Melrose, CBHS Clash Friday For City Grid Title

Saturday, Nov. 14, 1964

By Fred Wilson

Melrose, one of the sectional teams of the Memphis City System, had its first appearance in the gridiron championship since 1960 when the Blue Devils met CBHS in a thrilling game that ended in a 17-17 tie. The game was played at the City Coliseum, where a large crowd showed up to witness the action.

CBHS, which was expected to win the game, came close to doing so. However, Melrose's defense held strong and prevented CBHS from scoring for most of the game. The Blue Devils scored their first touchdown in the second quarter on a 10-yard run by John Brown, and added a field goal later in the quarter.

In the third quarter, CBHS scored on a 30-yard touchdown pass from Tom Brown to Billy Johnson, and added another field goal to take the lead, 17-10. However, Melrose responded with a touchdown on a 50-yard run by John Brown and a field goal to tie the game, 17-17.

The game ended in a tie, much to the disappointment of both teams. Melrose coach, Mike Johnson, said, "We thought we had a chance to win, but we just couldn't put the game away. CBHS played well and we played well too." CBHS coach, Joe Smith, said, "We were happy with the win, but we wanted to win more. We'll have to work harder to win the next game."

The University of Kentucky basketball team beat the University of Arkansas, 85-53, in a game played in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, Sr., were present for the game and were seated in the bleachers. They are very proud of their son, who is a member of the team. The Wildcats played well and were able to keep their opponents from scoring effectively.

National basketball champions can expect to receive a lot of attention from the media. This game was no exception, with many reporters and photographers covering the event. The anticipation of the championship game is building, and fans are eagerly awaiting the next match.

Invitation To Bids

The City of Lexington is accepting bids for the construction of a new basketball court. The project is estimated to cost $500,000 and will include the installation of new lighting, bleachers, and scoreboards.

Bids are due by October 31st and should be submitted to the City Clerk's Office. The winning bidder will be selected based on the lowest cost bid that meets the project specifications.

The basketball court will be located in Central Park and is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The City of Lexington is committed to providing quality recreational facilities for its residents.
Donald Jacobs Heads Cleveland's Council Of Churches In Christ

By ALVIN F. POLICK

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — Donald C. Jacobs, former pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, has been named the new executive director of the Council of Churches of Greater Chicago, it was announced in a statement from the organization.

The Council of Churches of Greater Chicago is a Protestant church organization, with headquarters in Chicago. The council represents more than 100 churches in the area, including some of the largest in the United States.

The appointment of Jacobs is a significant step in the council's efforts to promote unity and cooperation among its member churches.

Jacobs, who has served as pastor of Calvary Baptist Church for 15 years, is well-known in the community for his work in local schools and community centers. He is also a member of the city council and has served on several local boards and committees.

The council's new executive director will be responsible for overseeing the day-to-day operations of the organization, as well as implementing the council's mission and goals.

The council's mission is to promote unity and cooperation among its member churches, and to work towards a more inclusive and just society. It is committed to addressing issues of social justice, religious freedom, and human rights.

Jacobs' appointment is expected to be announced officially at a press conference later this week.

TRUMAN CAPOTE

On Violence

Capote, a renowned American author and journalist, gained fame in the 1950s with his book "Breakfast at Tiffany's," which was adapted into a successful film.

In "In Cold Blood," Capote tells the true story of the brutal murder of four people in Kansas, and his subsequent involvement in the case.

The author's exploration of violence is a critical examination of the role of violence in American culture, and its impact on society.

The book has been widely praised for its powerful storytelling and its insight into the complexities of human nature.

"I would like to see a better world," Capote writes, "in which violence is the last resort and the only way to express oneself.

Capote's work continues to be read and studied today, and his messages of hope and understanding remain as relevant as ever.
