Demonstrate During Sunday Worship

PICKETS MARCH AT AVERY CHAPEL

For nearly three hours Sunday, a crowd of about 200 persons demonstrated outside and in front of the Avery Chapel of Memphis' First Christian Church, a chapel run by the Church of God in Christ, a national Protestant church. The demonstration was prompted by the death of John R. Lewis, a church employee who was killed in an automobile accident the previous day.

The demonstration was the first of its kind in the city and was the result of a series of events that occurred in the city's black community. The church, which is located in the heart of the black community, has been the target of violence in recent years.

Several Others Move Up

Several other churches in the city have also been the target of violence in recent years. The most recent incident occurred in 2018, when a church was firebombed.
