Inside Memphis

LAST MINUTE interest in the James I. Taylor-George H. Brown Jr. race for the District 5 seat in the State House is being shown by the Consolidated Political Organizations in Shelby County, composed of 10 groups, refusing to develop and it looks like a close decision will come down to give either man top billing. GOP Presidential Nominee Says Democrats Missed Their Chance For Leadership In This Race

Nixon Says Democratic President Would Continue Toward Anarchy

By EUGENE V. RISHER

SYRACUSE, N.Y. - (UPI) - Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday the Democrats had missed their chance for new leadership and settled instead for "a man of the old politics."

The election of Hubert Humphrey, he said, would mean a continuing drift "into anarchy, violence and bitterness."

The GOP presidential nominee delivered fresh charges as he pushed the final week of his campaign into the nation's seven most populous states.

He said it would be a disaster to have Humphrey as president during the next four years, a period which he said would hold "the greatest danger of World War III."

Nixon had no direct comment on Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's endorsement of Humphrey, a move that at least partially closed off Nixon's strategists consider one of the largest ruptures in the Democratic ranks.

But he obviously sought to dampen its impact.

Crowds estimated at 3,000 to 7,000 greeted him enthusiastically at rallies in Livonia and Warren and about 1,000 turned out at Southfield. The Nixon supporters shouted small but vocal groups of hecklers.

Nixon urged voters to make their decisions "not in terms of the cheap personal attacks being made on me and my running mate" but on a record of eight years of Democratic mismanagement.

"This nation can't be led in the 70s by men who stumbled and bumped their way through the 60s," he said. "You saw that raggedy bunch in Chicago."

The committee is composed of seven different sub-committees:

Planning - Mrs. F. D. Hooks, chairlady.

Library - Marie Jordan, chairlady.

Social - Mrs. Evelyn Payne, chairlady.

Screening - R.B. Hooks, Jr., chairman.

Finance - C. H. Jackson, chairman.

Publicity - Walter Moore, chairman.

Robert Hooks, Jr. is chairman of the Educational Department of Middle Baptist Church. Dr. E. Jordan and Noah W. Bond are co-chairmen of the entire committee.

Rev. B. L. Hooks is pastor.

The first effort of this committee will be a recall by Mrs. Maude W. Scott, wife of the late Rev. W. P. Scott, who was pastor of Tree of Life Baptist Church on McLemore. Mrs. Scott is presently a member of "Mt. Nebo Baptist Church. She is the choir director of her church, a position she also held at the Tree of Life Baptist Church during the pastorate of her late husband.

Sesquicentennial Winners To Ride Roses Float Jan. 1

A contest begins this week for the selection of four junior misses to ride the Memphis Sesquicentennial float in the New Year's Day Tournament of Roses parade Jan. 1.

Howard Willey, Sesquicentennial president, announced that the four girls selected would serve as attendants on the float to Miss Susan Holder, reigning Maid of Cotton.

Entrants in the Memphis Sesquicentennial Tournament of Roses parade float contest must be not younger than eight nor more than eleven years of age. Winners will receive an expense - paid trip to Pasadena, Calif. Accompanied by chaperones, the children will represent Memphis in the parade, attend the Rose Bowl game and visit tourist attractions in the area if scheduling permits.

"Residents of Memphis and Shelby County will be eligible," Mr. Willey said. "Because these four pre-teen attendants will be representing the total community before an estimated nationwide television audience of more than 100-million, we are interested in projecting the nature of the total community. A secret panel of judges has therefore been instructed to keep this in mind when selecting winners."

In keeping with the historical theme of the 1969 parade, "A Time to Remember," the theme of the Memphis entry is "Memphis Showboat." The float will be a floral recreation of a river steamer of the side-wheeler era, covered with flowers.

Mrs. Boyce died last Friday at William Bowld Hospital.

Burial was in Elmwood with T. H. Hayes and Sons in charge.

McCarthy Endorses Humphrey But May Renounce Demo Party

By PATRICK J. SLOYAN

WASHINGTON - (UPI) - Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, endorsed Hubert H. Humphrey for President Tuesday, just one week before the election, and renounced any plans to return to the Senate of to seek the presidency in 1972 as a Democrat.

Still embittered by his defeat as a peace candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in Chicago, McCarthy urged his youthful followers "likewise to vote for Humphrey but said he would not ask them again to work within the 'established political processes' of the Democratic Party."

He put his attitude toward Humphrey and the election succinctly in a paraphrase of his statement for radio and television in the Senate gallery:

"His position on Vietnam, foreign policy and the reform of draft laws falls far short of what I think they should be, but the choice is between the vice president and Richard Nixon, and I support Mr. Humphrey."

The wording of the statement issued to newsmen by his aides raised immediate questions whether McCarthy was considering formation of a splinter party to run for the Senate in 1970, when his term expires, or for the presidency four years hence.

McCarthy said in reply to a question whether he was leaving out of all future Senate and presidential races that "this still hangs."

Pressed on the question of a new political party, he merely smiled and referred to his one page statement, which said:

"In order to make it clear that this endorsement is in no way intended to rehabilitate me in the good graces of the Democratic party leaders, nor in any way to suggest my having forgotten or condoned the things that happened both before Chicago and at Chicago, I announce at this time that I will not be a candidate of my party for re-election to the Senate from the State of Minnesota in 1968. Nor will I seek the presidential nomination of the Democratic Party in 1972."

Asked to elaborate, McCarthy said: "My publisher won't let me say more."

Humphrey Pleads For Support

By STEVEN GERSTEL
CLEVELAND (UPI)—Hubert H. Humphrey, alternately attacking Richard M. Nixon and pleading for support, Monday braved the rain, wind and cold to stump Ohio for the state's critical 26 electoral votes.

From Canton to Cleveland and from courthouse to campus, Humphrey opened his last nationwide swing with a grueling day, marred to some extent by the elements which which reduced the crowds along the route of his motorcycle to almost nothing.

But the crowds in the Mahoning College auditorium in Canton and the steps of the Courthouse in Akron in the gymnasium of Adelphi King High School in Lorain and at an outdoor meeting of 300 labor leaders in Brooklyn, a Cleveland suburb responded to Humphrey's increasingly more initiative attack on Nixon. Despite the good turnout for every stop, Humphrey wound up spending a good part of the day in a car with closed windows on rain slicked highways where nobody could see him.

In his speeches Humphrey charged that Nixon was "playing politics" with national security; called him a "supermarket candidate" who offers different ideas for everyone's taste; and of "sneaking around the corner to claim he supports medicare when he actually does not."

Nixon Says Wallace's Campaign Shipping Close To 11 Per Cent

By EUGENE V. RISHER
PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon campaigned in New York and Pennsylvania Monday in an effort to head off burgeoning support for Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey. He confidently predicted his showing in the Nov. 5 election would be from 3 to 5 per cent better than the polls indicate.

The Republican presidential candidate, appearing rested after a weekend in his New York apartment, appealed to voters in a rally on the state capitol steps in Albany, N. Y., to give him a firm mandate to lead the country during the next four years.

"The will of the American people must be expressed overwhelmingly in November," Nixon told a crowd of about 8,000. "It must not come in confused or timid or halting or tri-parlity voices."

"This is trick or treat week. You heard a lot of tricks this week and the reason is they're afraid they're going to lose," he said.

SEVEN CRITICAL STATES

Nixon also met with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and New York Republican leaders on the first stop of his last week of campaigning that will take him into all seven of the states he considers critical to his election.

Then he flew to Pittsburgh for a strategy session with Pennsylvania party leaders and a night rally at civic auditorium.

Nixon "flatly predicted" he would have a showing 3 per cent better than indicated by the Gallup poll and 5 per cent better than the Harris Poll, both of which now show him leading by small margins.

He said that while Humphrey was picking up support, "we also are moving."

WALLACE SLIPPING

Third party candidate George C. Wallace was slipping, Nixon said in an informal session with newsmen aboard his campaign jet, and would now get only about 11 per cent of the vote instead of 15 per cent. Nixon discounted a survey published Monday by the New York Daily News showing him more than 4 per cent behind Humphrey in New York State. He said the News poll was "not scientific."

In a major policy statement, taped earlier and broadcast Monday night on nationwide radio, Nixon criticized the Democrats for operating a welfare system that is "demeaning, depressing and inadequate" and "does not eradicate the root causes of poverty."

"On the contrary, it causes families to break up and the flickering spark of initiative to be snuffed out," he said.

Nixon said he also opposed suggestions for guaranteed incomes for everyone "regardless of his personal circumstances" on grounds that this would encourage "teen-age retirees."

Instead he proposed a broad-ranging series of reforms which he said would "motivate the able-bodied to get off welfare without shaming the helpless about accepting welfare."

Mrs. Lawson Tells Of Trip To Sweden

Mrs. James M. Lawson was at her best Sunday Oct. 27 when she gave a travelogue of her recent trip to Sweden last summer.

A. B. OWEN'S SUDDEN PASSING SHOCKS MANY MEMPHIANS

The sudden passing of A. B. Owen (whom we all loved and admired for his lovable disposition) was a terrible shock to Memphis. I can not remember when I did not know the Owen family. Pearlina, A. B., Ora Lee and William. Through the years they have been together. They have been admired and respected as were their wonderful parents who ran a large plantation in Arkansas. Even during the depression years when a car was a real luxury, the Owen kids had large cars. . . . but were calm sweet and picked up any of the kids walking until there was no room. Fisk was the school to attend in those days. . . . but very few had the funds to go there. All of the Owens were graduates of Fisk U. . . . but one never heard it mentioned. They were loved in Nashville as they were in Memphis.

At Porter School A. B. was loved by both his faculty and student body. He really gave his life for others. He lived with and nursed both of his parents until the end came.

In the Alpha Fraternity (and Robert Lewis) gave an elegant talk about his service to Alpha Delta Lambda Chapter. . . . serving as secretary for more than 20 years. In the First Baptist Church, he was also a "First" and this was mentioned by Dr. Charles Dinkins, Acting Minister at the church. Elder Elmer T. Hunt, who gave the Eulogy, gave his beautiful life's history as no one else could in his eloquence and with wit. . . . saying that A. B. was loved by all who knew him.

A. B. was witty. . . . He was brilliant, popular, patient, but most of all he was kind and he wore all of these virtues with humility. He was my close friend because of my long time friendship with his sister, Ora Lee. Alphas never gave anything that A. B. did not call and say Jewel. I want you to know I am inviting you as a friend even though the chapter has sent you an invitation. . . . and this has gone on for over twenty years.

The high designs (and there were many many of them along with the many who passed the bar) revealed the high esteem in which he was held. The designs were so beautiful that one could not pick any single one out. . . . but a high blanket of red roses were banked on the fine dark metal casket. Thousands of school children, teachers, community leaders and friends passed along with the church members to see Mr. Owen. We shall always miss A. B. in Memphis. A ready smile, a slow but a sincere expression were characteristic of our deceased friend whose virtues were many.

RECEPTION FOR MRS. GERI JOSEPH IS WELL ATTENDED

We first met the charming Mrs. Geri Joseph, Democratic National Committeewoman from Minnesota, at a Press Conference last week in her 13th floor Presidential Suite at the Claridge. There we also met with Mrs. Pauline Gore, wife of our Tennessee Senator. . . . Mrs. Leland Carter, an active member who asked me to come. . . . and Mrs. Ruth Russell.

The brilliant woman politician who came to Memphis in interest of the Vice-president, stressed the fact that political parties could not really exist without women. She democratic politician impressed us by saying "We Care".

After the Press Conference, Mrs. Joseph was honored at a Reception in the Ballroom. . . . Among those I recognized the few minutes that I stayed there were "Ned" Cook, Phil Canale and H. T. Lockard, Administrative Assistant to the governor. Others presented in the audience were Mrs. Whittier Sengstacke, Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Gore.

THE FORMER MISS BETTY JOHNSON IS COMPLIMENTED BY FRIENDS

Latting with a brilliant cocktail party complimenting the former Miss Betty Johnson and her groom, Anthony J. Hudson of Cincinnati who were married in Ohio last week. Assisting the popular young matrons in receiving were Atty. Latting. . . . Mrs. Mertis Ewell after she left the Front Street Theatre where she is a star in "Show Boat". . . . and Mr. and Mrs. Arvis Latting.

Guests who enjoyed the run of the beautiful Quinn Street home where the attractive young married couple. . . . the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arton Johnson of Memphis. . . . the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Hudson of Philadelphia.

Other guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. O'Ferral Nelson, the Rev. Ralph Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brooks, Dr. and Mrs. James Spraggins, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Evans, Miss Evelyn Yavasseur, Mrs. Barbara Neyer of Washington, . . . Mr. Walter Thornton who came from the Nation's Capital. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Elinor McGhee and Mrs. Ewell's houseguest, Mrs. Barbara Barber of Jackson College whose family Mr. Latting knew well when he was Dean at Jackson College.

MERTIS EWELL AND JAMES HYTTER, Popular Memphis Teacher and Insurance Man are starring currently in Show Boat, now showing at Front Street Theatre.

Mertis is a past winner of the National Musicians Scholarship. She has appeared in numerous operas and concerts including the Memphis Opera Theatre in II Trovatore and Die Fledermaus. In addition, she has appeared at the Canadian Bowl in Ottawa, Canada in Aida and Faust.

Hyter has enjoyed hearty response to his concerts. His work has won critical endorsement from the staffs of the Kansas City Lyric Theatre, the Santa Fe Opera, Ted Mack Hour and the directors of the Memphis Opera theatre in its presentations of Die Fledermaus and II Trovatore. He has also appeared as guest soloist in The Messiah and Seven Last Words of Christ with Cantorium (the Singers).

The first scene of Show Boat is the Levee at Natchez on the Mississippi. . . . and those of you who have seen it can and will well remember "Only Make Believe". . . . "Ol Man River". . . . "Can's Help Lovin' Dat Man". . . . "Why Do I Love You". . . . I do, I first was the opera of Show Boat at the age of 14 at the St. Louis Open Air Opera.

A Moderate Leader Will Do The Most Effective Job

We have received a letter of praise from a white person out in Wyoming for our editorial endorsement of former Vice-President Richard Nixon for president.

This person makes it clear that she and her husband are "liberal thinking" and want to see members of the Negro race receive equal opportunities and rights. She even apologizes for discrimination.

We have received many comments which were favorable on our position, but a few naturally disagreed.

We are printing below a portion of this particular letter because it elaborates on one of the reasons for our support for Mr. Nixon.

In reference to the matter of civil rights she had this to say:

"Perhaps this leader in this matter most important to my husband and myself, will not be a Percy or Haffield or Brooke or Lindsay or Humphrey or Kennedy. These fine men could force our citizens to respect human rights. But perhaps it takes a Nixon, a fair and moderate man no matter how the shrill voices try to depict him, to lead those now unwilling to move over a bit to give other races an equal chance at life, willingly to accept that we are all one people and that this country must have all the best minds, talents and skills to survive in these desperate but exciting times. What a country it could be! A new Renaissance!"

We have always advocated moderation because extremism usually begets a strong reaction. We desire action and less talk.

We sincerely believe that substantial additional progress will be made by our people under a Nixon-Agnew administration.

How Mr. Nixon's Running Mate, Gov. Agnew, Stands

(From The Atlanta Daily World)

As usual the Vice-Presidential nominee for president is almost taken for granted and not too much has been said about Gov. Spiro Agnew of Maryland, the running mate with Nominee Richard Nixon on the Republican ticket.

Since we are recommending this ticket to our readers, we think it timely to give a little more facts about Gov. Agnew.

Gov. Agnew is middle age and the son of a Greek immigrant who started from an humble beginning. He was elected governor of Maryland in 1966. He received substantial Negro support and since taking office he has made a fine record.

The Afro-American Newspapers of Baltimore, the largest Negro newspaper in the U.S., on September 30, 1967, had this to say:

"Maryland's Governor Spiro T. Agnew has amassed an impressive civil rights accomplishment record since taking office eight months ago on January 14. His record in this area at this early stage of his four-year term outshines such accomplishments of any other of the State's governors."

Mr. Agnew sponsored legislation on fair housing and an ordinance on public accommodations as early as October, 1964 before he became governor.

In November 1966 he appointed an advisory committee on Human Rights and early in 1967 he appointed the first Negro to a governor's personal staff.

On April 21, 1967, Gov. Agnew signed Maryland's first open housing law in a state South of the Mason Dixon Line.

He issued a "code of fair practices" banning racial discrimination in employment. He appointed Judge Harry Cole to the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City.

He supports the principle of Negro enterprise. In July 1968 he said:

"Individual initiative and private enterprise in most cases can be more effective than government. In resolving the problems of the ghetto this means black capitalism, Negro ownership and management of commercial enterprises."

In his acceptance speech August 8, 1968, Agnew said: "I believe there is a greater place for private enterprise in meeting the problems of prejudice and poverty in our cities. I am pro civil rights. I am for the implementation of civil rights not just as the elaborate programming and distribution of money which is intended to bring about the equal opportunity and the justice that everyone talks about. On the other hand, I expect fully that no civil rights can be realistically achieved without the restoration of order without the abandoning of civil disobedience."

We concur with Gov. Agnew in this latter position and we commend his record of accomplishments since becoming governor of his state.

BRIEF COMMENT

An educated man can argue without losing his temper and without resorting to abusive objectives.

You can never tell what some people mean by what they say; you can only suspect what they think.

The proper life includes a balance between work and play. This applies to grown-ups, as well as to children.

The intelligent man learns from experience and is able to gauge the future by what has happened in the past.

Even a careful automobile driver will sometimes meet with danger — it's a good rule to expect the other man to be careless.

Hits Wallace Record Will Vote For Nixon

TO THE EDITOR:

We are hearing a great deal from the Third Party candidate regarding crime. It might be well to examine the record at this point. During the years from 1963 to 1966 when eGorge Wallace was governor of Alabama, the national crime rate rose 29 per cent. Alabama's crime rate rose 42.4 per cent. Aggravated assault rose 30.1 per cent nationally. In Alabama it rose 39.9 per cent. Larceny rose 32.8 per cent nationally. In Alabama it rose 44.5 per cent.

Those of us in Alabama who know the facts are voting for Richard Nixon for President.

Abernathy Gives Personal Backing To Humphrey

BALTIMORE — (UPI) — The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference SCLC Monday endorsed Hubert H. Humphrey as his personal choice for president.

Abernathy said his statement here was "a personal endorsement." A spokesman for SCLC said the organization is not officially endorsing anyone. It marked the first time Abernathy had spoken in favor of a presidential candidate.

Abernathy, successor to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as leader of SCLC, said the Democratic nominee has "a long record of fighting for human rights and law and order with justice."

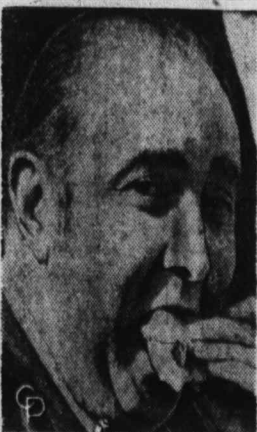

He said Republican Richard M. Nixon is "conservative" and "reactionary" and said third party candidate George C. Wallace "must be stopped."

Speaking at a news conference in a Negro ghetto church, Abernathy said he made his endorsement in Baltimore because Maryland is the home state of Republican vice presidential nominee Spiro T. Agnew.

He called Nixon's selection of the Maryland governor "a bad choice ... dictated by South Carolina, Sen. Strom Thurmond." Agnew's campaign, Abernathy said, has shown him to be "ignorant" and to hold "contempt for the poor people."

"Agnew has betrayed the poor people who elected him," the civil rights leader said.

He called Democratic vice presidential candidate Sen. Edmund Muskie "gifted, experienced, and capable." Both Democratic candidates, Abernathy said, "have the sensitivity and intelligence to work for a new America."

Aretha May Get Competition From Her Baby Sister

NEW YORK CITY — If singer Aretha Franklin's title of Soul Sister No. 1 is ever threatened by a competitor it's more likely to come from a member of her family. Latest of her sisters to make her debut in show business is Carolyn.

Signed to an exclusive booking contract last week by Mrs. Ruth Bowen, president of Queen Booking Corp., who also handles the engagements for both Aretha and Erma Franklin, Carolyn will soon be crowding the others for marriage space on theatres and a spot on the hit record charts.

At 24, the youngest member of the talented Detroit family, Carolyn already has played a major role in Aretha's continued popularity, having written several of her top Atlantic record hits, including "Ain't No Way" and "Baby Baby." A music major at Southern Calif., and Los Angeles City Colleges, the energetic Carolyn has also sang with both of her sisters in a gospel group at their father's Baptist Church in the Motor City.

BRASS TACKS

By THADDEUS T. STOKES

FOR THE LAST 347 YEARS

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) —

Recently our country has been called a sick society where there has been a breakdown of law and order. Severe critics of the current era have expressed fear of a complete collapse of the present form of democratic government.

I do not agree with the premises upon which these critics conclude that our nation has suddenly become a sick society. Also I am not saying that our nation is not sick.

I would be among the last to say that there is not a breakdown of law and order in the streets of this nation's cities.

I will state clearly this nation is sick. And there is a deliberate and a flagrant disregard for law and order in this nation. But this

T. Stokes is not anything to suddenly become alarmed about, because we have lived, advanced and prospered in this chaotic state of war, lawlessness, slavery, undemocratic, religious and immoral climate for many centuries.

As a matter of history, the founders and forefathers of this very nation came to this country to escape these very elements in their native lands. But once given the privilege to set criteria of a democratic nation — where law and order would prevail and offer protection to the natives and foreigners alike, the Jew and Gentile, the rich and the poor, the Catholic and the Protestant the old and the young, male and female black and white, the founder failed most miserably. Instead of forming a more "perfect union" where democratic government and religious freedom would reign supremely, they brought and permitted to flourish seeds of the hardship they fled from in their native lands.

Hardly had they set foot in this new country before they started war and inhumane treatment against the native — the American Indians. Next to come under attack was absolute freedom to worship "God" as one saw fit. Next was the bringing of native Africans to these shores against their will to cast them in the role of slaves. Then came the Revolutionary War, followed by the War of 1812, Mexican War, Civil War, the Spanish-American War, World War I, World War II, Korean War and now we are currently engaged in the Vietnam War.

It was really a total disregard of law and order which permitted this country to declare war against Britain in the first instance. Before that it was the disregard of the law and order of this nation which permitted the newly arrived foreigners to attack the American Indians, natives of this country.

Furthermore, it was a total disregard of the rights of Africans and law and order which prompted white Americans to bring the Africans here in chains and place them in bondage.

It was a lack of regard for the democratic process and disregard for law and order for our forefathers in this nation to denied Negroes all of the rights and protections under law and order.

Therefore, I am in agreement that our nation is a sick society. Any law and order in the streets are disregarded. But it has not just started. It has been a way of life in America since 1492. And it took an added impetus since 1619.

This nation is a sick society.

I am very concerned about the current scheme to equate violation of law and order with Black American's thrust to cast off the last vestige of servitude which the powers to me have shackled him with for the last 347 years (10-30-68).

Body of Infant Found Wrapped in Pillow Case In Lake Lanier

BUFORD, Ga. — (UPI) — The body of an infant was found wrapped in a pillow case Tuesday, floating in Lake Lanier.

Investigators said it appeared the child was burned before being placed in the pillowcase.

The Georgia Bureau of Investigation took the body to the State Crime Laboratory in Atlanta for further identification.

Authorities said the child appeared to be about three weeks of age. Investigators said they could not immediately determine the sex or race of the infant.

Two women fishing near J. Grey Beach on the southern tip of the huge lake spotted the pillow case floating in the water and called police.

"THE RING, THE ROBE AND THE SHOES"

Text: Luke 16:20-22.

One of the most beautiful narratives in all Literature is "The Prodigal Son" or better "The wonderful Father."

When the Vagabond had come to himself it was natural for him to arise and return to his father. But when he was let a great way off his father saw him and had compassion and ran and embraced him, said the lad "Father I have Sinned; I am no more worthy to be called your son." But the father said to his servants "Bring forth the best robe and put it on him, and put a ring on his finger, and shoes on his feet."

"Put a ring on his hand." What does that mean? A ring has neither beginning nor end. It is a symbol of the love from which the boy never escaped. The ring is a token of the infinite, without beginning with no end. When, with trembling hand the old man placed the ring on his finger, he was saying on his inside, "My Son though you were in a far country, You did not escape from my love." How like our heavenly father. No man can flee from the love of God. Our Heavenly Father loves us. Grieves after us and yearns for our return to him.

The old father has more to say: "Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him." The boy must change clothes. His garments were ragged. The smell of Babylon's Brothel, the smell of the Hog Pen were in his clothes.

The Christian is not to be garbed in altered rags of hate, prejudice, creed, envy and malice. He is to pull the old clothes, the old man which is corrupt, and put on the new clothes, the new man.

It was not fitting that the returned wanderer more than which identified him with his ugly past. So the father says: "Bring forth the best robe and put it on him." May we pray as in Luke 6:10 "cover me with a robe of righteousness."

There is one further word: "and put shoes on his feet." No doubt his shoes were badly worn, holes in their soles. The rocks and briars and filth of the Hog pen had done their worse with the poor lad's shoes.

We too, need new shoes the Apostle Paul urges us to shed our feet with the preparation of the gospel. When Moses called the tribes of Israel together, he said your feet shall be shod as with iron and brass. Yes, rough may be the Christian's journey but with God's shoes on our feet the road will seem smooth and easy.

God has a ring, a robe, a pair of shoes for his sons and daughters, the ring a symbol of love, the Robe a symbol of righteousness, a pair of shoes a symbol of strength.

NAACP Director Hits Union Bias

Herbert Hill, labor director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, accused white American workers and their unions of fighting against Negro aspirations.

"In reality, the AFL-CIO has a public position on civil rights and a private position," Hill said in an interview appearing in the current issue of Look magazine.

"The public position," he declared, "is one of ostensible support for equality; the private position... and more important one as revealed by court challenges and threatened strikes... is that of bitter resistance."

Hill pointed out that many unions "have become narrow, restrictive, protective associations, and the white American working class is predominantly racist."

"This is a time of unparalleled high employment," he added. "There should be a job for everyone in many cities, there is a labor shortage. But Negroes are still excluded because of the white worker's obsession with race and job status."

Hill cited several unions as exceptions, but criticized the International Ladies' Garment Workers generally considered among the most egalitarian... for allegedly doing much more for its mostly white cutters and pressers than for the nonwhites who are shipping clerks and deliverymen.

He also accused the Asbestos Workers, Steel workers and Aluminum Workers unions of dragging out civil rights cases brought against them by raising many procedural legal questions.

"Thirteen years after the merger between the AFL and CIO, it is that unions are unwilling or unable to eliminate broad patterns of racial discrimination. At best, there is conspicuous tokenism, but the Jim Crow patterns remain intact," concluded Hill.

Nixon Holds Strong Lead, Survey Shows

By ARNOLD R. SAWISLAK
WASHINGTON — (UPI) — George C. Wallace's third party bid for the presidency is noticeably losing strength outside the Deep South.

Wallace's slippage however hasn't yet left the dynamic political spark Hubert H. Humphrey needs for an uphill victory.

And Richard M. Nixon remains a heavy favorite to win enough electoral votes to nail down the presidency Nov. 5 without the contest being thrown into the House of Representatives.

These were the findings of a United Press International survey of the 50 states and the District of Columbia as the three-way campaign entered the final two weeks.

The survey undertaken after the Supreme Court ordered Wallace's name placed on the Ohio ballot giving him legal status in all 50 states showed that he seems to be losing strength in 10 states, while gaining in only four.

The breakdown for the three contenders shaped up this way:

Nixon — favored to carry 34 states with 400 electoral votes.

Wallace — favored to carry seven states with 56 votes.

Humphrey — favored to carry three states and the District of Columbia with 18 electoral votes.

Florida with 14 votes was called a toss-up between Nixon and Wallace. Five states with 40 electoral votes were viewed as too close to call between Nixon and Humphrey.

In each state, UPI political writers were asked to evaluate Wallace's strength and the odds his bid was having on the chances of the Republican and Democratic candidates. They were also asked to give a current assessment on how

They will distribute literature and encourage voting in their Sunday visits but will not endorse any candidate. They also will speak at churches.

The young ladies will distribute election tally sheets as a service of the sorority.

Rebellious Students Storm Soviet Embassy In Prague

By JAMES O. JACKSON
PRAGUE — (UPI) — Thousands of rebellious students Monday stormed the Soviet Embassy howling, "Russians go home," paraded through the streets under "David and Goliath" banners and mobbed Alexander Dubcek with affection in the wildest anti-Soviet demonstrations since the early days of the resistance.

Prague rang with shouts of "occupation army get off our backs—long live freedom!"

While an estimated 2,000 students jeered and cursed the Soviets outside their heavily guarded embassy, other thousands marched to Hradcany Castle under fluting national flags. They hoisted the few visible Soviet troops off the streets and burned "friendship" literature the Soviets offered.

No arrests or injuries were reported.

PEAK OF COOPERATION
Inside Hradcany, the seat of the government, Soviet and Czechoslovak leaders spoke of cooperation and "normalization" at ceremonies marking the 50th anniversary of Czechoslovak independence. Outside the youngsters clamored for their leaders.

The young people of Prague took matters into their own hands in total defiance of a ban against anti-Soviet demonstrations imposed by their elder government leaders.

They filled the cobbled streets of this old city with sights and sounds unmatched since the days immediately following the Aug. 20-21 invasion of Czechoslovakia by Soviet and Warsaw Pact troops.

Outside the Soviet Embassy an estimated 2,000 of them yelled their "go home" message above the heads of 500 Prague police.

Police restrained the cursing, jeering mob firmly and without using billy clubs. A fire truck was called in to nudge them gently down the street.

They retreated from the embassy only to mass outside the Prague National Theater and cheer national leaders arriving for an opera.

Dubcek, the Communist party chief who engineered the reform movement curbed by the Soviets, had to stop his car 100 yards from the theater and struggle through the throng on foot. The students roared their admiration for him.

While the embassy demonstration was in progress other young people massed in old town square.

They foiled the only attempt the Soviets made all day to meet the demonstrators, shooting and whistling at soldiers who tried to pass out literature and burning the offered papers.

Soviet occupation patrols kept well to the side streets and made no move to launch the retaliation predicted by government leaders. Prague police protected the embassy but did not otherwise interfere with heckling throngs.

Humphrey's states, according to the survey, were Hawaii (4), Rhode Island (4), West Virginia (7) and the District of Columbia (3).

Humphrey-Nixon toss-ups were seen in Connecticut (3), Maine (4), Massachusetts (14), Minnesota (10) and New Mexico (4).

Nixon was regarded as the likely winner — although several states reported a narrowing gap between the GOP candidate and Humphrey — in Alaska (3), Arizona (5), California (40), Colorado (6), Delaware (3), Idaho (4), Illinois (26), Indiana (13), Iowa (9), Kansas (7), Kentucky (9), Maryland (10), Michigan (21), Missouri (12), Montana (4), Nebraska (5), Nevada (3), New Hampshire (4), New Jersey (17), New York (43), North Dakota (4), Ohio (26), Oklahoma (8), Oregon (6), Pennsylvania (29), South Dakota (4), Utah (4), Vermont (3), Virginia (12), Washington (9), Wisconsin (12) and Wyoming (3).

In three of the Nixon states — Oklahoma, Tennessee and Virginia — Wallace was regarded as the clear second-runner while Kentucky, Maryland and Texas were called toss-ups between Wallace and Humphrey for second place.

For this reason, concluded Mr. King, "I have not sought any prizes from Vice President Humphrey. I have not done any harringing because I wish to retain complete independence to make my administration for full quality genuine peace and the elimination of cruel and needless poverty."

By PORTIA SCOTT
ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Mrs. Martin Luther King, Jr. announced her endorsement of candidate Hubert H. Humphrey Tuesday, stating that his administration would be "more responsive to the demands and pressures of the Black people in this country."

"I intend to vote for Vice President Humphrey," she said. "Because I believe an administration headed by him will be more resistant to repressive measures than will his opponents. Millions of white Americans have been deluded by slogans and distortions into believing Black people have gained too much and have extortionate demands. The national atmosphere is poisonous with such hatred and prejudice."

"Black Americans have in fact gained so little at such a cost that they are losing hope in the Democratic process. It will take great statesmanship to create reconciliation. I would hope that a massive Black vote will help to strengthen and pressure a Humphrey Administration to attain that goal and create one community of Americans, Black and White," she stated.

Mrs. King, who has been obstinately silent on public issues for several months, made her announcement in support of the Vice President at a press conference held in her Sunset Office. She was brief in answering questions and appeared confident that her endorsement had nothing to do with her late husband's support of the Rev. Ralph Abernethy's endorsement of Vice President Humphrey on Monday.

Jews Feel They're Targets Of Urban-Racial Conflicts

An official of the American Jewish Committee said Friday that many Jews in America feel they are the targets of urban-racial conflicts, but warned that it should not cause a Jewish withdrawal from the civil rights movement.

Many Jews feel that they are the particular targets of the tensions and conflicts of the urban-racial conflicts," said AMC Executive Vice President Bertram H. Gold at a meeting of the committee's national executive board, which is meeting in Atlanta through Sunday.

"Somehow or other, we must make clear to the American Jewish community the vital importance of our doubling and redoubling our efforts for a just society precisely because we are Jews," said Gold.

Earlier, the editor of the Gainesville, Fla., Daily Times told the board that George Wallace will be forced to be reckoned with on the American political scene for years to come.

"He will not dry up and go away after the election," said Sylvan Meyer.

$100,000 Awarded Mother Of Boy, 6, Killed By Truck

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — One hundred thousand dollars have been awarded to the mother of a 6-year-old Atlanta Negro boy who was killed by a truck on Monday.

A Fulton Superior Court jury has made the award to Thelma B. H. Fife, the mother of Joe Fife, who was killed near Atlanta Stadium in February of 1967.

The suit charged the truck driver had left his vehicle parked in a no-parking zone where it blocked the vision of both a crosswalk and a school zone sign.

The youth was hit by a passing car.

Gold said there was a "rising demand" within the Jewish community for Jewish organizations to withdraw from the civil rights movement and to serve as a counterforce against rising black militancy.

He said the social changes in the ghettos and changing neighbors had directly affected Jewish merchants, small businessmen, social workers, civil service employees, teachers, cab drivers, doctors and others who provide services in these areas.

"We will not be fulfilling the function of leadership if we permit his to move us away from that for which we have stood for so many years," Gold warned.

"However," he added, "we would not be fulfilling our leadership function if we were to ignore the legitimate fears and apprehensions of Jews who are victimized by violence and affected by the demands for greater power by the Negro community at the expense of hard-won gains made by many individual Jews."

Mother Of Two Shot To Death; Three Juveniles Arrested, Fourth Sought

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — UPI Three Negro juveniles were arrested and a fourth was sought Tuesday in the Monday night shooting death of a 33-year old woman as she struggled to keep from having purse stolen.

Police identified the victim as Mrs. Dorothy Austin, a drafts woman of an architect and mother of two children.

Mrs. Austin was shot in the face at almost point blank range as she struggled to keep her purse. It was found about three blocks away a short time later.

Police said Mrs. Austin had walked from her home to one of the city's business shopping centers where she got a $5 check cashed. Moments later four youths accosted her and tried to grab her purse.

Police said two girls and a boy were arrested and another boy sought. The names of the juveniles were withheld because of their ages.

JOBS AND THE JOBLESS:

Obsolete welfare programs have undermined the dignity of millions of Americans and actually penalized some men for going to work. How do we break the vicious cycle of welfare dependency? Elect Richard Nixon President.

He believes we need fewer people on welfare rolls and more people on payrolls. "Jobs are the issue," he says. "If you don't have jobs, you don't have housing and you don't have human dignity."

Nixon has proposed tax incentives to stimulate business to provide jobs and job training to the unemployed; a national computer job bank to match the unemployed with unfilled jobs; and a mobilization of private enterprise to open up new opportunities for the unskilled.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK Looking Back to 1868

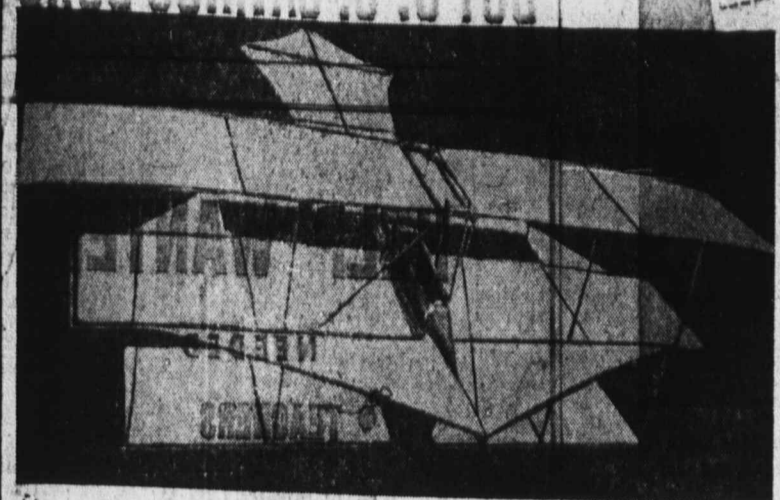

62-D JOHN STRINGFELLOW is one of aviation history's forgotten men. He exhibited an engine-driven model airplane in England as early as 1848, without a favorable impression on men whose heads were in the clouds—seeing only white-borne balloons.

"He was out of aeronautics for twenty years, but came back into the science after hearing Francis H. Wenham's great paper on 'Aerial Locomotion' before the Royal Aeronautical Society," it was recalled in a graphic history, The World in the Air (2 vols., 1960).

As a result, Stringfellow built a triplane around a steam engine. He entered this in the world's first aeronautical exhibition at London in 1868. Tested on a runway with a suspended canvas to break its fall, the engine lifted the plane sporadically, and he was awarded a prize (£100).

Thus encouraged, Stringfellow devoted the last fifteen years of life to aeronautical research. Stringfellow papers were read by Library of Congress by the Wright brothers in their work to develop the plane which made the earliest successful, heavier-than-air flight.

World Of Religion

BY LOUIS CASSELL

UPI Religion Writer

A black power movement is developing in the religious life of America as well as in its political and economic life.

Next week in St. Louis, Mo., the National Committee of Negro Churchmen will hold its second annual meeting. The committee's membership consists of about 700 Negro clergymen and lay leaders from major Protestant bodies and the Roman Catholic Church.

One of its organizers, the Rev. Dr. Benjamin F. Payton of Columbia, S. C., described the committee as "an effort to relate to the black power movement without adopting a philosophy of separation or black supremacy."

LEADERS PARTICIPATE

"Our definition of black power is the power to participate," he said.

Participating in the ecumenical meeting at St. Louis will be leaders of all the nation's big Negro denominations as well as representatives of several black caucuses, which have been formed in the past two years in predominantly white communities.

They include: The Black Catholic Clergy Caucus, formed last April by 58 of the nation's 130 Negro Catholic priests.

The Coordinating Committee of Black Lutheran clergymen formed last May by 58 of the 82 black pastors in America's major Lutheran bodies.

Black Churchmen of the America Baptist Convention, formed last May by about 300 Negro leaders from the denomination's 6,200 churches.

Black Methodists for Church Renewal, organized in early 1967 by 300 Negro pastors, bishops and laymen.

The Black Caucus of the Unitarian Universalist Association, established in October, 1967, with 200 members.

Also represented will be concerned Presbyterians, official Black

Caucus of the United Presbyterian Church which has been in existence since 1955, and an interdenominational student group called Association for Black Seminarymen, formed last year.

WORSHIP CHANGE

Four Protestant denominations of Calvinist heritage have agreed on a new order of worship for their Sunday services.

The new liturgy, which uses contemporary English instead of traditional Latin, will be introduced into congregational use gradually over the next few years. Wide-spread use probably will have to await its publication in a forthcoming "Book of Common Worship with Hymns" which is scheduled for issuance in 1972.

The denominations which participated in the formulation of the new "Service for the Lord's Day" are the United Presbyterian Church, the Presbyterian Church in the United States, the Reformed Church in America and the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Robert H. Heinze, chairman of the joint committee, said contemporary English is needed for prayers, hymns and creeds for the same reason that it's needed in Bible translations. "The ancient and beloved language of the church has been cutting us off from students from other who are young and from a world which suspects the church of irrelevancy in any case."

Talks On Styron's Book

Charles Price Opens Luncheon Series Here

Dr. Charles E. Price, associate professor of political science at Morris Brown and president of the DeKalb NAACP, was guest speaker at the opening of the Fall Thursday Luncheon Discussion, last Thursday in the Gold Room in Cox Hall at Emory University.

A large audience was on hand at this opening session of the Fall discussion luncheon, to hear Dr. Price review William Styron's book "The Confession of Nat Turner."

Dr. Price called Styron's book, a good example of good story telling. He said the book appears to be serious at the center, a very satisfying work, written in a style that makes interesting reading. Price praised the author for his seemingly fertility of imagination.

He made mention of the instances in which Styron's bias but concludes that "one without bias would write a dull story." He said that he is not distributed that Styron used the life of Nat Turner as a vehicle to give feeling about time and place, or to put his feeling in fancy dress. Price explained "It is obvious that he (Styron) would have had to use some character, and Nat Turner is as good as any perhaps more convenient than most."

Dr. Price viewed the Confessions of Nat Turner as not being the confession of Turner but the confessions of millions of blacks who were similarly situated. It is a decent history of what it meant to be a slave in the early part of the 19th century.

"The most remarkable thing about the book," Price said "is that Styron assumes the personality of a Negro and writes a novel that is astonishingly convincing. The events in the novel are highly plausible. I have little or no sympathy for those who would refute the fantasy of Styron with the fantasy of another time."

Price admits that the author, while writing a historical novel, enjoyed great freedom and latitude since there is very little known about the characters of the novel but he feels that Styron did not abuse his license, staying clearly within the bounds of respectability.

According to Price, Nat Turner comes out the Styron machine a real human being, better than most of us, but not as good as some of us.

Price does not see the book as taking anything away from Turner. "If Negroes need perfect character in their history, then Styron has debunked Turner. But Turner's significance has always been due to the fact that he led a planned revolt which must have frightened the living daylight out of the people in the Tidewater region of Virginia," he said. He noted that there were over 250 known revolts

Young Opponent May Unseat Sen. Morse

By RICHARD M. SYRING
Central Press Association
Correspondent

PORTLAND, Ore. — Youth might be served. That fact, youth plus a lot of disgruntled Democrats in Oregon, could spell defeat this November for U.S. Sen. Wayne D. Morse, Democrat.

The senior senator, age 68, is running behind in many polls. Leader is challenger Robert W. Packwood, vigorous Portland attorney, who was only 36 on Sept. 11. That's Teddy Kennedy's age.

The Republican, who bills himself as "The Constructive Challenger," is perhaps one of the best trained young men in the business when it comes to political skills. In 1960-1962 he was Republican chairman of Oregon's highly populated Multnomah County—the youngest chairman in the county's history.

In 1962 and for three successive sessions, Bob Packwood was elected to the state legislature as a representative. Furthermore, he headed the entire ticket of both party candidates in his district.

"I've been running hard since February," Packwood admits, although there was an important break last March when he was chosen Portland's Junior First Citizen for 1967. He has averaged two major appearances a day since then. And he's shaken the hands of thousands of Oregon voters. He does draw the line at kissing babies, though.

Oregon voters have seen more of Senator Morse than at any time in the last 12 years. Mrs. Morse has returned to Oregon to plump for her husband; so has a married daughter.

The senator has every reason in the world to be worried. In Oregon's primary last May, he barely won the nomination in a three-way race. He defeated ex-Congressman Robert Duncan, who reportedly has a long memory. When Duncan ran against Hatfield two years ago, Morse supported and campaigned for Republican Hatfield for U.S. senator.

Senator Wayne Morse

Next month Packwood will go to the polls with a unified Republican party behind him. Against a Medford business man, only in Oregon for a year, Packwood ran up 241,464 votes for the nomination. Morse's total was 185,091. Richard Nixon polled 203,037 votes by comparison, and Oregon has always been Nixon country. He defeated John F. Kennedy in 1960 by 41,000 votes.

POLLS have shown that Packwood's name familiarity is steadily increasing. A county fair poll in Eugene, situated in Oregon's second most populated Lane County, gave Packwood 1,083 votes to Morse's 859. And Eugene is the Morse family's home address, at least for voting purposes.

Both candidates face the task of firming party lines. Morse did gain some popularity among Oregon rich timber owners and processors, when he successfully had a federal log export curtailment tacked onto the foreign aid bill.

However, Packwood supporters point to the fact that Sen. Ernest Gruening, aged Democrat from Alaska, was defeated even for nomination, showing how old-timers can be unseated. Morse has continually trumpeted how he and Gruening were the only two senators to vote against the Tonkin Bay resolution.

VIETNAM is no issue in Oregon, despite the fact that Morse is a leading dove. Packwood says, "I certainly would not vote against military appropriation or vilify the President, the military or secretary of State."

Packwood believes no military victory can be achieved and that "American policy in Vietnam must insist that Saigon undertake immediate reforms to make the government truly representative . . . All the arable land in South Vietnam can be purchased for about $500 million—the cost of fighting the war for a week. Land reform would, for the first time, give the peasants a stake in the government."

Packwood is confident that his youth and "foot power," as he calls it, will carry him to victory. He has yet to be beaten in any election.

ATLANTA UNIVERSITY HONORS 2 RETIRED FACULTY MEMBERS

At the Twenty-Fifth annual Charter Day celebration and the 103rd anniversary of the founding of the University, two retired members of the faculty, Miss Frankie V. Adams and Dr. Kinmel Alonzo Huggins, received citations for their outstanding service to the University, the City of Atlanta, the State of Georgia, and to the nation.

Mrs. Genevieve Hill, acting Dean of the graduate School of Social Work, read the citation which was presented to Miss Adams, retired professor of social work, by Dr. Thomas D. Jarrett, acting President, Atlanta University. The citation read in part:

"Pioneer in social work education, nationally known teacher and social worker, you have trained perhaps twenty-five hundred students who are social workers or teachers in the United States and foreign lands, many of them holding positions of influence in social work education and in public and private welfare. Patient, frank and reasonable advocate for your field, beloved symbol of the School of Social Work during your thirty-three years of service in the University, you created fuller understanding of the profession of social work, gained greater acceptance for the idea of unity of social welfare and widened the range of professional opportunities for social workers because of the soundness of your educational philosophy and practice."

Dr. Huggins, former professor of chemistry and Chairman of the Department, was presented to Dr. Jarrett by Dr. Richard K. Barksdale, Dean, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. Dr. Huggins' citation read as follows: "First chairman of the Department of Chemistry, you made that department a major academic unit in the University and produced in your thirty-four years of service eighty-eight graduates with the Master of Science degree. Well-trained organic chemist and skillful teacher, you trained your students to do research and then inspired them to engage in research as they in turn have contributed richly to science, medicine, industry, education and other professions. Innovative and creative educational administrator, you initiated the National Science Foundation Academic Year and Summer Institutes at Atlanta University in 1959 and directed them until your retirement, thereby upgrading the teaching of science in many secondary schools in the Southeast as well as bringing prestige, students, money and other resources into the University. Gentle, quiet and unassuming man, you so lived the scholarly life that your students and colleagues could but love, admire and respect you."

An audience with the Pope is expected when Mrs. Green and her party arrive in Rome. Prior to the "Committee of Seven's" departure a gala bon voyage reception was tendered them at the Church Center of the United Nations in the Base Room.

On hand to bid the travelers adieu and to felicitate them on their good-will efforts were Mrs. Mary E. Broadbent, 80 year old mother of Mrs. Green, violinist Marie Heller of Trenton, N. J., Mrs. Prince A. Taylor, Jr. (wife of the Methodist Bishop of Princeton, N. J., among others unidentified at press time. Methodist Women church officials Thelma Stevens, Margaret Bredner, Dorothy Barnett and Theresa Hoover extended greetings to the Honorees on their momentous trip and flight. (See-sair Photo).

Nixon Discredits Report Of LBJ "Playing Politics With Viet War"

By DANIEL RAPOPORT
NEW YORK — (UPI) — Richard Nixon said Oct. 25 he had been told that President Johnson was trying to achieve a pre-election break in the deadlock over the Vietnam peace talks in a "cynical, last minute" bid to salvage the candidacy of Hubert Humphrey. He said he did not believe it.

The Republican presidential candidate said he was convinced Johnson was above playing politics with the war.

Nixon publicly aired the rumor in a written statement handed to newsmen here shortly before noon Friday. It was his latest response to week-long reports that Johnson was about to order a total halt in the U. S. bombing of North Vietnam.

TAPES SPEECHES

The statement was issued while Nixon spent the day in his 5th Avenue apartment taping radio and TV speeches and preparing for an evening live telecast to Eastern and Central states. Joining him for the program were Republican Govs. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, James Rhodes of Ohio, Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania and John Volpe of Massachusetts.

"In the last 36 hours I have been advised of a flurry of meetings in the White House and elsewhere on Vietnam," the statement said. "I am told that top officials in the administration have been driving very hard for an agreement on a bombing halt, accompanied possibly by a cease-fire, in the immediate future. I have since learned these reports are true."

"I am told also that this spurt of activity is a cynical, last-minute attempt by President Johnson to salvage the candidacy of Mr. Humphrey. This I do not believe."

"This latest suggestion of presidential politicking with the Vietnam War is but one of many similar rumors and press speculation in recent weeks. I think it is only appropriate, therefore, to reiterate statements on this subject that I have repeatedly made in this campaign."

OFFENDS LBJ

"At no time in the campaign have I found the President anything but impartial and candid in his dealings with the major presidential contenders about Vietnam. I know this has not been easy for him."

Beginning long before the Republican convention in early August, influential elements within and outside his party have subjected him to intense pressure to contrive what he has aptly described as "fake peace." It is to his credit that he has withstood these pressures."

Neither Nixon nor his aides would identify the source of the Vietnam report Nixon said he had received.

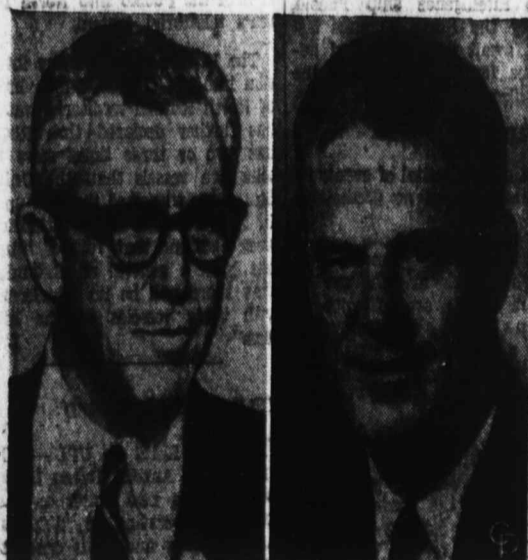

Meeting with reporters in the Waldorf Astoria, press secretary Herbert Klein and his assistant Ron Ziegler, were repeatedly asked by newsmen why the identities of Nixon's informants were not being divulged and why Nixon bothered to voice a rumor that he did not believe.

Ziegler said the statement was issued because there was "concern among members of the Nixon staff" that the peace activity was tied into the election campaign. Klein said he did not feel any development would jeopardize Nixon's lead over Humphrey but he claimed the report still warranted "concern."

CUBA RIJACK — Authorities are wondering what prompted 35-year-old William Barkley Trullitt (above), grandson of the late Vice President Alben Barkley, to charter a small plane in Key West, Fla., and force the pilot to fly him to Cuba. ELECTIONS TO WATCH

Larry Collins

Rep. Edward Gurney

IN FLORIDA, Rep. Edward Gurney is given a good chance of beating popular former Gov. Larry Collins to become the state's first Republican senator since reconstruction days. Collins, a decade ago one of the most popular governors in Florida history, has a strike or so against him for civil rights mediation activity for President Johnson. Even some Democrats think Collins will lose to Gurney.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases, to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further irritation. In ointment or suppository form, but most of the spontaneous variety.

Price viewed Styron's seemingly implication of Negro slaves pre-occupations with having thought of sex relations with white women and the recurring theme of homosexuality as weaknesses of the book but brushed these mistakes aside saying that "mistakes like these are bound to happen when a white man tries to think like a Negro."

Along The Sports Trail

BY SAM BROWN

The Olympic Games of 1968 are now history and on the whole produced some great performances by athletes that might stand a long time. Many of the teams turned in some outstanding feats and spectacular exhibitions in physical accomplishments and endurance.

The United States team proved to be the most outstanding group of the games. The American athletes captured a record total of 107 medals, including 45 gold medals in setting several world records of individual and team performances.

Although it was a racially mixed team, as the nation itself is racially mixed, Americans are just as proud of the performances of both the Negro and white individual exploits as well as the teams. Many regret the suspension of two of the sprinters, John Carlos and Tommie Smith which was based on their actions during a victory ceremony.

Some fans are commenting about the disappointing showing of the teams of the Soviet Union, which had dominated so many Olympiads in recent years. Some are also singing the praises of the Kenyans for their fine showing in the track and field events, which won them victories over the Russians.

So many of the finest amateur athletes in the world presented great performances that will be talked about for many years to come. When the hus and cry and all the other excitement have subsided, fans will be talking about the outstanding performances of various teams and individuals, the disappointments, the controversies, the importance or unimportance of the games.

Many football fans are wondering just what kind of mysterious touch the Green Bay Packers have over the Dallas Cowboys in that the Cowboys seemingly just can't down the Packers in the big one. The twice beaten Packers this season turned back the Cowboys 28-17 Monday night at Dallas in a National Football League game. The Cowboys went into the game with a 6-9 record for the season and smarten under the memory of two previous defeats at the hands of the Packers in the last games. So what is one suppose to do?

U.S. Military Commander In Viet Meets Secretly With Pres. Johnson

WASHINGTON UPI—Gen. Creighton Abrams U.S. military commander in Vietnam met secretly with President Johnson and his top security advisers throughout the day, the White House said later Tuesday.

Abrams' presence in Washington was not generally known until White House Press Secretary George Christian disclosed his trip in late afternoon. Christian refused to say when the general arrived but said he returned directly to Vietnam after Tuesday conference.

Christine would not comment on the meaning of Abrams' visit which occurred amid persistent speculation that a halt in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam was in the works.

Christian would only call it a "general military review." But Christian denied that Abrams' visit signified any change in efforts to bring about expanded peace talks with North Vietnam in Paris. He said nothing has changed since the President spoke on the subject of the war last week. At that time Johnson said there had been no change in the war and no breakthrough in diplomatic negotiations.

Asked how the meeting Tuesday should be interpreted, Christian replied, "You interpret it any way you want to."

The President's spokesman said Johnson had decided this past weekend to call Abrams to Washington for a meeting rather than conferring with his war commander at some other site.

As for the secrecy of their meeting Christian said: "Some times in a wartime situation a field commander does not make prior announcements on his travels."

For several weeks there had been speculation that Johnson planned to fly to Honolulu Hawaii for yet another high level conference with U.S. officials in Vietnam on the course of the war. The President said Thursday at his news conference he had no plans for such a trip.

During their private talks Christian said, Johnson awarded Abrams the distinguished service Medal as successor to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, who returned last June to become Army chief of staff.

At lunch, Abrams met with Johnson's secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Clark Clifford, Director Richard Helms of the Central Intelligence Agency, Presidential adviser Walt W. Rostow, and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Abrams left for Vietnam some time after lunch.

300 North Koreans Killed In DMZ, '68

By PHIL NEWSOM
(UPI Foreign News Analyst)

In Seoul, South Korea, it is announced that about 300 North Koreans have been killed or captured trying to infiltrate the Demilitarized Zone separating the two Koreas so far this year.

A young American soldier on guard duty against just such infiltrators is killed in another of the sporadic clashes which are a feature of this other unsettled Asian war after 14 years of truce.

He is the 13th American to die this year along the truce line.

The total for last year was 16. And in a Communist detention camp, presumably located near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang, 82 American crew members of the intelligence ship Pueblo, seized by the North Koreans last Jan. 23, await the outcome of negotiations for their release in the truce village of Panmunjom.

NO SOLUTION

It is a dreary recital of events to which there is yet no predictable end.

North Korea's high-handed seizure of the Pueblo and the war in Viet Nam both are affronts to American pride, constituting as they do a direct challenge to the world's most powerful nation by two of the Communist world's smallest.

They are blemishes which President Lyndon B. Johnson would like to erase from the record before his term ends in January-return of the Pueblo crew on the one hand and the beginning of meaningful peace talks over Vietnam on the other.

It has been the fate of American presidents that not since the 1920's has one been able to leave office feeling that his talks have been completed.

President Harry S. Truman left office with the Korean War still raging.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower hoped to leave office with a record as a peace president only to be confronted in the closing months with failure of the Paris summit meeting over the U2 incident and anti-U.S. riots which prevented a visit to Japan.

FOLLOW PRECEDENT

Precedent and international practice bind the United States in its dealings on the Pueblo.

To the demands of the then Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that the United States apologize for the spy flights of the U2, Eisenhower replied:

"These activities had no aggressive intent but rather were to assure the safety of the United States and the Free World against surprise attack by a power which boasts of its ability to devastate."

There was no apology such as now is demanded for the alleged incursion of the Pueblo into North Korea's territorial waters.

The U.S. has denied any intrusion into the claimed 2-mile limits of North Korean territorial waters, has further declared that Russia has two or three times more intelligence vessels than the United States one witnessed the pick-up of U.S. astronauts in the Atlantic a week ago, and that, further, "there has been a general understanding that there will be no interference with these vessels on the high seas."
