PICKETS MARCH AGAIN AT AVERY

Girl, 6, Raped While Parents Sleep!

A six-year-old girl was raped in her bedroom early Saturday by a "strange man" who entered her room by crawling through a window.

The victim, who lives with her parents on Orleans, south of Parkway, told investigating officers "a man who spoke in loud whispers" attacked her.

A medical examination revealed that she had been assaulted, police said.

The girl's parents, who were asleep in another room at the time the attack was committed, questioned the child around 7:30 a.m. when they noticed blood-spattered sheets.

When questioned by police, the girl said she had fallen asleep after the attack and did not awaken until her parents called her.

Chief Inspector William Crumby is investigating.

Housing Project In Memphis To Be Modernized

The Memphis Housing Authority Board of Commissioners has voted to seek approval of a $4,200,000 expenditure to modernize the Authority's eight existing public housing developments.

Members of the board adopted a resolution which asks the Housing and Urban Development Department for a $3,000,000 grant and pledges $1,200,000 of the Housing Authority's money toward execution of the proposed program.

Orelle Ledbetter, executive director of the Housing Authority, said the modernization program will require at least two years to carry out.

The program is designed by the Housing Authority to accomplish more than modernizing and rehabilitating buildings and grounds. It also calls for:

(1) Involvement of public housing residents in plans and programs for modernization, some changes in management policies and practices, and expanded services and facilities.

(2) Expansion of community service programs and of community facilities where needed.

(3) Intensification of efforts to assist low-income families to realize their potential for economic advancement.

(4) Increased employment by the Housing Authority of low-income residents of the housing developments.

An example of the plans to involve residents in the planning and carrying out of the program is a decision to allow occupants of each dwelling to choose interior wall color paints.

The Authority plans to streamline its maintenance practices to make better use of its time. Currently, maintenance crews work out assignments from the top of a list even though a work order may be on file for an apartment next door to a unit in which the crew has just completed a job.

"This practice was understandable," Mr. Ledbetter said. "But we're now going to arrange to take care of all of the orders more expeditiously."

Mr. Ledbetter said the Authority also will reduce the amount of paper work some of its employees are required to do, thus freeing many of them to engage in more direct-contact work with residents. Some of the planned policy changes include:

Discontinuance of financial penalties for late payment of rent; adopt a fixed-rent schedule which

Witnesses Need More Quarters For Delegates

Local members of Jehovah's Witnesses are taking part in a vast search for rooms for their upcoming district convention at the Mid-South Coliseum this month.

Chances are that one of them has already called at your door, but if they haven't they no doubt will get around to you soon. And what can you expect when they call?

There will be a smile and a brief introduction. Then the visitor will probably say: "A Christian convention will be held in Memphis July 25-28. Some 13,000 delegates will be coming to Memphis for four days. We will be in need of rooming accommodations, and so we are calling to see if you have any rooms that you would like to list for our delegates during that time. They will be paying guests but will not require any meals as these will be taken at the convention."

The caller may be a man or woman. It could be Mrs. Mamie Ragland, who is a member of the Orange Mound congregation.

She is one of a small army of Witnesses from 19 congregations in and around Memphis who is volunteering her time without pay to find rooming accommodations for their "brothers" and "sisters." The entire city and its suburbs are carefully mapped and each worker is given a territory to cover.

According to Don A. Campbell, convention rooming director, more than 6,000 requests for accommodations have been received from Witnesses coming from 30 states. "It takes about two hours on the average to obtain one accommodation, and we're still way behind in getting enough rooms to meet our needs," he said.

Campbell said that the requests for rooms are pouring into the convention headquarters at the rate of 30 a day. Some delegates will be coming from as far north as New England, Wisconsin and west to Oklahoma, although the majority will be coming from Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Missouri.

"A surprising number" of people have voluntarily telephoned the convention headquarters to list rooms, ever since word of the convention got around. The Witnesses were here in 1965 and thousands stayed in private homes then, so the experience of having them as house guests is not entirely new to the community, Campbell pointed out.

So if Mrs. Ragland or other Witnesses call at your door between now and July 25, they will be delighted to list your spare room for a convention delegate to stay. Or if you prefer, call Don Campbell at convention headquarters, Phone: 324-1057.

High Rights Fee Awarded Attorney

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) cooperating attorney Oscar W. Adams, Jr., of this city disclosed this week that he was awarded $1,000 by a U. S. District Court in Alabama for successfully pleading a civil case involving three Negroes who were refused entrance to an Alabama summer resort.

The $1,000 fee is thought to be the largest amount ever awarded for a case based on the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

LDF attorneys say that the unusual fee means that more persons who refuse others access to public facilities because of race will be brought to trial and, when found guilty, will be strapped with higher legal fees.

Plaintiffs in the case were Dr. Neil Friedman, and Annette and Paulette Hughes, who sued through their father, McKinley Hughes.

Miss Beverly Guy Wins English Award

ATLANTA, Ga. — Beverly Guy, an English major in the Atlanta University Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, has been awarded the Barksdale Memorial Scholarship.

The annual prize of $100 is awarded to a student nominated by the department of English for excellence in literary studies.

Miss Guy is a native of Memphis and is the third recipient of the scholarship.

Friends' Day at Friendship Baptist Church, 1355 Vollentine, has often been referred to by many churchgoers as one of the biggest, if not the most important, special event of the church calendar year. Believing the Biblical saying that "a man who hath friends must show himself friendly," the Friendship congregation cordially invites each and every one of its many friends throughout the Mid-South to fellowship with them Sunday, July 21, a both the 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. worship service.

Friendship is usually proud to present two of the "tallest trees in the Baptist forest" as guest speakers. The traditional morning speaker will be the Rev. Fred Lofton, former chaplain of Owen College and current pastor of the First African Baptist Church of Columbus, Georgia. The evening worship service will feature the Rev. Jasper W. Williams, well-known weekly radio minister and pastor of Lane Avenue Baptist Church for this special day will be presented by Friendship's Senior, Imperial, and Youth choirs. In the evening worship service these voices will be augmented by the Lane Avenue Church choir, Mrs. Jasper W. Williams will serve as minister of music on this occasion.

Aside from the emphasis on friends and fellowship, another

The Rev. W. A. Suggs is pastor of Friendship Baptist and the originator of Friends' Day. Guest soloist during the day will be a A. P. Munn of Humboldt.

CORE Makes Plans To Prevent Takeover By Black Power Group

By RICHARD WHEELER
COLUMBUS, Ohio — UPI Delegates to the National Convention of the Congress of Racial Equality spent most of Sunday behind guarded doors hammering out a new constitution that would prevent black power militants from taking over the organization.

Among those participating in the designing of the new constitution were Floyd McKissick, national director of CORE, who is taking a leave of absence because of illness; his successor Roy Innis, and Wilfred Ussayer, CORE national chairman.

Innis replaced Lincoln Lynch as the No. 2 man behind McKissick last December when Lynch stepped down for unexplained reasons. However, Lynch attended the convention and still believed to be a powerful influence in the national organization.

MORE MILITANT
Innis is considered to be more militant than McKissick and the battle lines seemed to be drawn between the two over the drafting of the constitution.

A spokesman said the original version of the constitution was prepared by its present, more moderate leaders such as McKissick. The opposition came from the more militant black power types, said the spokesman, who wished to remain unidentified.

The convention heard from such moderate civil rights leaders as Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and Whitney Young, executive director of the Urban League.

The first break came early Sunday when Robert Carson chairman of the Brooklyn chapter of CORE, withdrew his group from the national organization. Carson said its leaders were using CORE as a "simple tool to bind black people."

ASKED TO LEAVE
However, Kermit Scott, national director for CORE chapters said the Brooklyn group was asked to leave because of "disrespect to Wilkins" during a closed door speech and disrupting the convention in general.

Carson claimed that local CORE chapters in Philadelphia, Kansas City, Queens, N. Y. and Bronx, N. Y. were also leaving CORE along with nine other chapters which he did not identify.

Scott said he knew of no other chapters that were leaving the national organization.

John Wesson, the acting chairman of CORE in Kansas City, said he had not heard of any CORE chapters withdrawing from national affiliation. He also said Carson does not have the authority to speak for the Kansas City chapter.

All meetings during the five day convention were closed except to CORE members. Most of the time the doors in the plush downtown hotel where the convention was held were guarded by blacks in American outfits.

Church Split Seen

About 20 members of Avery Chapel A.M.E. Church, located on East Trigg near Mississippi, picked up their placards Sunday morning and staged a second protest march in front of the church during the worship hour, vowing to keep it up until they are given an audience by the presiding bishop.

The bishop, the Rt. Rev. Curry A. Gibbs of Jacksonville, Fla., was reported in Memphis for a brief and quiet visit last week but made no effort to meet with the protesting members.

It was learned that he conferred with the Avery pastor, the Rev. Miller Peace; Presiding Elder E. J. Jester, and our ministers pastoring A.M.E. churches in Memphis. The demonstrators are protesting what they call "dictatorship" on the part of Rev. Mr. Peace and the church officials, and they want the bishop to sit with them and listen to their protests.

Avery Chapel is one of the oldest Negro churches in Memphis. Historians say it is 106 years old.

Before moving to its present site several years ago, Avery was located on South Fourth just north of Beale Street. The church carries about 600 names on its membership roll, but average attendance is about 100. One of the protesters said only about 75 are regular "paying members."

The pickets are not interfering with worship services at Avery but they refuse to contribute financially to the church "as long as the bishop ignores us."

It was learned that Rev. Mr. Peace contacted most of the Avery members last week and urged them to attend Sunday services.

The dispute at Avery can be traced to finance:

1. The protesters claim the pastor wants to borrow a large sum of money for the purpose of building a new church.

2. The protesters oppose the pastor on this issue, but recommend borrowing enough to repair the building.

3. One of the major issues in the dispute is a Booster Club which was organized for the purpose of paying off Avery's old mortgage. The mortgage has been reduced from $50,000 to $35,000. Members of the Club deny the pastor the right to touch this money and, the pastor, in turn, refuses to list these gifts as official contributions to the church.

Pastor Peace suspended several officers recently and on the basis of these suspensions came three resignations. Resigning were M. J. Alberta Burgess, organist, and John Coleman and Floyd Harrison Sr., trustees.

Under A.M.E. Church law, a bishop does not have to agree to meet with a church group unless such a meeting is recommended by the presiding elder, and the presiding elder is not obligated to act until he is petitioned by members of the steward board, all of whom are appointed by the pastor.

The protesters, meanwhile, are hoping that their Sunday demonstrations will attract national attention and force a meeting with the bishop.

'He Is Climbing Heartbreak Hill,' Mayor Allen Says

By MARCEL BARNUSSEN
ATLANTA, Ga.

UPI—Attorney Raymond Jackson, candidate for the U. S. Senate, came to pay his respects to Mayor Ivan Allen Tuesday.

"He's a nice young man," Allen said later, "but he's climbing heartbreak hill."

Jackson, challenging veteran Georgia political figure Sen. Herman Talmadge in the Sept. 11 Democratic primary, visited City Hall to talk with the mayor about city problems and the plight of the poor.

The 30-year-old Democrat commended Allen for his personal involvement in the problems, citing his appearances during the summer riots.

"What he has done shows the general concern as a man and a mayor," Jackson said. "He's a YOUTHFUL HAROLD WHALUM, the president of Union Protective, is moving up the ladder at a fast pace in Memphis over all Negroes, especially those who control political and civic affairs. Mr. Whalum's success are operating on the theory that organizations within the Negro community, those refusing to a Negro should first be given the approval of Negro leadership before the white power structure places him in high office. Not all Negroes buy this theory, however. Some haven't even given it a thought.

DR. CHARLES L. DINKINS, who will become development officer for LeMoine-Owen College this summer, is filling the pulpit of First Baptist Church (Lauderdale) as acting pastor until the church selects a new minister to replace Dr. H. THE REV. FRED LOFTON, formerly of Owen College and now pastoring in Columbus, Ga., is reported ready and willing to accept the pastorate of First Baptist (Lauderdale) but first he must win approval of the church's pulpit committee which also is interviewing several other prospects.

Ford Foundation Grant Provides Big Incentive For Open Housing

NEW YORK — With initial grants for Denver, Chicago, and a number of Connecticut cities, McGee Bundy, president of the Ford Foundation, today announced a stepped-up Foundation effort to help communities "take full advantage of recent giant steps toward racially integrated housing."

He said the grants would serve to implement the open-housing provisions of the 1968 Federal Civil Rights Act and the recent landmark decision of the Supreme Court outlawing racial discrimination in all sales and rental of property, and expressed the hope that private organizations would strengthen their efforts toward open housing.

Among $713,000 today's grants were made to the Metro Denver Fair Housing Center, the Connecticut Housing Investment Fund, Hartford, and the Chicago Conference on Religion and Race. Recent organizations that were joined with church, community, or volunteer support. To date the groups have assisted several hundred ghetto families obtain housing in the suburbs or integrated neighborhoods. Mr. Bundy added that the Foundation is exploring similar organizations in other cities.

"Fair and open housing is one way to reverse the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders' forecast that the United States is moving toward two societies, one white and one black," Mr. Bundy said. "So the need to open the suburbs to the outer rings of our cities to racial minorities is one of our highest priorities."

Even the boldest optimist cannot envisage a mass movement out of the ghetto, but Negroes who can afford to leave should be given the opportunity to decide whether they want to remain or escape.

According to a recent analysis of the census data covering 207 cities, 86 per cent of non whites would have to move in order to obtain a random distribution of the population by race. Within this pattern of segregated living, the Negro population is increasingly concentrated in the urban core. In 1960, 80 per cent of Negroes but only 50 per cent of whites lived in central cities.

Meanwhile, opportunities for employment are expanding more rapidly outside the central cities in areas where Negroes are denied housing either by overt discrimination or lack of moderate-cost accommodations. For instance, from 1961 to 1965, St. Louis lost 62,000 jobs and Philadelphia 40,000. Even in New York City, where there has been an overall increase in employment, manufacturing jobs have dropped by almost 50,000 from 1962 to 1965.

Moreover, many nonwhite city residents pay disproportionately high rents for inadequate housing. Others express dissatisfaction with such services as schools, police protection, and sanitation.

"What has been a very small out-migration from the ghettos may soon expand," Mr. Bundy said. "The recent Federal legislation and Supreme Court decision, a greater spirit of cooperation among builders, bankers, realtors, and suburbanites a shortage of labor in the outer rings, and gains in Negro employment and income give new hope for more integrated society.

"But these favoring forces make it only the more timely and urgent to build a network of local organizations like those in Denver, Hartford, and Chicago... organizations that are willing to work strenuously with the Negro and white communities to take full advantage of the recent giant steps toward racially integrated housing. We are glad to help them as we have assisted such groups as the National Urban League and the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing, whose legal services played an important role in the Supreme Court's open housing decision last month.

"What the Congress and the Court have begun individual Americans and their organizations should now continue, and I hope that all other private groups dedicated to racial justice and a unified society will strengthen their efforts to make open-housing a widespread reality instead of a fragile experiment."

In prohibiting discrimination in the sale or rental of housing, the 1968 Civil Rights Act exempted single-family homes sold or rented by an owner. The Supreme Court decision in June, however, resurrected an almost forgotten civil rights law of 1866 to extend the prohibition to all housing, including that of private owners.

The Metro Denver Fair Housing Center will receive a $300,000 matching grant from the Foundation to cover a portion of the costs of a new housing development department, services to prospective home buyers, and information and education program, research and development, training, and general management.

Operating on the principle that ghetto residents can gain a degree of control over their destinies if they have some freedom of choice in where they live, the center in the last two years has helped more than 600 non white families to rent or purchase homes in non segregated parts of the city.

The center staff consults with families who are willing to move and then helps them locate desirable housing and obtain financing, if necessary. Residences are frequently secured at a lower rental or in parts of the city that are closer to their place of work or where he schools are less crowded.

Recently, the center secured loan funds from the Federal National Mortgage Association for the purchase and rehabilitation of thirty eight homes. Operating funds have also been obtained from the Office of Economic Opportunity, the state of Colorado, the city and county of Denver, and private sources.

The Connecticut Housing Investment Fund, which will receive a Foundation grant of $218,000, is the outgrowth of a program started three years ago by an unnamed individual who put up $300,000 to assist Negroes obtain homes at Pace employees created the fund and contributed all the money that made the two $500 scholarships possible. Miss Williams will attend Knoxville College and Miss Grawemeyer will go to Birmingham Southern College.

Heart Transplant Problems To Be Probed

Human heart transplantation problems will be thoroughly investigated by the recently established American Heart Association Committee on Ethics.

Detailed guidelines will be developed for the medical profession and the public. Approval of the Committee's study recommendation was announced in early May by Dr. Lewis E. January, Chairman of AHA's Committee for Medical and Community Program.

The committee is composed of leading authorities in medicine, scattered locations in the white suburbs of Hartford.

Some 100 families were relocated, with about half occupying their homes on a rental basis with a three year option to buy. The rest were provided with full or partial down payments at costs considerably below commercial second mortgage rates.

The housing fund now plans, through the insurance of revenue bonds to raise $5 million for an expanded program to help minority families acquire homes in Hartford, New Haven, and in Fairfield County, Conn.

The Chicago Conference on Religion and Race is co-sponsored by the Catholic Archdiocese of Chicago, the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, and the Chicago Board of Rabbis. With funding from the United Church of Christ, it has operated a housing program since 1965 that has helped ninety non-white families from Chicago's south and west sides obtain housing in integrated neighborhoods.

The conference will receive a Foundation grant of $15,000 for partial support of its housing operations over a three-year period. Its major goal will be to expand the activities of an investment corporation organized a year and a half ago to provide down payments to minority home buyers. It is now proposing to raise $1 million annually to finance up to 160 down-payment loans and 20 home purchases a year for later resale.

law, religion, education and communication. Chairman of the Ethics Committee is Dr. Eugene A. Stead, Florence McAlister Professor of Medicine, Duke University, Durham, N. C.

Areas to be investigated include the following: establishment of criteria for death and the rights of the donor; formulation of criteria for selection of a recipient; development of technical guidelines for institutions and surgical teams planning transplantations; identification of potential donors and establishment of organ registries; development of legal safeguards to protect donor, recipient and physician; development and treatment costs of artificial heart, heart transplant programs, and recommendations for future national financial committees, and guidelines for continuous public education.

Study group reports will be reviewed by the Committee in the fall.

A statement of heart transplantation was recently issued by the Board of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences, and AHA's Ethics Committee expressed approval of three basic criteria contained there in: cardiac transplantation, as a therapeutic trial, requires an advance overall plan of study; transplantation should be permitted only when the surgical team can meet the most exacting standards of technical and scientific capability, and; meticulous scientific standards must be set for selection of donors and recipients.

Dr. Gallup Asserts Many Americans Say The Nation Is Sick

PRINCETON, N. J. — (UPI) — Forty-two per cent of all Americans held the view that the United States is a "sick society," the Gallup Poll reported Wednesday.

A plurality of Negroes ratio of 8 to 7 holds this view, the national poll indicated. White Americans holds the opposite opinion by a ratio of more than 3 to 2, according to the survey.

A spokesman for Gallup said those who think the nation is "sick" offered reasons of two types causes and symptoms, such as the amount of rioting and killing, lack of sufficient law enforcement, laxity of courts, breakdown in morals, shunning of religion, needs only one home to be listed poor upbringing, lack of individual initiative and general selfishness.

The 52 per cent who rejected the idea that their society is sick said only a small number of in-

Bentley Calls For Public Hearing Of Fire Insurance Rates In State

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNG) — Comptroller General James L. Bentley has challenged fire insurance rates set by companies in Georgia on commercial and industrial property and ordered a public hearing on the matter for July 25th.

Bentley said that the more than 300 insurance companies involved raised rates last October under Georgia's new Open Competition Insurance rating law.

But, Bentley continued, a detailed examination by the State Insurance Department of the rates in practice showed that the increase should be cut by roughly 40 percent.

"These people have been real reckless with the way they handled the rate increase," Bentley commented.

Bentley, State Insurance Commissioner since 1963, said the public hearing in the State Capitol on July 25 will give the companies involved a chance to state their case.

It will be a precedent-setting hearing, he said, in that it is the first time the State Insurance Department has challenged a board rate increase under the State's new insurance law.

"We're making preparations for a court fight if necessary," Bentley said.

"We're making preparations for a court fight if necessary," Bentley said.

The rate boost in question was put into effect by companies who are members of the Southeastern Underwriters Association last fall. Under Georgia's new insurance law, this rating bureau can file only an advisory rating proposal with the State Insurance Department.

But after the bureau files an advisory rating recommendation with the Department, member companies of the bureau can choose individually to put the suggested rates into effect.

Bentley said that every company writing commercial or industrial fire insurance in Georgia did, in fact, decide to follow the rates filed by the bureau last fall.

He said he ordered the bureau to revise their recent rate increase, in effect, nearly 40 percent downward to comply with department standards. This would amount to roughly a reduction of about $5 million in the rate increase implemented last October. At the time, it was estimated that the higher rates going into effect would total about 13 million. Bentley said the rating bureau had figured the recommended rate increase for its member companies on basis of a "trend factor" already rejected by the State Insurance Department.

"Figuring these rates properly would mean a cut of about 40 percent in the rate increase," Bentley said.

Bentley said the bureau rate boost is, in fact, discriminatory, excessive and shows a lack of competition.

"This is a real test under Georgia's new law. This Open Competition legislation is working well and were determined to make it work. There's no excuse for abuse of the law in this or any other case," Bentley said.

The Top And Talk Picnic on July 12th, was indeed a pleasant event for many relatives and friends of members of the state club house. We arrived around three in the afternoon to find a crowd had already gathered on the back lawn of the South Parkway estate owned by a large group of professional and business men whom all of you know now. I dare not mention names of members nor of guests at this time for fear of leaving out some.

but will mention a few of the younger set we saw around. To name a few: There was pretty Miss Geri T. Blanchet, a Fisk Univ. graduate and daughter of Dr. W. W. E. Blanchet, President of Fort Valley State College in Georgia and Mrs. Blanchet, with Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Brisco and pretty young daughter, Diane who also graduated from Fisk this year. James Spencer Byas, Skreets and Mae Byas with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. James Byas, also with the young crowd was Skeet's sister, who entered with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jones was their pretty young God-daughter, Miss Eleanor Addison, a Chicago school teacher and an interesting addition to the smart young set in Chicago.

Other noticed were Atty. George Brown Jr., (now in the office with Atty. A. A. Lattin) George's attractive young wife and their two youngsters. His sister, Mrs. Sarita Brown Johnson and her two small youngsters who hail from Florida. . . and they were with the Samuel Peaces. . . The good-looking Miss Janet Patterson was with Dr. John Smith her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Atkins and their stately father, Mr. Harvey Atkinson who came to Memphis from Winston-Salem, N. C. for a vacation. "Billy" Speight entering late and saying a few words to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Speight, Jr., Miss Sallie June Bowman, a recent graduate of Howard Univ. and her brother, Carl Bowman who stuck close to their cousins, the Whitum Brothers, (Harold and Kenneth with his pretty wife, Helen). Miss Antonia Moore who will join them and go on to New York where they will visit a brother and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Willie Hutchinson and to Bridgeport, Connecticut for a week with Mr. Fletcher's brother, Mr. Rolla Fletcher.

Mr. and Mrs. George Isbel are back from the West Coast where they left their young daughter, Dr. Josephine Isbel where she is teaching in the field of Pediatric Cardiology at the University of Southern California.

Mr. Ernest Estridge, his youngsters, Ernestine and Ernest, Jr., are in town visiting his mother and sister, Mrs. Annie Estridge and Mrs. Bernice Colloway on Alston Ave. The Estridges hail from Alta Dena, California.

In town for a two week visit are Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas (Lorene) of Chicago and Mrs. Ula Mae Jackson of St. Louis who are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed McCurdy on Volentine St. and sister, Mrs. Marine C. McCurdy on Lewis St.

Dr. and Mrs. Leland Atkins attended the Chicagoans Week-end event in Chicago the last week end in May. They returned again last week from Boston, Benning Harbor, on Oak Bluff. Nantucket after attending the Guardsman's swanky week-end event in Boston as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Gregory Carter. They also stopped off at his beautiful new home at Newport News and went to Hampton where he has served as College Physician. The Atkins' last stop was New York City where they were guest at the Waldorf Astoria. It was in Saks Fifth Avenue that they ran into Dr. Ernest Bright Bradley with her her husband, Dr. Nathan Brady and their young son. They also ran into another friend "BILL" COLLIN who has has Publishing House in New York City.

Fear Of New Offensive From Communist

By STUART HENSLEY
(UPI Diplomatic Reporter)
WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Official sources said Monday President Johnson probably will comply with a request by President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam for a meeting somewhere in the Pacific — probably Hawaii — within the next few weeks.

They said in Saigon he requested such a meeting because threats of a new Communist offensive made it necessary for him to cancel his scheduled trip to Washington later this month for a state visit.

He asked for the conference within the "next few weeks" to discuss the Paris Vietnam talks and the conduct of the war.

The State Department would only acknowledge in general terms that such a meeting was possible but other officials said the meeting was almost a certainty.

There was no word about when and where, but the assumption was that it would be soon and probably be at the U.S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters in Hawaii.

Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer, asked about the possibility of a meeting, said:

"We have been in consultation with respect to the announcement made by President Thieu."

Questioned further, he said the "consultation with Saigon" had taken place before Thieu made his announcement Monday.

In a communique, Thieu said he wanted to meet with Johnson for "a few days" to discuss "important and urgent matters."

MANY PROBLEMS

"There are many important problems which necessitate a direct exchange of views between the national leaders, and cannot suffer a long delay, especially problems relating to the peace explorations and joint defense efforts in the present struggle," he said.

The two presidents last met about seven months ago in Canberra, Australia, when they attended memorial services for Prime Minister Harold Holt of Australia.

Thieu said Monday the time and place of the meeting would be announced when they had been agreed on by himself and President Johnson.

25 High School Students Enroll In Science Project

ALBANY, GA. — Twenty-five high-schoolers from 11 states and Puerto Rico are enrolled in the Student Science Training Program in Mathematics at Albany State College this summer.

GOP Seek Young Voters In Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) —

The Republican State Office has announced that Paul Holmes of Farrar, Mrs. James Harding of Columbus, and Don Stewart of Decatur have organized a committee engaging in an effort to get more Republican participation from the younger voters.

In making this effort the Republican Party believes it is recognizing the growing importance of the young voter in Georgia.

The state of Georgia is one of two states allowing 18 year olds to vote. This program, being called "20,000 teens equals victory '68," is designed to reach into each county in the state and enlist a task force of young voters who will be voting for their first time.

Paul Holmes, himself a candidate for county commissioner, has said that: "The Republican Party offers the younger voter a greater opportunity for direct participation in the political process."

Traditionally the younger voters do not vote in large numbers. While nationally 51 per cent of the younger voters vote (age 18-24) in the South only 37 per cent of these vote.

By having a strong two party system more voters of all ages will register and will vote and we know they will vote Republican."

CORE Checks Black Power

At the National Convention of The Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) indicated that it is waking up to the danger and reality of extremism.

CORE is known as one of the more militant Civil Rights groups, but apparently it is not willing to be dominated by the Black Power group of extremists.

The test of strength between the less militant group represented by Floyd McKissick, national director of the organization, and the Black Power militants came over the question of amending the constitution. The extreme militants were checked.

However, McKissick is retiring because of ill health and his successor, Roy Innis, is reported to be more militant. But they both seem to agree that the extremists should be blocked from power.

What might be another indication that CORE will take a less militant view is the report that the Brooklyn, N.Y., chapter of the organization was asked to leave the convention because members of that group showed discourtesy toward Roy Wilkins of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People when he appeared before the convention.

In any event, we are glad that the CORE leadership indicates that they realize that extremism is not the effective way to advance the true interest of our people.

Moreover, our leadership will be wise to watch the mood of the great mass of white citizens also. It is our observation that this opinion is moving toward the center rather than farther to the left.

We are mindful too that most of our recent commencement speakers warned against the philosophy of separatism as advocated by the Black Power people.

The Democrats Delay

Although the Republicans in Georgia have carried out their regular procedure every four years in selecting their delegates to their national convention and both parties in other states have carried out their processes in selecting their delegates. Yet the Democrats in Georgia are not sure yet who will be selected as carry out the function of being delegates to their convention which meets in Chicago August 26th.

Democrat State Chairman James Gray stated Monday that he had conferred with Gov. Lester Maddox and in a day or two the delegate list will be revealed.

One of the problems confronting the Democrats is that the parties and custom in this state are that the party state chairman picks the delegates subject to the approval of the governor who is titular head of the party. And another problem is that the governor has come out favoring third-party candidate, former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama for the presidential nomination.

And still another problem for the Democrats of Georgia is the fact they will probably find it difficult to find a Negro who is willing to go to the Democrat National Convention in a delegation headed by Gov. Maddox. Usually the Democrats are bound by the unit rule in their delegations to national conventions.

It could be most embarrassing to a Negro who might go as a delegate to the convention under Maddox and find himself bound to walk out with Maddox over the race question under the delegation unit rule.

After this year we suggest to the Democrats of Georgia to find a more representative way to select their delegates to their national convention.

We suggest they copy the fair and impartial manner followed by the Republicans in Georgia. A portion of the GOP delegates are selected by vote at the various Congressional District conventions and the others are elected as at-large delegates at their party's state convention.

It will be interesting to watch who the Maddox Democrats selected as delegates and what the anti-Maddox Democrats will do at the upcoming convention at Chicago.

Why Newspapers Are Better

Television, the miracle medium now in most American homes, is, with radio, unquestionably the best instrument for instant coverage of sensational events.

Yet it is clear that newspapers will remain supreme in the general coverage of news. One reason is because television and radio news programs force the viewer or listener to listen to their commercials.

With a newspaper, if he seeks information about sports — one can turn to the appropriate section and read exactly what he wishes. He wants to find out about the market or the weather, on television, he must sit and listen to half an hour's chatter on fifteen commercials in the process.

Because people are interested in the weather, television stations almost invariably devote too much time to their daily reports — they can sell the time and get in a few interruptions for commercials. The announcer selected to do the weather bit often knows little about it, often spends much time talking about weather three thousand miles away, surely of limited interest.

Time being so limited (and expensive), only selected news items are included, even in relatively lengthy newscasts. Thus important news developments are often left out. In the newspaper, one can not only turn to what he wants to read about but he can also find more news (in larger papers especially). For being able to read about what one is interested in, to get complete coverage and avoid sales pitches, the newspaper remains supreme.

Housing Project

will stabilize rent for a resident for one year regardless of whether his income increases during that year (a decrease in rent would be effected temporarily, though, if an occupant's income were reduced by as much as one-third); elimination of $35 minimum rents which apply presently to recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children and of $45 minimum rents which apply presently to residents who are students; allow residents whose annual income exceeds Public Housing limits to remain in occupancy until standard housing they can afford becomes available; establish a rent of no more than $75 a month for families continuing to be eligible for Public Housing and of no more than $80 a month for over-income families; and elimination of earnings by minors as part of a family's total annual income, which is used to determine rent.

A stepped-up social service program would be carried out if the modernization program is approved by the Housing and Urban Development Department.

Reconditioning work already is being done at the Dixie Homes community center to prepare for assigning a part of the building to the Boys' Club of Memphis for that organization to conduct a program designed to serve the development and the low-income area to the west, north, and east of it.

Adequate space for a day-care center at LeMayne Gardens is planned, provided community sponsorship can be secured.

The Authority and the Police Department are expanding membership in the year-old Police Community Housing Clubs in each development. The War on Poverty Committee has funded a work program involving 120 youths and 12 senior citizens, all of whom are residents of the developments to which they are assigned for work.

About 100 youths from the developments have had from one day to one week each of summer camp experience through co-operation of the tenant associations in the developments, the YMCA, Youth Service, Inc., the Boy and Girl Scouts, the North Memphis Area Association and the Police Community Housing Clubs.

New playground equipment has been installed at LeMayne Gardens as a result of a priority list submitted to the Housing Authority by members of the Police Community Housing Club at the end of last summer. A hard-surface regulation-size basketball court with goals is being built at LeMayne Gardens.

Playground equipment also is to be ordered and installed for other developments which need it.

The Memphis Park Commission has assigned about 50 supervisors to playgrounds and parks in Housing Authority developments. The program is War on Poverty Committee funded.

Through the sponsorship of the Neighborhood House, which is headquartered at Lauderdale Courts, a clean-minipark has been established by the Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Committee on Urban Renewal land near the development. The land has been sold to the Tennessee Highway Department to become a part of the Interstate route through midtown. The Highway Department, concurrently in the land's use as a park site until such a time as it is needed for highway construction.

Air conditioning of day-care facilities at Foote-Cleburn Homes will be scheduled as well as in community space at Dixie Homes, Lamar Terrace, LeMayne Gardens, H. P. Hurt Village, Henry E. Oates Manor and Lauderdale Courts.

A community building is in the program for construction at Joseph A. Fowler Homes. Adequate space was not provided originally, due to lack of construction funds.

A training program for all Maintenance Department personnel will be open to any resident of Public Housing who thinks he might benefit.

Longest Heart Transplant

Blaiberg Continues To Improve

By WILLEM STEENKAMP
CAPE TOWN, South Africa — (UPI) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest surviving heart transplant patient, showed "further evidence of improvement" Monday and asked doctors for steak and eggs.

The latest bulletin from Groote Schuur Hospital said:

"Dr. Blaiberg's progress continues. Both the lung complication and the hepatitis show further evidence of improvement. The patient is much more cheerful."

FAMILY RELIEVED

The evidence of improvement was even more evident in the happy and relieved faces of Blaiberg's wife and daughter.

"It is a miracle," Mrs. Eileen Blaiberg said. "He is much better."

"He is even asking for steak and eggs," his daughter Jill added.

But as the good news of Blaiberg's progress predominated, a swirl of stormy controversy raged in the background over reports of sharp clashes during the weekend on whether to give the 59-year-old retired dentist a third heart in a second transplant.

"America's Only Friends Are About To Be Lost" Says Evers

WASHINGTON—(UPI)—America is on the verge of losing the "only friends" it has—American Negroes—because it has refused to give nonviolent Negro leaders "anything to hang onto," Mississippi civil rights leader Charles Evers said Sunday.

Evers repeatedly denounced violence but warned that many Negroes particularly the young, are turning towards it because they feel they have no other choice.

He said on a television interview Face the Nation—CB that he has seen no evidence of an effective successor to Dr. M. Luther King emerging as leader of the non-violent civil rights movement.

The Mississippi NAACP leader said King was a great leader "and look what happened to him."

"White people don't understand that. You don't give the nonviolent a leg to stand on."

He admitted there is rapidly waning support for non violence as a means of eliminating racial barriers in the United States.

"There are only a few who think like I think because you haven't given us anything to hang onto."

The only friends America has is the American Negro... that's why I say all over the country not to lose them.

On a related topic, Evers urged a federal law against anyone except "authorized persons" owing any type of firearms.

His brother, Megar Evers, and two close friends, King and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy all were assassinated with guns.

Evers who last week walked off the Mississippi delegation to the Democratic National Convention refused to endorse anyone for the presidential nomination.

A supporter of the late Sen. Kennedy, Evers said, "I feel owe Bobby that much. I just couldn't."

LEGAL NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Bids will be received by the Memphis Housing Authority at its office at 700 Adams Avenue, until 10:00 o'clock A.M., C.D.S.T., Monday, July 15, 1968, for the furnishing of all labor, material and equipment, for twice weekly pick-up of garbage and refuse from nine Memphis Housing Authority low-rent housing developments for the period beginning August 1, 1968, and extending for eleven months through June 30, 1969.

Bid Security in the form of a Money Order, Certified or Cashier's Check, made payable to the Memphis Housing Authority or a satisfactory Bid Bond in the amount not less than five percent (5%) of the bid, will be required, and must accompany the bid.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish and pay for a satisfactory performance and payment bond.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the Specifications must be paid by the contractor, and that the contractor must ensure that employees and applicants for employment are not discriminated against because of their race, creed, color or national origin.

The Memphis Housing Authority reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding and to award the contract to whomsoever it desires.

All Bidders must be licensed contractors in the State of Tennessee and must submit evidence of same at the time of opening of bids.

All Bidders must also have City of Memphis Privilege license and submit evidence of same before commencing the work.

This document is and shall be a part of the contract.

cognizes that you cannot ignore the people with impunity."

Allen, who said he would support the primary winner but refused to say who his choice would be for the nomination, eyed the political newsmen and asked, "How do you feel, taking on the king-pin?"

"I'm not cocky about my chances of winning" Jackson replied. "But I have an absolute and total commitment to the cities and the farm ers. It's time for Georgia to go on and claim its rightful place."

You're going to have a tremendously interesting summer," Allen predicted. "I guess you'll take about two inches off that waistline."

After the meeting, Jackson told newsmen, "I think the Mayor is doing the very best he can—he's doing a fine job."

He said he did not make the visit seeking support, "but I would welcome his Allen's endorsement; however."

Jackson declaring he is a serious candidate, called Talmadge's remarks that it would take $1 million to beat him "the height of arrogance. It's deplorable to feel they have the right to office for the amount of money they have or control."

"WHEN BOOKS RUN DRY"

TEXT: "It Came To Pass After A While, That The Brook Dried Up, Because There had been no Rain In The Land."

Elijah was sent by the Command of God to the Brook Cherith. Here in hiding Elijah was watered by the Brook and Fed by Ravens; but the Brook dried up.

God had said, I shall feed you there, and you shall drink of the brook and be satisfied. Yet in spite of God's Guidance and promise and Elijah's obedience, the brook dried up. This would have crushed any ordinary faith.

Let us see the meaning of it all and the discipline therein. It will make us stronger when our brooks dry up.

No doubt the failure of the Water was meant to deepen Elijah's sense of brotherhood. There had been no rain, the whole land was parched. Every where people were praying for rain. They were suffering the cruel pangs of thirst.

In the cool little valley where the brook flowed, it was comfortable. That is not the way God makes his saints. We don't go to heaven on flowery beds of ease. Always remember no cross, no crown, no Gall no Glory, no thorns no Thorns.

That Elijah might be a brother among brothers and feel his kinship with his suffering nation, it came to pass that the brook dried up.

In our lives that the secret of the falling brook. It is not because God is angry that our brooks fail. God wants us to be brothers. One touch of nature makes us all kin. God wants us to cease from our false pride and realize our brotherhood, our kinship. There is no sympathy so deep, so strong, so sincere as that which springs out of common suffering.

We were once so superior, so exclusive, but I came to pass our brook dried up.

Another lesson, God makes no exceptions, into each life some rain must fall. Just wait awhile and you will be sick just live long and you will be old and forsaken, just stand for the right and will be slandered.

Said God to Elijah: "Arise get thee to Zarepath." Elijah arose and went down to the heathen village Zarepath. Elijah was a Jew, he believed beyond the convent all was darkness. He soon saw that God was gracious to a heathen born woman, a widow. He learned that "there is a witness in God's mercy, like the witness of the sea." Elijah learned his utter dependence upon God.

There was a day when he though he had everything, we were sitting pretty but it came to pass that brook ran dry. It took that to cast us utterly upon the arm of God.

Remember Jesus was made perfect through suffering—Hebrew 2:10 said Jesus, "Fools and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken; ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter unto his glory?" Luke 24:25, 26.

$25,000 Given UNCF By United Insurance Co.

Today United Insurance Company of America, represented by Walter H. Lenhard, Jr., president, along with O. T. Hogan, chairman of the board and founder, and A. D. Johnson, secretary and co-founder of the forty-nine year old company, because one of the major contributors to the nationwide United Negro College Fund through its gift of $25,000 to UNCF.

The United Negro College Fund is a federation of 34 independent, accredited senior colleges and universities organized to seek financial support through an annual nationwide appeal.

The presentation of the gift was made in the offices of United Insurance Company of America, One East Wacker Drive, Chicago. Dr. James R. Lawson, president of Fisk University, Nashville, Tennessee, came to Chicago to accept the gift on behalf of the national committee.

In addition to the above, representatives of the local committee present were: William G. Caples, chairman of the UNCF Chicago campaign, Vice President of Inland Steel; Warren H. Bacon, co-chairman of the UNCF Chicago campaign, Assistant Director of Industrial Relations of Inland Steel; and, Tilden Cummings, member of the UNCF Steering Committee, president of Continental Illinois National Bank of Chicago.

This gift brings the Chicago campaign total to nearly $110,000. The target for Chicago and suburbs is $450,000 by year end.

The 36 colleges and universities that belong to the Fund are predominantly Negro institutions. They enroll approximately 40,000 full-time students. They maintain an open-door admissions policy for potentially capable high school graduates of all races and creeds from all parts of the country.

The institutions are located in 11 Southern states and the state of Ohio. Most are undergraduate, liberal arts colleges.

The largest portion of each contributed dollar is used by the colleges to bolster scholarship and financial aid programs for more than 21,000 students.

A portion of every gift also is used to improve facilities by essential teaching and laboratory equipment... develop new educational programs... strengthen library holdings.

James I. Taylor, candidate for the State Legislature, District 5, is campaigning among the poor people in the district. He spoke to an appreciative audience last week on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds at 1327 Adelaide St.

The more than 115 persons who heard him assured him of their support and cooperation in the August 1 Democratic Primary.

A Negro Is Choice For President

NEW YORK—UPI—The American Communist party Sunday nominated a Negro woman as its presidential candidate and a man too young to hold the office of vice president as its candidate for that office.

The nominations were considered a surprise, since party spokesmen had said they were certain general secretary Gus Hall would be named as the party's first presidential candidate in 29 years.

The presidential nominee is Charlene Mitchell, 38, a former resident of Los Angeles who now lives in New York City. Mrs. Mitchell was chairman of a panel on "Black Liberationism" during the four-day special convention which ended Sunday at the Hotel Diplomat and has been a Communist for 22 years.

The vice presidential nominee is Michael Zagarell, the 23 year old director of the party's youth program, but under the Constitution of the United States he could be ineligible to the office even if elected.

The constitution requires that the president be at least 35 years old, and the 12th amendment says that "no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of vice president."

Zagarell, a native of the south Bronx, joined the Communist party at the age of 17. He is now awaiting trial as a result of an arrest during an anti-draft demonstration in New York.

Paul Friedman, a party spokesman said the nominations committee submitted the names of Mrs. Mitchell and Zagarell to the 179 delegates at the convention.

He said a convention delegate submitted Hall's name as a presidential nominee but the party leader declined to run against the committee's choices and Mrs. Mitchell and Zagarell were unanimously chosen by delegates who held up green voting cards.

The party had not chosen a presidential slate since 1940 and even though they chose one this year, the party will support other left-wing, third party candidates in states which have such parties running as the Peace and Freedom party of California.

Hall and other party leaders said the convention chose Mrs. Mitchell, who was described as a great granddaughter of a slave, and Zagarell because of the party considered "Black Liberationism" and the alienation of youth as two central issues facing the country and as an appeal to members of these groups.

Court Order To Desegregate Walton Schools

MACON, Ga. — (UPI) — Federal Judge William A. Boodle Monday ordered complete racial desegregation of the Walton County and Social Circle school systems incorporating the first attendance zone assignment plan in Georgia.

Boodle gave Walton County school system attorney Bill Preston until July 17th to submit a satisfactory desegregation plan.

All other court-ordered school desegregation plans in Georgia are the freedom-of-choice type. Under the attendance zone plan, pupils are assigned to a school according to grade.

The U. S. Supreme Court in its May 27 decision ruled illegal all freedom-of-choice plans if other "reasonable available" methods promise "speedier and more effective conversion to a unitary, non-racial system."

The plan discussed in the court is like a run on a bank; individual prejudice can become collective insanity.

In a foreword to the report former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said that the postwar system of world trade "was fashioned in a time of rare accord among nations to replace an inept, selfish and self-defeating policy of economic nationalism." He warned it cannot "survive and improve with out continuing patience and good will and responsible action."

Sales Profits Show Gains According To Harris Report

National merchandisers turned in another record year in 1963 with sales up over 8 per cent and profits up slightly according to a report issued recently by Harris Trust and Savings Bank Chicago. The Bank's 16th annual report contains an analysis of 16 industry leaders, including Rich's Inc.

Stores in the Harris Bank study achieved total sales of $8.130 million compared with $7.454 million last year a gain of 9.08 per cent. In spite of rising costs during the past year, the net operating profit margin improved slightly from 7.19 per cent to 7.22 per cent.

Miscellaneous non-operating expenses, however, were up modestly from a year ago as a percentage of sales and, as a result, the ratio of after-tax profits to sales remained unchanged at 3.66 per cent. Total after-tax earnings for the group reached a level of $297 million in fiscal 1968 — an increase of 8.82 per cent.

The report was issued by Henry S. Kahn, Harris vice president in charge of the commercial lending division specializing in the merchandising industry. Mr. Kahn expressed optimism for 1968. "Currently we're seeing a substantial increase in outlays for goods and services. Buoyant consumer demand has been the major factor in the gain, and the pronounced 'autumn' that consumers showed in '67 has diminished."

This is known, Kahn said, by the decrease in personal savings as a percent of disposable income from 1.5 per cent in the fourth quarter of 1967 to 0.8 per cent during the first three months of 1968. In addition, disposable personal income grew at a 9.9 per cent annual rate in the first quarter of 1968 compared to a 7.0 per cent rate in the final quarter of 1967. These factors have produced a more desirable climate in the merchandising industry with favorable increases in

Can your hair be damaged from brushing, alone?

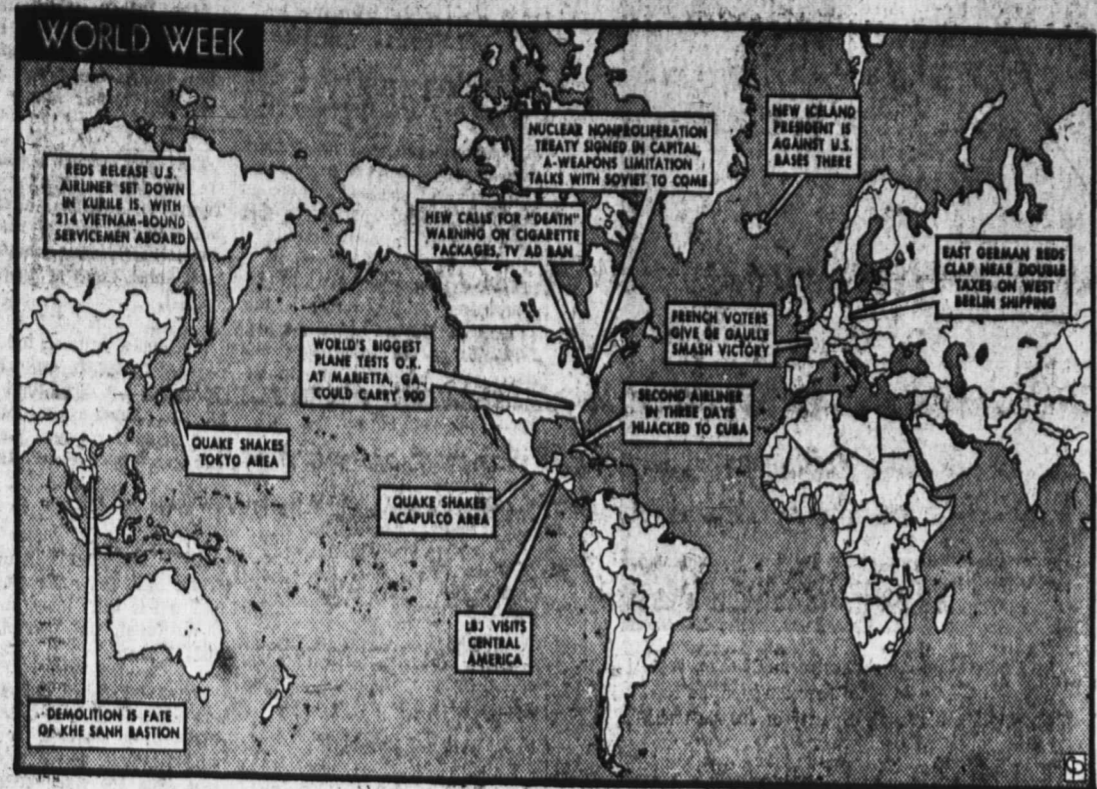

All hair becomes damaged from exposure to sun and natural elements. Certain greasy compounds and many chemicals, improperly used, also take their toll...not to mention simple attempts at beautifying the hair with any brush not made of natural bristles. The results are brittleness, breakage, dry and dull looking hair.

Your professional beautician knows how artificial bristles actually brush away a great deal of the "lubricants" of the hair that give it body, lustre and protection. And trained beauticians claim that nothing beats Clairol's condition Beauty Pack Treatment for leaving hair lively and easy to manage. Condition is an easy-to-work-with creme which can even be applied during a chemical straightening retouch to prevent drying of hair that has been previously relaxed. Condition is the ultimate in repairing deep-down damage. And, when time is a factor for their customers, hairdressers turn to new Clairol's Hair Dew—the lotion conditioner that penetrates so fast many think of it as an instant conditioner. When applied regularly by your beautician, Clairol's Hair Dew adds body, softens and gives a glowing new look to your hair that many friends will notice and admire.

Damage can come from using brushes with artificial bristles. But damage to every woman's hair comes from so many other causes that all human hair (including wigs) needs to be revitalized periodically. Visit your professional beautician and ask this expert to check the condition of your hair.

United States Merchant Marine Seek Qualified Applicants Now

The United States Merchant Marine Academy desires to inform qualified young black men of the opportunities available to them at the Academy and in the United States Merchant Marine.

The Academy, operated by the Maritime Administration of the United States Department of Commerce, is located on Long Island Sound at Kings Point, New York, about twenty miles from New York City.

The Academy educates and trains young men for careers as licensed deck or engineering officers in the Merchant Marine through a four year college curriculum leading to the Bachelor of Science degree.

In addition to receiving a degree and a license as third officer or third assistant engineer, graduates are Commissioned as Ensign, United States Naval Reserve, by the Department of the Navy.

Candidates for admission must be nominated by a Congressman or Senator, but appointments are made on the basis of candidates' competitive standing within the state from which nominated.

Competitive standing is determined by College Board Examination Scores, high school rank in class, and subjective evaluation of candidates' leadership potential and motivation.

Men desiring admission to the Academy with the class entering in July 1969 should request a nomination from a Congressman or Senator as soon as possible, and not later than December 1968.

Information concerning the Academy program, requirements for admission and procedure for requesting a nomination can be obtained by writing to:

Admissions Office: United States Merchant Marine Academy Kings Point, New York 11024.

Nixon Organizes Advisory Group

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon has mobilized a braintrust of powerful senators and congressmen led by Texas Sen. John Tower to help think out his positions on critical issues, Nixon-for-President headquarters disclosed Sunday.

They are Tower; Sen. Karl Mundt, S. D.; Sen. Roman Hruska, Neb.; Sen. Howard Baker, Tenn.; Bradford Morse, Mass.; Rep. Les Arends, Ill.; Rep. Katherine May, Wash.; Rep. Clark MacGregor, Minn.; and Rep. Rogers Morton, Md.

"This committee will advise and assist me on the problems facing our nation today, including national security, urban affairs, financial stability, law enforcement, agriculture, education and jobs," Nixon said in a statement released by his headquarters.

The blue-ribbon advisory panel dubbed the "Key Issues Committee," represents not only every section of the country but connections with seven of Washington's most powerful committees — the Appropriations Committees of both houses, Senate Foreign Relations, House Foreign Affairs and Senate Judiciary.

This battery would, observers said, make Nixon more competitive with the high-powered and expert advisory staff of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, which turns out a position paper on some subject almost daily.

Trade War, No Profit, Glory And No Need

Fifty business leaders warned recently that restrictions on imports could drive the United States into a world trade war.

In a report published by the Emergency Committee for American Trade, the businessmen said that proposals for import quotas and other trade barriers now before Congress "may mark the end of 20 years of trade expansion." It added that in these 20 years the United States had exported $80 billion more than it imported and predicted future trade surpluses. "If we become more competitive and world trade continues to grow."

The Committee, headed by Arthur K. Watson, Chairman of the IBM World Trade Corporation, said:

"Despite a disappointing trade balance in early 1968, trade is still the dollars best friend."

The quota proposals before Congress would limit imports of products ranging from "steel to strawberries," the committee said, and could affect half the nation's imports. It said such action would:

—Undermine the hard-won trade agreements made in the Kennedy Round to lower world trade barriers.

—Jeopardize America's $30 billion annual export business and lay the groundwork for a quota war or trade war with our trading partners, making it more difficult to defend the dollar.

The report quotes official statements by foreign governments that have threatened to retaliate against U.S. exports if quota proposals are approved by Congress. These, say the Committee, would "open the door to retaliation of a state not seen since the 'beggar-thy-neighbor' days of the 1930's."

The Committee concluded that, because of retaliation, "a trade war

Enforce 1964 Commitments NAACP Urges Democrats

NEW YORK — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has called upon the Democratic National Committee to require "firm compliance with" the Committee's 1964 commitment that state delegations to the party's national conventions must have "fair and representative inclusion of Negroes."

In a telegram to John M. Bailey, committee chairman, dispatched July 3, NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins cited refusal of Mississippi Democrats to provide more than token Negro representation in its delegation and alluded to the seven half-votes allotted to Negro Democrats among New York State's 65 at-large delegates.

"Action by the Democratic party organization in Mississippi, 'Mr. Wilkins told Chairman Bailey, 'is a clear rejection of the national party mandate of 1964 for fair and representative inclusion of Negroes in delegations to the National convention.

Democratic regulars in Mississippi seem to believe they can get away with tokenism in the make-up of their 1968 delegation.

"Four years ago, the Democratic party made a solemn pledge, not solely to its partisan adherents but to the entire citizenry, that no racial discrimination would be countenanced. The NAACP expects nothing less than firm compliance with this pledge.

"We may note in passing that the Democratic organization in New York State will hardly be in a position to applaud application of the 1964 pledge to Mississippi, since the New York delegation is similarly meagre in its minority group component."

In Mississippi, Charles Evers, one of the four Negroes designated as members of the state delegation, declined the designation when the state convention refused to enlarge Negro representation.

Although in New York there are 28 full votes among the 65 at-large delegates, the state committee designated no Negro full-vote delegate. Manhattan Borough President Percy Sutton is among the seven Negroes designated for a half-vote.

BRVES "400" CLUB LUNCHEON, FRIDAY, JULY 12

Braves "400" Club will host Manager Walter Alston and the Los Angeles Dodgers at a luncheon Friday, July 12th, 12:30 p.m. at the Marriott Motor Hotel, and will sponsor a special "Old Times Day Branch," Saturday, July 13, at the same facility. A galaxy of one-time greats including Al Lopez, who will manage the American League ex-giants and Jimmy Dykes, who will pilot the one-time National League saints.

"Old Times Day" which is a joint presentation of the Braves "400" Club and the Atlanta Braves will have a long list of former stars of famous-name players whom have been idolized by millions of base ball fans in the past quarter century.

Sam Harris, manager of the Braves and a number of his outstanding performers, will also be present at the monthly luncheon Friday.

J. L. Jordan is president of the Braves "400" Club and he has some outstanding officers in Bill Bass, Al Thompson, Archie Yawm and Joe Vinny who give beyond the call of duty service to the organization.

The club board of directors includes such down-to-earth and dedicated sportsmen as Charlie Brown, Joe Gerson, Eddie Glen non, Ed Harris, Ben Hyman, Hubert M. Jackson, McCready Johns on, Stanley Knapp, Gene McDermott, Bob Montag, Elmer Morris, Joe Pittard, Charlie Roberts Sid Scarborough and Steve Schmidt.

A GREAT DEAL OF CREDIT should go to Eddie Glenn of the Braves for recruiting the "Old Times" who will display their talent beginning at 12:30 Saturday afternoon at Atlanta Dodgers as a pregame feature of the Braves-Los Angeles Dodgers game.

FOR THE RECORD Miles College Birmingham, Ala., will send a contingent of 80 faculty members alumni and friends to Atlanta, Sunday, July 14th to pay tribute to Willie Mays, star centerfielder of the San Francisco Giants.

Mays, a former native of Fairfield, Ala., which is a community adjacent to Vinesville where the Miles College campus is located, is serving as chairman of a $5 million fund-raising drive for a sports center which will be named in his honor — THE WILLIE MAYS HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION CENTER.

The proposed facility for Miles College will provide athletic facilities for various college programs. The addition will enable the institution to expand its participation in intercollegiate athletics. In addition, a major in physical education will be added to the curriculum.

Dr. L. H. Pitts, president of Miles College, feels the center will be equally as important as a recreation center for the City of Fairfield, where Mays grew up and attended Fairfield Industrial High School, which was recently renamed for its retired long-time principal E. J. Oliver.

Miles College is planning, upon construction of the Willie Mays Sports Center, to institute major programs of competitive sports and supervised recreational activities for all ages in the Fairfield community. Dr. Pitts and Mays feel that the center will become one of the best athletic facilities of its kind in the State of Alabama.

Before the start of Sunday's Braves-Dodgers game, Miss Phyllis Floyd (Miss Miles of 1968-69) and Leander Woods, star of the Golden-Bear basketball team, will present small gifts to Mays.

Several of Mays' boyhood friends, including Herman Boykins, Jesse J. Lewis, and Golden Bear athletic director T. J. Knox, will greet the San Francisco star.

Atlanta Life Holds Natal Day Celebration

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — For more than a quarter of a century the Home Office and many Atlanta Branch Office personnel and friends have assembled on June 26 the birth date of the late A. F. Herndon, founder of the Atlanta Life Insurance Company, to pay tribute to Founder Herndon, a benefactor in our job opportunities and in appreciation of his ideals, far-sightedness, frugality and generosity to have established 89 years ago, a business then known as Atlanta Mutual Benefit Association quite small in assets and personnel, but huge in future aspects in the mind and objective of Alonzo Franklin Herndon, the Founder.

The Celebration this year, was Wednesday, June 26. The acorn planted in 1906 by the Founder, A. F. Herndon, has grown greatly over the 63 years into a giant tree giving economic shelter to hundreds of thousands people, policyholders and employees, throughout the 11 States in which Atlanta Life Insurance Company operates and beyond.

The celebration speaker was Rev. Melvin H. Watson, Pastor of Liberty Baptist Church and Professor, Interdenominational Theological Center of Atlanta, Georgia, who spoke very inspiringly to his audience, which included Retiree, Mrs. Lizzie Craft and guests, Mattie B. Lang and Mrs. Grace DeLorme. The Atlanta Life Choral Ensemble under direction of Mrs. Leslye A. Nolan of the accounting department, of Atlanta Life, rendered special music, "No Man is an Island" and "There Must Be A God Somewhere," arranged and directed by Nathaniel N. Prothro, of the tabulating department, Mrs. Emma Tomlinson prayed, just before Dr. H. L. Lang, deceased who presided, gave the purpose of the Meeting. Nathaniel Prothro, Jr., served as piano accompanist for all the hymns and special musical selections of part one of the celebration which was held in the assembly hall of the company.

In Part Two, which was at the South View Cemetery, prayer, was offered by Remus Johnson of the Atlanta Life branch office. After the Hymn, "I Come To The Garden Alone," was sung, Mesdames, Catherine Hill and Dorothea Simmons placed large flower arrangements on the grave of the founder, which brought the 1968 celebration to an end. Mrs. Marie M. Sims, supervisor, of the bookkeeping department, was program chairman.

Gun Control Law Backed By Presbyterians

NEW YORK — Strong advocacy of gun control laws was expressed today by the top elective officer of the United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.

The Rev. Dr. John Coventry Smith, moderator of the denomination's 180th General Assembly, said the time has come when "The state must exert some realistic control over the purchase and possession of weapons of death." He urged other United Presbyterians "to act responsibly within our political system so as to move the Congress to enact stringent and appropriate gun control legislation. Speaking as an individual member of the 3.3 million member denomination, Dr. Smith sent the message to Congressional committees currently holding hearings on gun control proposals, and to about 260 church members who are chairmen of Church and Society Committees.

Noting that in an average week more than 300 Americans are killed by guns, Dr. Smith reflected, "Our legislators assess the prudence of gun control, as they have done after each spectacular murder by gun."

"For decades," he added, "an overwhelming but unorganized majority has favored stricter gun controls, while a small, disciplined minority has fought rigorously against control."

But, he said, realistic controls now are necessary. "The Declaration of Independence enumerates three inalienable rights: life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. The pursuit of happiness must now yield something to the prior right of life."

"The silent majority has begun to speak; let United Presbyterians add their voices. I urge every United Presbyterian to discharge his civic responsibility."

Ray's Attorney May Plead Him Innocent On 'Insanity'

By SCOTT B. BRUNS

LONDON — (UPI) — The Alabama lawyer for James Earl Ray met with the accused assassin for the first time Friday and announced that if Ray is extradited he will plead innocent, possibly on grounds of insanity, to the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Arthur Hanes, former mayor of Birmingham, said he felt "more confident of a successful defense" after talking for 30 to 35 minutes with Ray across a wire barrier at Wandsworth Prison in West London.

SUCCESSFUL DEFENSE "For me a successful defense means a verdict of not guilty," the attorney told reporters.

Asked how Ray would plead, Hanes replied "not guilty, not guilty to anything."

Earlier, after his arrival at London airport, he said the pleas might include innocent by reason of insanity.

Hanes said the innocent plea would apply to bank robbery charges in Missouri on which the United States sought extradition as well as to the King murder charge filed in Memphis.

A London court Tuesday ordered Ray extradited to America on both charges but Ray appealed.

Emerging from the grayness of Wandsworth Prison into bright sunlight, Hanes qualified all discussions of appeals by saying "only if he is extradited. I am not certain he will be."

He insisted on identifying the

Westmoreland Takes Desk As New Army Chief Of Staff

By DARRELL GARGOOD

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland took a desk job at the Pentagon Wednesday as Army Chief of Staff with a 19-gun salute, a handshake from President Johnson and praise for his four years as U.S. military commander in Vietnam.

Sworn in by Army Secretary Stanley Resor for a two-year term, the 54-year-old four-star general expressed humility and pride in taking over as military chief of an Army "dedicated to security, law and order, and honorable peace."

The President motored from the White House to the Pentagon to watch the swearing-in and Westmoreland's review of an honor guard of more than 150 troops, including a detachment in Revolutionary War uniform.

Johnson did not speak during the half-hour ceremony but warmly shook Westmoreland's hand before he left to fly to Texas for a long weekend. The two presumably discussed the war Tuesday night at the White House, where the general and his wife, Katherine, were over night guests.

Resor said he was confident Westmoreland would bring to his new post as successor to the retired Gen. Harold K. Johnson a "breadth of vision equal to the breadth of his experience."

Westmoreland presided over the major U. S. buildup in the Vietnam War that began in early 1965. Resor said he "served with distinction in as difficult an assignment as any American commander has had."

Westmoreland, who served in the African and European campaigns in World War II and was an airborne commander in Korea, responded that his recognition was in large measure recognition of the steadfast support I received" in Vietnam.

"I will do all possible to measure up to the performance of Gen. Johnson in providing support to our Army troops on the firing line," he said.

The West Pointer, a South Carolina native, became the 25th Army Chief of Staff, a position which over the years and under various titles has been held by such military notables as Gen. William T. Sherman, John J. Pershing and Douglas MacArthur.

Three of his other predecessors — George Washington, Ulysses S. Grant and Dwight D. Eisenhower — became President.

Arthur Ashe Jr. Given Tennis Lesson By Old Pro Rod Laver

By MIKE HUGHES UPI SPORTS WRITER

WIMBLEDON, England — (UPI) — Old pro Rod Laver gave Arthur Ashe a tennis lesson and Tony Roche beat the challenge of Clark Graebner Wednesday to oust the two American amateurs and set up an all Australian final in the first open Wimbledon championships.

Laver, the red-haired Aussie acknowledged as the world's leading professional, turned in his best performance of the tournament and never gave Ashe a chance in defeating the Army lieutenant from Richmond, Va., 7-5, 6-2, 6-4.

Roche, also a pro and seeded 13th in the meet, dined New Yorker Graebner, 9-7, 8-10, 6-4, 6-6, in a 2 1-2 hour battle.

Laver the top seed in the tourney, will be bidding for his third Wimbledon title against Roche. He won the crown in 1961 and again in 1962 while competing as an amateur.

U. S. WOMEN ADVANCE While Ashe and Graebner were going down to defeat, U. S. teammates Billie Jean King and Nancy Richey helped the American cause by advancing to the semifinals in Women's singles.

Mrs. King, a professional from Long Beach, Calif., advanced by beating Lesley Bowrey of Australia 6-3, 6-4, as she continued her bid for a third, straight Wimbledon title. A woman competitor hasn't taken three consecutive Wimbledon singles crowns since Maureen Connolly turned the trick in 1952-53-54.

"It is our hope that this will be a long range solution to our problem of persons on welfare rolls who do not have the will or motivation to get off the welfare rolls," Burson said.

He added that welfare dollars would do "double duty" by getting useful work from welfare recipients.

After a year, Burson said he hoped these persons would be ready to accept full time regular employment.

SLC Asks Board Of Education To Halt School Bias At Once

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — Atlanta Summit Leadership Conference officials asked that immediate action be taken to "end racial discrimination" in the city's school system on Monday.

The conference leaders requested the establishment of a combined committee of school board members, school officials and Negro citizens to consider solutions to racial problems.

Rev. Sam Williams, conference co-chairman, requested an immediate meeting with board members to discuss the need for such a committee. Board Chairman Bill Wainwright and the Rev. Williams will meet before the week terminates.

A "crash program" to end racial discrimination practices in employment by the city's school system was requested by conference officials.

The Rev. Mr. Williams statement "You rejected suggestions of a formula for assigning qualified persons as principals of predominantly Negro school," indicates his concern over the 'net loss of Negro principals as a result of what he describes "discriminatory personnel policy."

The co-chairman requested an explanation of why PTA organizations at various predominately being "discouraged" by school officials.

He requested a projected enrollment by race of the reopened Hoke Smith High School where a white principal has been named.

"Our unofficial projections indicate that between 75 and 90 percent of the students will be Negro," he stated.

A program to recruit more Negro teachers for day and night school at the Atlanta Area Technical School and a review of he curriculum at the school for adding less technical courses for less qualified unemployed persons were requested by the Rev. Mr. Williams.

The Rev. Mr. Williams stated that the Atlanta Transit System should assist the board of education in the transportation of children from overcrowded schools.

Aronid Chase, Assistant Commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics: "The upward trend of prices will continue for several months."

WANTED: EQUAL OPPORTUNITY ON RADIO-TV

Competition whether amateur or professional has a public heritage and must almost as profound as the communications media. We acknowledge this without disavowing some inherent freedom that justice, circumstance and the people through their constitutional sanction have made as Star-Spangled as the American flag. No one in his right mind would want to lift these guarantees without infringement on all we hold so basic to the democratic ideal. There must never be any conflict in our ever surging progress toward all we hold that is Stars and Stripes.

For the critical who censure any attack upon the status quo of the radio-television medium, one needs to only look back to Friday, July 10, when the Federal Communications Commission announced a new policy in denying radio and television licenses to any station shown on complaint to discriminate racially in hiring or programming.

This is a far-reaching decree in that it pinpoints may this that deny the Atlanta area radio and television stations... are practicing flagrant discrimination not only in the selectivity of their personnel, but in biased treatment of news and programs.

Nowadays, one only sees on television the excesses of the civil rights movement and the talk-show language of its militants, but the most sordid and inflammatory violence ever to pollute the home via screen.

IT IS TRUE THAT BASEBALL games of the day, the PGA golf tournaments, professional basketball and bowling and occasional track and field meet, as well as hockey and soccer take the full-time out of the media, but for the most part the air lanes are congested with ancient movies, synthetic soap operas, and repulsive old quiz games while the pulsating drama of community life, particularly in the ghettos of for the sidewalk punts the slums. Largely ignored is the emergence of a Negro middle class with average type homes, of quiet and active manners, who seek a better way of life for their kids, and upgraded job opportunities for themselves.

Last week the FCC on a 3-2 vote rejected a complaint by the United Church of Christ at Tougaloo, Miss., that the license of WLBT-TV at Jackson, Miss., should not be renewed.

The church charged that the station allegedly practiced racial discrimination in its programming during the height of the civil rights movement in the early 1960's.

The majority opinion said the charges were unfounded, but did not delve into the question of whether licenses should be renewed if charges of racial discrimination were upheld. FCC member Kenneth A. Cox, who voted against renewal, said WLBT-TV was "a blatantly, racially-biased station" and should not have its license renewed.

The FCC was urged by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission EEOC and the Justice Department to adopt the policy of not issuing or renewing licenses to stations that discriminate. The FCC will refer complaints raising "a substantial issue of discrimination" to the EEOC to state and local authorities, or it may undertake an investigation itself. The EEOC was created by Congress in 1946 to hear and conciliate racial disputes.

WHILE IT IS TRUE the same-ness of ghetto life is a profile in the fragmentation of the Negro as a nobody, slowly and painfully some Negroes are breaking the barriers and emerging into the bright sunlight of somebody acceptability. It is not enough for the communications media to see us only as

Clay Asks Supreme Court To Throw Out Conviction

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Boxer Cassius Clay asked the Supreme Court Saturday to throw out his conviction for refusing to be drafted, charging that a "White Selective Service System" had unconstitutionally denied him a religious exemption.

"This case should be viewed in the context of our history — a history of racial segregation in the armed forces," said the dethroned heavyweight champion said in a brief filed with the high court.

"The 'White Selective Service System' is but an unconstitutional and statutorily prohibited remnant of our racially discriminatory past," he said.

The Supreme Court probably will decide next fall, after the government files its brief, when it hears the appeal. If it takes the case, the court will schedule oral arguments later in the term and follow with a written opinion.

Clay, who prefers the name of Muhammad Ali, sought a conscientious objector classification, which would have exempted him from the draft as a Muslim minister. However, a series of local draft boards and appeals boards within the Selective Service System refused to change his 1A classification.

On April 24, 1967, he was ordered to report for induction at Houston, Tex. He refused to be inducted. On June 24, 1967, he was convicted for refusal to be drafted in federal district court at Houston and was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $100,000. The fifth Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans affirmed his conviction May 6, 1968.

Bob Gibson, National League Player Of Month

CINCINNATI — (UPI) — Fast-balling Bob Gibson, who won six straight games including five shutouts, was named National League "Player of the Month" for June Friday, receiving 43 of a possible 50 votes.

Runnerup in the balloting, conducted monthly by a committee of 30 baseball writers and broadcasters, was Maury Wills with three votes. Felix Millan of Atlanta, Willie McCovey of San Francisco and Tom Seaver and Ed Charles of the Mets were each named on one ballot.

Gibson's performance during June was near-perfect. He started six games, completing them all and allowing only three earned runs and 28 hits in 54 innings. His earned-run average for the month was 0.50 and he struck out 43 while walking only eight.

The right-hander's performance included five consecutive shutouts which brought him to within one of the major league record held by Don Drysdale of Los Angeles set in May and June. Gibson's string was ended when the Dodgers scored a run in the first inning on a wild pitch at Dodger Stadium, July 1.

Gibson was also chosen the NL's "Player of the Month" in September of 1964.

Wills, who finished second, batted .371 and had a .23 hitting streak in June as the Pirates won 18 of 26 games and moved from last place to sixth in the standings.

REPORT ON YOUTHS

HOW JOB TRY-OUTS TURN ON DROP-OUTS

Slone House counselor David Bailey muses as he considers vocational interests and educational background of a college drop-out. He succeeded in getting the youth work that reawakened his interest in going back to school.

NEW YORK CITY, N.Y. — If a sandy-haired, soft-spoken youth counselor continues to perform his daily miracles on 34th Street, fewer guys and gals will drop out of school this year.

The miracle worker is David Bailey, 27, chief of counseling at William Slone House, one of the world's largest youth hostels. His formula for re-activating would-be drop-outs is deceptively simple: Teach them the hard facts of life so they will go back to school.

From Bailey's confidential files comes this typical case history of a drop-out "turned on" by a job try-out.

healed from Baltimore, Md., and had completed two years of college.

Looking for a job, Bruce asked Bailey's counseling staff for help and expressed interest in engineering and architecture. The staff promised — and delivered jobs in both fields.

For five weeks, Bruce assisted a surveyor. The balance of the summer was spent making photo-copies of blueprints in an architect's office. Though the jobs were easy and paid fairly well, Bruce experienced frustration.

"In both try-outs he discovered that he was nothing more than a flunky," explains Bailey. "Further, he learned that he could not advance to a decision-making role because of his lack of educational qualifications."

That's the word from Slone House where drop-outs are being "turned on" with try-outs.

Lincoln (Mo.) Tigers To Play 10 Grid Games, 26 Cage Contests

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — Six home football games and eleven home basketball dates are on tap for Lincoln University athletic fans according to schedules released by the Jefferson City School recently.

The University will play a ten-game football schedule and a 26-game basketball slated which includes tournaments at Southwest Baptist of Bolivar and Quincy, Ill. The football team will begin drills on Aug. 23 in preparation for their opener on Sept. 21 with Wiley College of Texas at the Lincoln University field.

Other home games are with Arkansas AMAN College on Sept. 28, Northeast Missouri of Kirksville on Oct. 5, Northwest College of Michigan, Oct. 19, Central State of Ohio on Nov. 16 and Langston University of Oklahoma on Nov. 23.

The Central State of Ohio contest will be homecoming for the LU Tigers.

Four road games are on tap. They include trips to Frankfort, Ky., to meet Kentucky State Thoroughbreds, to Fairfield, Iowa to play the always tough Parsons College eleven, to Scott bluff, Neb. for a game with Hiram-Scott and to Maryville to face Northwest Missouri State.

"It's the best home schedule we have ever had," said a happy Dwight Reel-Lincoln University football coach and athletic director.

"We had a bad season, record wise, a year ago," said Reed. "But we have high hopes to improve our 3-6 mark in 1968. We were forced to use some 11 freshmen and 12 sophomores on our team a year ago. We think that they gained a lot of valuable experience and will come back much tougher and stronger this fall."

Only four players are gone from our 1967 team," continued Reed. "However, they will be difficult to replace."

Missing will be tackle Jim Sullivan linebackers Henry Rhome and

Athletics Present New Image In Team

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The Athletics Department at Alabama State College has shown great improvement during the recent seasons by the various athletic teams. According to athletic director, C. J. Dunn, the quality of the athletics now competing competing on the teams are far more aware of the rewards for athletic and scholastic excellence.

Charles Mitchell and Jerry Allen, two 1968 Graduates of Alabama State were drafted by the Baltimore Colts and the Kansas City Chiefs respectively. According to officials sources, each received five figure bonuses for their signatures. Dunn said that "these unprecedented drafts of football players from Alabama State rocketed the aspirations and set the pattern for both returning and new football players."

Mitchell also played in the "Blue-Gray" Game in December which also was a first for Alabama State. Dunn released the following football schedule for 1968: September 21, SAVANNAH STATE COLLEGE, Savannah, Ga.; September 27, PORT VALLEY STATE COLLEGE, Montgomery, Ala.; October 5, KNOXVILLE COLLEGE, Knoxville, Tenn.; October 11, ALBANY STATE COLLEGE, MONTGOMERY; October 19, FISK UNIVERSITY, Nashville, Tenn.; October 26, MOREHOUSE COLLEGE, Montgomery; November 2, ALABAMA A & M COLLEGE, Birmingham, Ala.; November 8, CLARK COLLEGE, Montgomery; November 14, MILES COLLEGE, Birmingham; November 28, TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Montgomery.

Coach Whitney Van Cleave asserted that this year, he will try to improve on the 9-1, won-loss record of Alabama State last year by going undefeated.

Looking at basketball, everyone is buzzing about the marvelous playing of Willie Scott, who came in second in the final NAIA National Scoring title tabulation in 1967-68. Scott was second team all-American in his sophomore year in 1966-67 and first team all-American in his junior year, 1967. Scott was an SIAC all conference choice and made the SIAC All Tournament Team in 1967-68. He was voted the most valuable player in the 1967-68 Tournament. Danny Greenhaw was named to the second team all conference team with John Davis being named to the second all conference team also.

Along with basketball and football, according to Dunn, track, swimming, golf and baseball all have presented a new spectrum on the athletic horizon at Alabama State College.

Falcons Sign Two Free Agents

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — The Atlanta Falcons added two free agents to the club Tuesday, running back Felton Roundtree from Edward Waters College in Jacksonville, Fla. and offensive guard Earl Dwyer from Maryland State.

Roundtree, from the same school that produced Pittsburgh Steeler running back Cammon Butler, is a 6-1, 218-pounder.

Dwyer, a 6-9, 280-pounder, was Atlanta's No. 2 draft choice this year.

Meanwhile, the team announced that running back Ron Rector, injured in a traffic accident last month, had slightly improved. Rector suffered severe head injuries and probably will never play again.

Tom Welskopf Wins $25,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament

By ED SAINBURY
UPI Sports Writer
GRAND BLANC, Mich. UPI—

Tom Welskopf, a 26 year old golf pro who wears green for luck won his second tournament in four years on the tour Sunday, grabbing the $25,000 first prize in the Buick Open when challenging rookie Mike Hill missed a five-foot putt trying to tie on the last green.

Welskopf wound up with a final round 69 to finish eight-under par for the 72 holes with a final round 69 to finish eight under par for 72 holes with 280. Hill earning $15,000 second money, had a par 72 on his last round for 281.

The final round was a nip-and-tuck chase all the way between Welskopf, Hill and Rod Horn, who finally fell out of contention when he bogeyed the 71st hole.

But Welskopf's sharp play on the front nine, when he had three birdies and six pars, moved him from a fifth place tie, three strokes behind into a share of the lead with Horn, one stroke in front and eight-under par. He went nine under with a birdie on his 14th hole of the day and dropped back to eight under when he too bogeyed the 17th hole, his 71st of the tourney.

MAKES GOOD RUN But Hill, and playing in only his fifth tournament made a good run at Welskopf until the final putt.

"I hit a terrible putt," he said. "I hit it onto the toe. It turned left when I hit it and I know when he too went eight-under par with a 71st hole bogey. But he whacked his approach to the last green against some stands to the left. He was given a free drop and after the ball three times rolled back against the stands, he was allowed to place it."

Finally, with Welskopf watching from the fringe, Hill put his chip shot five feet past the flag. Then, after studying the lie from all directions, he rolled the ball past the cup on the left to give Welskopf the victory.

"I can't say if I had the hole or not," Hill said. "I'll never know." Welskopf came within one shot of hitting the score he believed he would need to win. "I thought that if I shot a 68, I could win," he said. "I tried to play the course coming in. I feel very lucky. I think the key to my round were the putts I made for birdies on the first nine. They gave me a lot of confidence. I've putted very well throughout the week."

"I never thought I had a chance to win until today when I caught everybody on the first nine," he said.

HIS OTHER WIN

Welskopf's only other tournament win came at San Diego this year, but he has been in the top 10 eight times in 21 tournaments, finishing second twice. Sunday's paycheck boosted his earnings for the year to $116,738.80 trailing only Billy Casper.

Hill, who failed to make the cut only in his first tournament, won money at two of the other three and also finished second at Indianapolis. Sunday's prize exceeded what he had hoped to win during this entire season on the tour and valued him into the top 46 in earnings with $24,880. He said he had "hoped to win between $5,000 and $10,000 for the entire year." Horne had his worst round of the tournament on Sunday with a 74 on the 7,001 yard Warwick Hills course to finish third with 287 to win $9,375.

National open champion Lee Trevino, tied for the lead after 34 holes, slipped to a four-over-par 76 and finished in a three-way tie for sixth with defending champion Julius Boros and Johnny Pott at 284.

Bob Lunn and Rocky Thompson tied for fourth at 283.

Has Three Hall-Of-Famers In American League

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — The American League will have three Hall of Famers and stars from some of the greatest Yankee teams, but the National League will counter with an all 300 hitters' outfield in the second annual Old-Timers Game July 13th at Atlanta Stadium.

The "AMERICAN LEAGUE Old Timers" play the "National League Old-Timers" at 12:30 p. m. before the Braves and Los Angeles Dodgers play at 2:15 p. m.

Luke Appling, Bill Dickey and Henry "Heinie" Manush are the members of Baseball's Hall of Fame who will play for the American League in this second annual game.

Appling led the American League in batting twice and played in more games at shortstop than any other player in his 20 years with the White Sox, 1930-50.

Dickey was the Yankees' power-hitting catcher for 16 years, hitting over 300 eleven times between 1928 and 1943.

Manush finished his 17 year career in the AL with an amazing .330 batting average and formed with Ty Cobb and Harry Hellmann a great Detroit outfield in the 20s. Jimmy Dykes, who will manage the AL Old-Timers, will also have Spud Chandler, Lefty Gomez and Bob Turley, who won a combined total of 380 games for some of the greatest New York Yankees teams, and popular Bobby Richardson, who played in seven world Series for the Yankees between 1967 and 1968.

Manager Al Lopez of the Nationals, however, won't be without some great names, too. Joe "Ducky" Medwick, who'll be inducted into the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., a few days after the game, leads an outfield of 300 hitters. With him in the NL outfield will be Enos "Country" Slaughter and Braves scout Dixie Walker. All finished with .300 or better batting averages.

Pitchers for the AL include Lou Brisse, Chandler, Harry Dorn, Gomez, Manager of the Braves Luman Harris, Bob Hasty, Willard Nixon, Turley and Walter Wilson Dickey, Braves Vice-President Paul Richards and Luke Sewell are the catchers, with Appling, Richardson, Joe Sewell, Cecil Travis and Rudy York in the infield. The outfield for the junior circuit lists Jim Busby, Sam Byrd, Dom DeMaggio, Billy Goodman, Manush, Ray Pepper and Earl Wooten.

NL pitchers are Johnny Beasley, Joe Black, Clyde Castleman, Red

Lucas and Taylor Phillips, pitching to catchers Ken Silvestri and Spud Davis and backed up by infielders Marty Marion, Johnny Mize, Don Padgett and Pete Whisenant.

A Friday, July 12th, appearance at the Braves 400 Club, which is co-sponsoring the game, and a post game dinner at the Atlanta Stadium Club are also scheduled for the Old-Timers.

Ban Sought On Friday Night Pro Football Telecasts

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Rep. Jake J. Pickle, D-Tex., said Saturday he will ask both the Federal Communications Commission and American Football League owners to cancel the scheduled Friday night telecasts of two professional football games next fall.

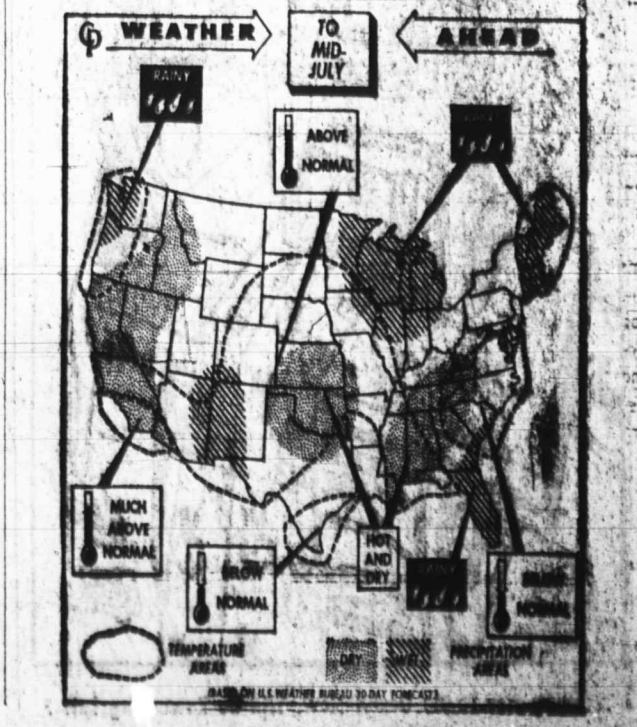

Pickle said the telecasts would violate the spirit of a law designed to protect high school contests from losing fans to the pro football telecasts or Fridays.

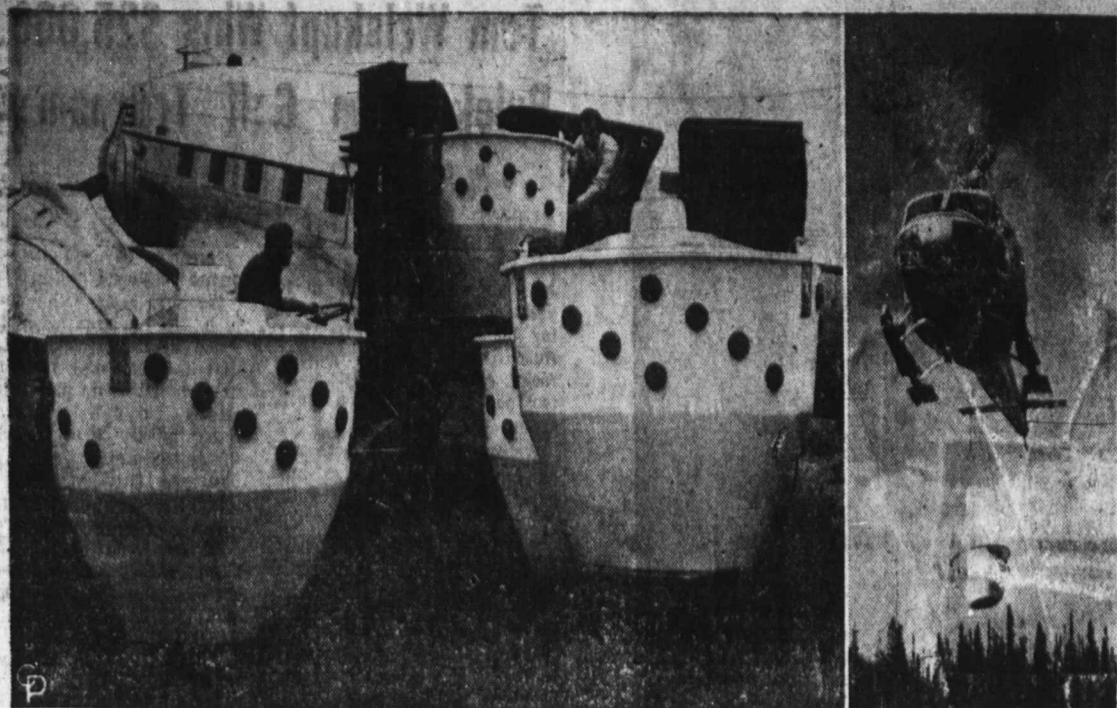

Pickle has already asked Rep. Emmanuel Celler, D-N. Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, to look into telecasts of the Sept. 6 game at Houston between Kansas City and the Oilers and the Oilers and the Oct. 11 contest at Miami between the Buffalo Bills and the Dolphins.

Kaiser Corp Gets $2.9 Million Housing Contract From HUD

Secretary Robert C. Weaver of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development today announced that Kaiser Engineers, a division of Kaiser Industries Corp., Oakland, Calif., has been awarded a contract to carry out Phase II of the national "In-Cities" experimental low-cost housing research and development project.

The contract is for $2.9 million, with a provision for an increase of $2 million in the next fiscal year. Phase II will recommend the specific housing experiments and cities in which these projects will be constructed. The contractor also will carry out the housing experiments in cities selected by HUD.

Most of the housing will be built in a selected number of Model Cities. Wherever housing is proposed, the people will be involved because citizen participation is an essential element of the Model Cities program.

The first phase of the experimental project was conducted by Abt Associates, Inc., Cambridge, Mass., with Daniel, Mann, Johnson and Mendenhall, Los Angeles; Building Systems Development, Inc., an Francisco, Calif., with the Kaiser Engineers Division and others; and Westinghouse Electric Corp., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Secretary Weaver said he was pleased with the quality of the proposals submitted by all three contractors.

"All three of the proposals," he said, "showed a deep understanding of the housing needs of our lower-income urban families, as well as the need for innovative, cost-reducing methods of housing production. They studied a great number of existing building systems, materials and methods to determine their potential utility, and also analyzed the constraints that would have to be overcome to allow their introduction."

"The contractors demonstrated," he added, "that professional multidisciplinary groups can work closely and effectively with our City and Federal officials and city residents." T. F. Rogers, Director of HUD's Office of Urban Technology and Research, explained that Building Systems Development, Inc., proposed that if its team were selected to carry out Phase II, Kaiser Engineers would become the prime contractor, and BSDI would become a sub-contractor.

During Phase I of this national experimental project, each of the three contractors did the following: 1. Studied 25 Model Cities each, and some others, to provide detailed information needed to assist HUD in the final selection of those cities in which housing experiments will be carried out; 2. Identified, studied, and evaluated new design, construction and management techniques an systems-including industrial systems-materials, components, etc., to be explored in the conduct of the housing experiments in specific city situations; 3. Worked with city officials, residents, and labor, industrial and professional groups, to determine the critical housing needs and major constraints to housing innovation;

4. Estimated the cost and time of carrying out useful housing experiments; and 5. Suggested to HUD cities and experiments that, in interrelated total, should be considered for the overall national experiment.

REPORT DUE WITHIN MONTH

According to Mr. Rogers, Kaiser Engineers will now promptly review all of the reports submitted to HUD by all of the Phase I contractors. Within a month, Kaiser will recommend to HUD the specific housing experiments and the cities which seem most likely for successful experiments; all cities and experiments reviewed by all contractors in Phase I will be considered. HUD will make the final selection of cities, based upon these recommendations, and reach agreements with the cities it selects.

Following city selection, the contractor will initiate detailed planning for new and rehabilitation construction, exploring a wide range of building types such as single-family, townhouse, detached unit, and high-rise.

The construction will be carried out by local sponsors in each of the selected cities, using various HUD-assisted programs, such as public housing, experimental housing, below-market-interest rate and rent-supplement housing.

Mr. Rogers said that the voluminous data and information submitted at the close of Phase I by all three contractors will be studied carefully, and the most significant portions will be made available in the near future to all those throughout the country concerned with the provision of low-cost housing.

Nat'l Club Women Sponsor Workshop In Washington

The National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, Inc., in conjunction with the August 2-10 biennial convention in Chicago, Illinois, will sponsor a three day workshop session to be directed and staffed by the Women's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor, Dr. Mary Dublin Keyserling, Director.

According to Mrs. Mamie B. Reese, President of NACWC, certificates will be awarded to persons registered for the convention and completing the workshop itinerary.

Areas to be covered are (1) Orientation to Continuing Education Programs and Services for Women; (2) Procedures for initiating and enlarging Community Day Care Services; and (3) Information on Counseling Services for adults and youth.

Persons recommended for certificates will have priority in their local communities in personnel select on for Federal programs now operating. Also, such persons will be eligible to submit proposals for new projects for Federal funding.

The Convention will be held at the Palmer House in Chicago. For further information contact may be made at the National Association Headquarters, 1901 "R" Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

College Campus A Lonely Place To The Black Athlete Says Olsen

NEW YORK — "Stay away from the white women" is the first message of rigid social check the black athlete gets as soon as he arrives on the typical American college campus, says Jack Olsen in the second installment of "The Black Athlete — A Shameful Story" this week in Sports Illustrated.

General belief to the contrary and in contrast with developing changes in our society in general he says, our universities are a bastion of the old prejudices — and a considerable share of the responsibility for holding to them lies with the coaches and athletic directors.

The cruel expressions of this racial prejudice Olsen reports reach into every social situation — and onto the playing fields as well — regardless of geography and with rare exceptions regardless of person, making of the Negro's college experience a drowning well of loneliness, a "time of social isolation from all but a handful of other black athletes."

The article cites examples from the University of Texas at El Paso, Seattle University, U.C.L.A., the University of Oregon, University of Washington, Kansas, and Southwestern Teachers College in Oklahoma, and of such athletes as Elgin Baylor, Walt Hazzard, Harold Busby, Junior Coffey, Maurice Stokes, Percy Harris, Lew Alcindor, Lucius Allen, and Mike Warren.

The pressures are put on in many different ways, some direct and some indirect, according to Olsen, Seattle Husky sophomore footballer Claude Roberts says, he was fired from the squad for being seen out with a white girl. University of Washington Basketball Star Bob Flowers says he was reprimanded for chatting with a white girl while waiting for the team bus to depart.

Percy Harris enrolled in a physical education course (at Southwestern Teachers College) which included social dancing. At the first class he was told not to come back — that he would get a passing grade.

Student - to - student relations are usually somewhat easier on the campus Negro, says Olsen, but the small incidents which occur continually, "amount to shattering brutality when viewed in terms of the human spirit." And even good team relationships often fade away from the field. University of Kansas Flanker Don Shanklin told Olsen "if you run into one of the white players downtown with his date, he doesn't know you."

And, Olsen reports, the truth is that there is nearly as much racial prejudice after the opening whistle blows as before. Not only does the Negro athlete have to be much better than his white counterpart to get the post, he has to be almost impervious to injury (the black athlete frequently is sent out to play with serious injuries), to insult and to injustice. He must accept his role as a hired performer being permitted to help out in a white man's pursuit, and to know and to keep his place.

Last year at the University of Kansas, according to the SI article, an amazing relationship developed between a black Lineman and a white assistant coach. In the words of Linebacker Willie Mc-

Daniel: "It started when the player made a mistake in practice and the coach kicked him kind of half seriously and half playfully. When this happened again, the Negro just laughed - he's that kind of kid he takes and takes. So now the kid would be down in a crouch ready to do a forward roll in practice and to coach would come up behind him and kick him. And then laugh. And then all white cats on the team big joke on the team, and this kid would laugh, too. It got to be the weighs 230 pounds, and he's getting kicked every time he gets into a crouch...."

Dary Hill, the Negro who integrated the U. S. Navy Academy and the University of Maryland football teams, "suffered not only from the jeers of the crowds but cries of 'Get up nigger' from the other players as well. He says he received the cruelest treatment from students at Virginia.

William Hairston Joins HHH Drive

WASHINGTON, D. C. — William Hairston, novelist, playwright, and former actor, has joined the Humphrey campaign staff as Audio News Editor and Correspondent for the United Democrats for Humphrey.

After roles in the legitimate theater, on television and in films, Hairston turned his full attention to writing, partly because of the limited opportunities for Negro actors.

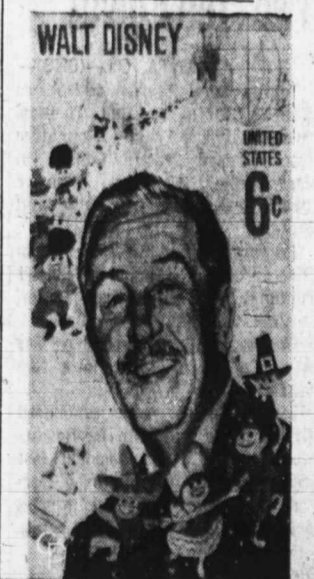

He has written two novels, "The World of Carlos" and "Of Blood and Flesh," and two junior books. His literary output has also included several plays — "Black Antikone," "Walk in Darkness," and "Swan Song of the 11th Dawn."

Hairston said he put his writing aside for his first venture into political campaigning because "Vice President Humphrey's record is the most progressive of any candidate running. We know what the man is, his ability, his feelings, his beliefs because he has put them into action."

"Humphrey's gone to bat for programs that affect me and the people I identify with. He's done more than anyone else to fulfill the ideals of this great country."

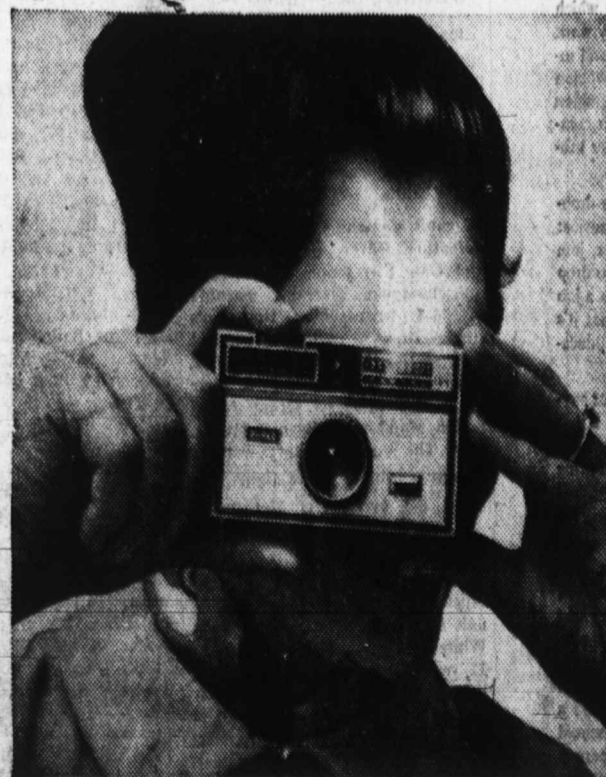

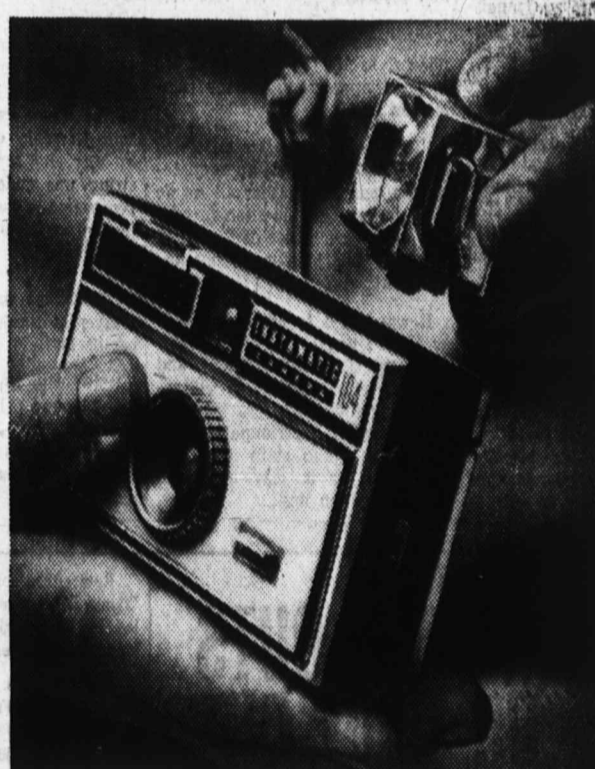

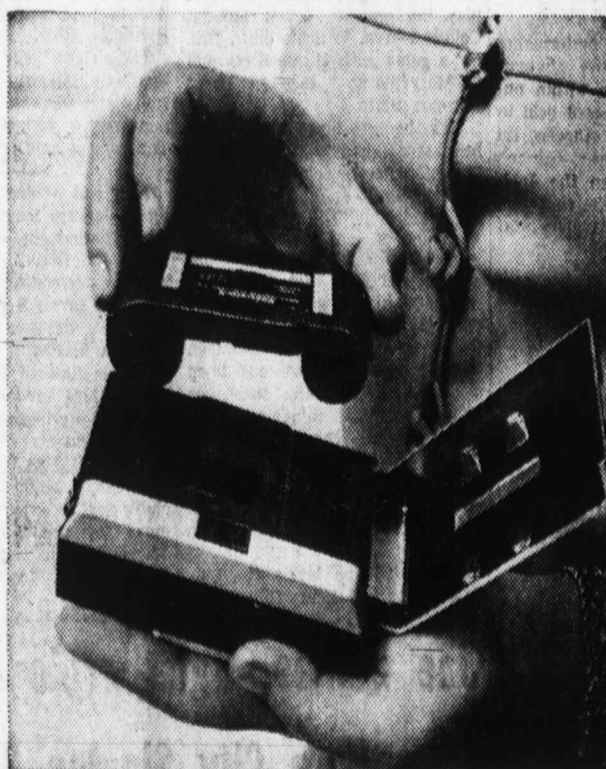

Hairston covers campaign activities and writes radio and television reports for the UDH Audio News Service, a 24 - hour providing actualities and correspondents' reports to radio and television stations which call in on the UDH Audio line.

Hairston is a native of Goldsboro, N. C., and studied at the Robert Lewis Theatre Workshop, New York University, and Columbia University in New York.

WALT DISNEY and "His World" is the theme of this 6-center to be issued Sept. 11 at Marceline, Mo. It was designed by C. Robert Moore and the portrait of the late Disney was painted by Paul E. Wenzel, both Walt Disney Productions staffers.

Woman Gives Birth After Shooting Doctor

TORONTO, ONT. — UPI — A woman who refused to believe she was pregnant shot a young doctor six times at a hospital Monday and then gave birth to a seven-pound girl.

Police said about 4 a. m., Dr. Anthony Tripodi, 24, attempted to administer a sedative to Mrs. Yuck Sang Woo, 30, Toronto, who had been admitted about midnight and was suffering severe pains.

After examination, she refused to believe she was pregnant, hospital officials said. Instead, she blamed the pains on the young doctor.

As Tripodi went to administer to her, police said, she pulled a .22-caliber revolver from beneath her bedspread and fired six times. Another doctor and a nurse who rushed to the room after the shots said she still was pulling the trigger of the empty pistol as they entered, and was reaching into her pocketbook for more bullets.

Tripodi was listed in satisfactory condition with wounds in the abdomen, right arm, and ear. The baby, born normally shortly after 8 a. m., was reported in good condition.
