director of the AIC Center for Human Relations and Community Affairs. Mr. Griffin, a 1962 graduate of AIC, is an assistant professor at his alma mater and was a teacher in the Springfield School System.

Dr. James L. Goddard, former commissioner of Federal Food and Drug Administration and former chief of the National Communicable Disease Center has been named chairman of the medical advisory committee of the National Foundation March of Dimes, Fulton-DeKalb-Clayton chapter.

Fred B. Moore, chairman of the executive of the health agency's local chapter, made the announcement.

The crouching former FDA chief recently returned to Atlanta as Vice president of health sciences division of EDP Technology Inc., a Washington-based computer applications company.

Dr. Goddard said he is taking the March of Dimes post because of the increase each year in birth defects in the U. S., a tragic increase and the March of Dimes is attacking this medical problem.

Final Legal Assault On Racial Discrimination To Be Discussed

NEW YORK — A three-day Legal Conference commemorating the Centennial Anniversary of the Fourteenth Amendment, will be held November 20-22nd at the Warwick Hotel in New York City, it was announced recently by Robert L. Carter, General Counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

The goal of the Conference is to establish for the NAACP a practical five-to-ten year program for the final legal assault on racial discrimination in America.

The six sessions of the Conference will focus on new techniques to eradicate segregation and discrimination in American life. To this end, the Conference calls to the legal scholars and practicing attorneys to present papers and offer commentaries on the legal and legislative strategies for the end of racial discrimination in housing, employment, education, federal aid and state action.

Judge J. Skelly Wright, Court of Appeals, District of Columbia Circuit, will be the principal speaker at the reception and dinner meeting, Thursday, November 21.

Among the participants who will address the Conference, set as moderators, or deliver commentaries will be: Roy Wilkins, Executive Director, NAACP; Robert L. Carter, General Counsel, NAACP; Lloyd N. Cutler, Executive Director, President's Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence; Professor Louis Jaffe of Harvard Law School; Professor Charles Black of Yale Law School; C. Clyde Ferguson, Dean of Howard University Law School; Burke Marshall and Louis F. Oberdorfer, former U. S. Assistant Atty. General; Charles Waugh, President of the National Bar Association; Franklin H. Williams, former U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations; Derrick Bell, Director of the Western Center on Law and Poverty; Richard B. Sobol of the Lawyers' Constitutional Defense Committee in New Orleans.

These qualities brought her a Coty award some years ago, and have made her name a symbol of the sumptuous in fashion.

For fall 1968 her silhouettes have been even younger, crisper or more graceful movement. Her choice of materials suggests a secret source.

Her exacting demands in workmanship realizes the nearest thing to true custom dressmaking possible in ready-to-wear.

Most of the fabrics and all of the embroideries plus the new braid and passementerie engravures are made for Sam Winston in Europe, chiefly from Roxane's own designs.

The Spanish-inspired trimmings are made by hand in Spain as they have made since the days of Goya.

This collection is "young enough for juniors — if they could afford them" — says Roxane. Have Job, Will Travel, Is Ford's New Hiring Kick

That could be the slogan of two red, white and blue mobile employment vans now becoming a familiar sight in Detroit and surrounding communities.

Used by Ford Motor Company's Wixom Assembly Plant, the compact Econoline vans are rolling recruiting stations designed to help hire new employees needed weekly during new model launching periods.

The vans have been touring the area — Detroit, Livonia, Inkster, Pontiac, Howell, Brighton, Milford and other communities — five days a week since August and will continue to do so through December. With local police cooperation, two employees manning each mobile office set up mini-recruitment centers in the heart of a city or in busy shopping centers.

Current Wixom job openings include product assemblers, spot welders, paint sprayers and metal finishers.

The plant has immediate openings. In fact, one goal of the unusual mobile van program is to sign up new recruits and have them on the job within 24 hours. Plant employment personnel help new hires find other employees with whom they can share rides to and from the huge assembly plant, largest in Ford system in North America.

The "Wixom Mobile Employment Office" program is rated a success by officials at the plant.

"Sometimes we get as many as 50 applicants at each location," says Joe Tighe, industrial relations manager. "All we ask is that they fill out applications, pass physical examinations at the plant and start to work. There is no written test. These people want to work, and they make good employees."

Janitorial Custodial At Community School

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Janitorial and custodial management training is being offered to any young man who is not in school, announced A. W. Watson, director of the Sammie Coan Community School.

The young man must be between 16 and 21 years of age. After they have successfully completed the course they will be placed in jobs in various areas, said Watson.

The course will be taught by certified supervisors at Coan School. It will be the first course of its kind to be taught in Atlanta. It will be taught under Adult Distributive Education.

MARION JACKSON Views Sports Of The World

THE OLYMPIC LIGHT THAT FAILED

THE National Football League team since World War II has won as many as 14 regular league games and the record is 17, established by the Chicago Bears in 1934. Regardless, the Los Angeles Rams, now 6-0-0 for the 1968 campaign will go against the Baltimore Colts (5-1-0) Sunday looking to extend a two-year streak to 14 games. . . . James Hines, a native of Oakland, Calif., has inherited former Florida A & M star and now a Dallas Cowboys flanker's title as the world's fastest human. Game of the Week: Tennessee State vs. Florida A&M at Tallahassee, Florida.

James Hines who was coached by Stan Wright at Texas Southern University became the world's fastest human when he raced to a 9.9 (a national record) in the 100 meter at the XIX Olympiad in Mexico City.

Hines in conquest turned back one of the most celebrated fields in Olympic history in posting his victory, as he hit the tape ahead of former Miller of Jamaica and the University of Southern California and teammate Charlie Greene of Seattle Washington. Mel Pender of Atlanta, Ga., the third best in the field wound up sixth while Bob Greene and Miller were caught in 10 flat.

The last mark in the 100 meter is 10 flat seconds, which Hines shares with six others, but last June at Sacramento, Hines, Greene and Ronnie Ray Smith were all clocked at 9.9 a timing that is still awaiting certification.

Robert Hayes was Great as has been universally acknowledged but the description of the 100 meter event in Mexico City shows that his successor has all the credentials to wear the world's fastest human crown with dignity and honor.

Here's The Description of the race: Hines won the race with a terrific burst of speed in the last 25 meters.

GREENE LEADS — The eight finalists broke from the blocks as one man and you wouldn't pick a leader until about 10 meters when Greene, running in the inside, seemed just a shade ahead. That's when Hines turned on his power and surged to victory as Miller running in the lane between Greene and Hines drove in to second place.

It seems almost fore ordained that Hines would have a 9.9 in the final since he started off the 100 competition with a 10.2 and reduced it to a tenth of a second in successive heats. He had predicted before the start of the Games that it might take a 9.9 to win the final and he provided a prophet on the biggest day of his life.

THE SPORTS BEAT — The Los Angeles Rams will be trying to make it 14 regular season victories in a row in their National Football League showdown against the Baltimore Colts Sunday.

The Colts haven't beaten the Rams in three tries since rolling up a six game skin over the L. A. team from 1963 into 1968. Since that time the Rams have sandwiched 2-1 and 3-0 victories around the October 24-25 tie. . . . In 1968, the Rams have had a 10-3 edge.

Quick Now, who was the founder of the modern Olympic Games? You're right if you answered Baron Pierre de Coubertin in 1896 in Athens, Greece. The second international games were held in Paris France in 1900.

Modern Olympics are staged in settings of unparalleled magnificence and on a grander scale which produces "unbelievable records and laurels" than was ever anticipated by Baron DeCoubertin.

The Baron was big on the brotherhood of man and deeply believed the games should serve as the perfect vehicle and setting for one to know and understand the manifold problems of the other.

He felt so strongly about the Olympics that he is quoted as saying, "I would gather in radiant sunbeams of light all the principles that normally contribute to the betterment of man."

An observer at the Mexico Olympic note: De Coubertin is no longer around. He died some time ago so he was not at these Olympics. If he was they would possibly send him home. Possibly would make him sick because he could look everywhere around him and never see any sign of that Olympian brotherhood which meant so much to him.

FOR THE RECORD — Milton Richman of United Press International writes that the John Carlos-Tommie Smith episode has already divided foreign factions in their opinions as well as groups in the United States.

JAP SUPPORT FOR US — The head of the Japanese delegation said he wouldn't hesitate a second to denounce any of his athletes who did what the two Americans did.

A high Soviet official one the other hand saw nothing wrong in the actions of Carlos and Smith.

One British visitor here blames the whole thing on the U.S. Olympic Committee which voted to suspend Carlos and Smith.

"The finest athletes in the world are patience and understanding," said the visitor from Britain. "The U.S. Olympic Committee exhibited neither."

Remarkably, one member of the USOC blames himself and his entire group for what happened. . . . "What we should have done beforehand" he says "was lay down a basic code of conduct for all of our athletes, white and black. We should have told them they are representing their country before all the other countries of the world and they will be constantly on display."

We should have told them they were to wear their uniforms with pride at all times; they were not to run around, at night not to drink or no to do anything that would bring discredit on the U.S.

Washington Over Howard High, 12-0 — ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — The Bulldogs of Washington High handed their old rivals the Howard High Rams their sixth straight loss of the year, 12-0 at Cheney Stadium.

Washington now sports a 2-1-0 record and Howard is winless with a 0-6-0 record.

The Bulldogs scored all of their points in the second period on a 1-yard run by Leonard Roberts and a 12-yard pass to Roland Cleveland tossed by Melvin Bates.

Howard takes on Harper Saturday night at Herndon Stadium, and Washington tackles North Fulton Saturday evening at Grady Stadium.

SCORING — Washington (12-0) — Bates (12-yard pass from Bates). PAT — Bates (12-yard pass from Bates).

Southwest Boots Murphy High, 3-0 — ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — In a pure game of hard defense, Southwest High came out on top with a 3-0 win over powerful Murphy High Saturday at Cheney Stadium.

Southwest took a 3-0 lead in the first period on a 14-yard field goal punted by Chris Scruggs and held on through three more tough quarters of hard hitting.

Murphy goes to war against George Saturday evening at Cheney and Southwest encounters Sylvan Saturday night at Cheney.

SCORING — Southwest (3-0) — Scruggs (14-yard field goal).

Lithonia Bombs R. L. Cousins, 42-0

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Paced by Willie Smith and Bobby Collins, Lithonia High bombarded R. L. Cousins at Conley, 42-0.

Smith and Collins both scored two touchdowns each as the Bulldogs built up a 21-0 lead at the end of the first period. Collins also tossed two TD passes.

SCORING — LITHONIA — Smith (11-yard run), Smith (25-yard run), Kelly (11-yard run), Cheesing (14-yard pass from Collins), Rainey (13-yard pass from Stanton), L'Flore (45-yard pass from Collins), Safety — Dickinson. PATS — Conley (3 kicks).

Other matches will pit Big Dromo against Great Hercules. The Outlaw pitted against Old Shikana and Billy Carvel meeting Peppi Gomez.

Turner Shaves Douglas, 20-19

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Lithonia High pulled an upset Saturday night but fell short of the goal, yielding to Turner High, 20-19 at Herndon Stadium.

With less than a minute left to play, Douglas scored on a 7-yard run by halfback Charlie Canady and missed the point after, throwing out a tie.

Douglas, the city's newest high school, was on top at halftime 13-7 and several touchdowns were called back as the Astros suffered their fourth defeat of the season against one victory.

Turner, the only undefeated team in region 6-AAA, scored two touchdowns in the second half, and held off a strong offensive drive by Douglas. The Wolves are sporting a 5-0-1 record and 1-0-0 regional.

Douglas battles Douglas Saturday at Grady Stadium and Turner takes on Archer Friday night at Grady.

SCORING — TURNER — Stephens (28-yard run), Robinson (11-yard run), Robinson (2-yard run). PATS — Stephens (run), Robinson (run).

DOUGLAS — Canady (10-yard run), Petty (31-yard pass from Ross), Canady (7-yard run). PAT — Canady (run).

George Blanks Bass, 10 To 0

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — George High recorded its first regional victory of the year by blanking Bass, 10-0 at Grady Stadium.

Scoring three points in the second period via field goal the Falcons added a touchdown late in the fourth period on a 16-yard pass interception by Terry Causey.

George battles Murphy Saturday evening at Cheney Stadium and Bass plays Roosevelt at Grady Stadium Saturday afternoon.

SCORING — GEORGE — Causey (16-yard pass interception), Lavender (22-yard field goal). PAT — Lavender (kick).

Eva Thomas Rips Hamilton, 26-12

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Eva Thomas High Beards added another victory to their winning slate after ripping Hamilton High Hornets at College Park, 26-12.

The Beards are now 2-2-1 and the victory over the Hornets was regional.

Quarterback Gary Greer paced Eva Thomas scoring attack, tossing two touchdowns passes on yardage that covered 110 yards.

Eva Thomas plays Roswell Friday night in Roswell and Hamilton battles R. L. Cousins Friday night at DeKalb Memorial stadium.

SCORING — EVA THOMAS — Rainey (80-yard pass from Greer), Broomhead (10-yard run), Sloan (11-yard run, Smith (80-yard pass from Greer).

SCORING — SOUTHWEST — Scruggs (14-yard field goal).

Nat'l Football League Reorganization Underway

NEW YORK — Plans to move the American and National Football League offices effective October 21 and to complete the two year administrative reorganization of professional football were announced recently by Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Under the reorganization, the overall structure of the Commission's staff will consist of five departments.

Working directly with the Commissioner will be Jim Kneiss, Executive Director. Kneiss has been Director of Public Relations for the NFL since 1961. His new duties will include coordination of the activities of the five departments handling the dual functions of the two leagues.

The departments, and the personnel in charge of each, and their titles, are:

Financial, Bill Ray, Treasurer; Personnel, Mark Duncan, Director of Personnel; Promotion, Bob Cochran, Broadcast Coordinator; Public Relations, Don Weiss, Director of Public Relations; Security, Bill Hundley, Director of Security.

Both the offices of American Football League President Milt Woodward and AFL Public Relations Director Harold Rosenthal, and NFL President Art Modell and NFL Public Relations Director Jim Hoffer will be located on the 12th floor at 410 Park Avenue. Commissioner Rozelle's office will be on the 13th floor.

Ray Cochran and Hundley were previously appointed to the Commissioner's staff subsequent to the June 8, 1966 merger agreement between the AFL and NFL.

Duncan served as NFL Supervisor of Officials from June, 1964 until April, 1966, when he was succeeded by Art McNally. Weiss was NFL Director of Information from October 1965 until July, 1967, when he was succeeded by Hoffer.

Ray, appointed in December, 1967 will be responsible for administration of the NFL.

Fulton Rally Over Grady High, 12-5

A late touchdown by Gary Jenkins on a 5-yard run, clinched the Fulton High Bulldogs a 12-5 victory over Grady. High Grey nights at Grady Stadium.

The Grey Knights were leading 5-0 after Don Perry's 76-yard scoring run in the first period. Fulton bounced back and tied the game in the early minutes of the third period on a 14-yard run by Greg Brighman.

Fulton encounters East Atlanta Friday evening at Cheney Stadium and Grady battles O'Keefe Thursday night at Grady Stadium.

SCORING — FULTON — Brighman (14-yard run), Jenkins (5 yard run). GRADY — Perry (76-yard run).

Court Favors IMC, Motown In Contracts Case Of David Ruffin

DETROIT, Mich. — In a crystal clear ruling Monday by Wayne County Judge Joseph Moynihan Jr., International Management Company was found to be the truly valid personal manager of David Ruffin, formerly of the Temptations.

The court further found that Motown Record Corporation's contracts with Ruffin were also valid and enforceable.

Judge Moynihan stated that Ruffin in fact was in breach of his contracts, not IMC or Motown. The Judge therefore enjoined the singer from further violation of his contracts. This means that he cannot contract for his services with anyone else, and that any agreements previously reached without IMC's approval are invalid.

Judge Moynihan cited IMC's personal management contract as being fair and equitable, pointing out that Ruffin earned less than $6,000 a year when he first came under the guidance of IMC, until he earned more than that per week.

In commenting on the decision, Ewart Abner, vice president of IMC, said he was extremely gratified by the unequivocal nature of the judge's ruling.

"We feel the court ruling will enable a fine artist like Dave to now take care of business and shift his career into high gear," Abner said.

He added that IMC would not interfere with Ruffin's current engagement at the Apollo Theatre in New York and plans for recording and personal appearances would be announced in the near future.

"This was just a case of a highly sensitive and talented performer being subjected to outside pressures and influences that perhaps were not to his own best interest," Abner concluded.

The case against Associated Booking Corporation and C. B. Atkins, a personal manager, for conspiring to induce Ruffin to break his contracts with IMC and Motown will be heard shortly.

Biography Of Langston Hughes, "Black Is Beautiful"

Langston Hughes, widely held to be the poet laureate of black people, is the subject of a biography to be published by Thomas Y. Crowell Company on October 14.

The biography is by Milton Meltzer, who was a close friend of and collaborator with Mr. Hughes. He was working on the biography at the time of the poet's death in 1967.

The biography, which is primarily geared to young readers, gives a full account of Hughes' colorful life. It traces his youthful travels from Kansas to Mexico to Harlem to Paris to Dakar, Africa.

In the thirties, Hughes visited Spain during the civil war and made a film making expedition to Russia. He also journeyed all the way around the world, everywhere gaining a following as a poet for all people.

Langston Hughes' poems radiate the idea that "black is beautiful." They capture the rhythms of jazz and are concerned with pride and freedom. Meltzer's biography includes a selection of Hughes' most loved poetry.

Beside writing eleven volumes of verse, Hughes branched out to write short stories, novels, plays and books for children. He is widely known for his "Simple" stories, originally published in the Chicago Defender.

He also compiled several collections of Negro lore including A Pictorial History of the Negro in America and Black Magic, dealing with the Negro in entertainment. On both books he collaborated with Milton Meltzer.

Mr. Meltzer, in addition to editing anthologies, has written biographies of such nineteenth-century anti-slavery figures as Theodore Stevens, Samuel Gridley Howe, and Lydia Mari Child. He has also compiled the award-winning In Their Own Words, a three-volume documentary history of the American Negro also published by Thomas Y. Crowell Company.

Warren Questions Federal Wiretapping

By ISABELLE McCAIG HALL

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chief Justice Earl Warren questioned Monday whether the government has misrepresented the extent of its wiretapping and whether the Supreme Court shouldn't crack down harder on federal eavesdropping practices.

Warren raised the point as the court finished three hours of oral arguments on the issue of how material obtained through electronic and other wiretap devices should be handled by federal judges.

Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold argued for the government that the judges should be allowed to screen all such data before turning any of the transcripts over to defense attorneys. He said this would safeguard national security by protecting espionage practices as well as third parties who might be mentioned in "bugged" conversations.

Warren raised the point as the court finished three hours of oral arguments on the issue of how material obtained through electronic and other wiretap devices should be handled by federal judges.

Attorneys arguing appeals in cases involving a Las Vegas, Nev., gambler and two defendants in a Soviet spy case contended that unrestricted disclosure of the transcripts to the defense should be made mandatory.

When Griswold finished his argument, Warren commented: "We've read in the past how the government has disavowed any bugging or wiretapping except in 20 or 30 national security cases and now we find out that there's been bugging in all types of cases."

He cited cases where eavesdropping led to prosecution of $200 gambling cases and minor income tax violations.

"Shouldn't we require the government to disclose all such data to the defense?"

The ruling was argued by Federal Judge Homer Thornberry of Texas, a friend of Johnson's whom he nominated to the Supreme Court. The Senate refused to confirm the appointment, along with that of Justice Abe Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Ex-Champ Jose Torres Isn't Sure He Will Ever Fight Again

By MARION E. JACKSON Sports Staff Atlanta Daily World ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Former lightweight champion Jose Torres doesn't know whether he will hang up the gloves or not!

Torres in Atlanta accompanied world-famous artist Le Roy Neuman insists there is some deciding to do.

"I thought I had beaten Dick Tiger and I think public opinion backed me up. You know the riot that erupted at ringside was pretty powerful criticism of that decision."

"Regardless, I haven't made up my mind. My last fight was seven months ago in Sydney, Australia, against Bob Dunlap and that's a long layoff."

Torres who takes pride in hailing from Puerto Rico and knowing two first class players — Orlando Cepeda and Roberto Clemente — had glad tidings for art, music, sports and fair play. He was enthusiastic over artist Neuman's visit to promote volunteer art for Economic Opportunity Atlanta Inc.

"Art is an important phase of my life. Boxing has its challenge, but art is everywhere one goes. You can't escape it on signboards, in the theatre or the whole world of communications."

With a 10-year boxing career behind him, Torres still like the roar of the resin and the sound of the thud. Bating just comes naturally since he was a street fighter as a kid of some repute.

Torres last fought in Madison Square Garden in 1967. Despite the disputed decision against Dick Tiger he is not bitter. This is a compassion born of some 56 battles in which he won 43 and lost 8.

Now at 32, Torres knows it is all uphill but he was gracious in his praise of Atlanta. "You've got some mighty fine people here and the city is beautiful. You have to come from out of town to appreciate the wonderful cultural climate of this town with its Civic Center and High Museum of Art."

Articulate and intelligent, Torres plans to visit Atlanta again in the near future. He is a journalist, radio broadcaster for Spanish-speaking publication and a student of economics.

Torres rated his battle against Willie Pastrano, Chuck Holywood, Bobo Olson, Ed Costello and Tim McNeally as the most bruising of his celebrated career.

It was sort of a ball for Torres to visit the Atlanta Daily World and spar with its mechanical department employees.

Miss Fouch watched the fistcuffs but stayed neutral. The well-known model and employee of Economic Opportunity Atlanta Inc. is more at home in the glamor and fashion orbit than striking it rich in the boxing ring.

"Could you speed it up? He's thinking."

Along The Sports Trail

BY SAM BROWN

According to reports ELSTON HOWARD, one of the great catchers of baseball is retiring from the Boston Red Sox where he has served for the past two seasons. Long time an outstanding performer for the New York Yankees, Howard was rated one of the top catchers of the game. He is one of the many players the old Kansas City Monarchs of the former Negro American League sent to the major leagues.

He broke in with the Monarchs as an outfielder and played many times at the old Martin Stadium, one time home of the Memphis Red Sox which played against some of the best players the game has produced, players who made names in baseball before Jackie Robinson was signed by the former Brooklyn Dodgers General Manager Branch Rickey.

The former Kansas City Monarchs perhaps sent more players to the major leagues than any other club of the former Negro leagues. In addition to Howard and Robinson, there are Hank Thompson, Ernie Banks, Earl Baker, Wil-lard Brown and others whose names don't come to mind just now. It is rumored that Howard may again join the Yankees as a coach or some other capacity. He spent 12 years as a Yankee catcher.

Another bit of news pleasing to fans Along The Trail here concerns another player who was a favorite at the former Martin Stadium is that Satchell Paige, signed as an active player last season by the Atlanta Braves will be retained as coach. It was announced that he was signed in order that might qualify for the baseball pension. He was short of the required length of time a few months. Hats off to the Atlanta Braves management.

The St. Louis Cardinals are leaving for a baseball tour of Japan where they will play several games as a good will and friendship gesture on the part of America. The team should show the Japanese fans baseball at its best American style, despite the defeat

Bishop Ends Fast, Sees Break-Through!

Bishop P. L. Johnson, spiritual leader in the Beale-Linden slum area, has ended his fast.

He began fasting a little over two weeks ago, hoping that his effort would help bring about a settlement in the current strike of city hospital workers.

Bishop Johnson, pastor of Tabernacle Community Church located on Cynthia in the heart of the slum area, began fasting Sunday, Oct. 6. He ended the fast last Sunday, Oct. 20.

He was down to 220 pounds Sunday. His normal weight is 250 pounds.

At the beginning of his fast, Bishop Johnson said he would refuse to eat until striking hospital employees returned other jobs or until hospital services were back to normal. He said he was "for their grievances" but thought they "should go back to work and then sit down and talk to city officials."

He announced Sunday that he was ending the fast because recent developments point to "a minor break-through" in the entire situation.

Bishop Johnson ate no solids during the two-week fasting period. His only nourishment came from fruit juices.

The bishop said he ended his fasting because of recent developments, such as the reported change of policy at City Memphis Hospitals, the opening of doors to charity cases at Bowld and Crump, and plans to reopen the emergency room at John Gaston.

"Being interested and dedicated to helping the sick and suffering, I was also elated over the announcement last week that a program is underway to build 3,500 low-income housing units in Meth-phis immediately, and another 3,500 within the next 10 years," he added.

"During my fast I was strengthened by the words of Jesus as related in Mark 9:29 - 'Viewing fasting and prayer as the very foundation of human rights, I shall continue to pray in behalf of the poor'."

Lane Defeats Savannah State

JACKSON - Lane College defeated Savannah State, 14-0, here Saturday night at Rothrock Stadium.

A combination of alert defense and a sharp offense resulted in two Lane touchdowns. Alton Burton, with a lot of help from fumbling opponents, threw one touchdown pass and scored another on a short run.

The first dragon score was set up on a pass reception to Raymond Hatcher, who galloped from Lane's own 42 yard line to Savannah's 10. After paralyzing Savannah defense on a pass interference on the three, Wallace Mobley lugged over for the touchdown. The extra point attempt was missed.

The Dragons' second score was made by Curtis Broome when Alton Burton connected with him, over the goal line. Mobley ran the conversion for two points and that was the final score, 14-0. A sulky Savannah eleven never came to life.

The Dragons are 3-1 on the season now and will host Fort Valley State, Oct. 28.
