Humphrey Rebukes Saigon In Imprisoning Dinh Dzu

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Government of the United States has formally protested to the Vietnamese Government for imprisoning Dinh Dzu, a prominent South Vietnamese who has been critical of the Communist regime.

Dinh Dzu, a journalist and university professor, was arrested in January and has been held without trial ever since. He has been described as a leader of the opposition movement against the South Vietnamese regime.

The following is an editorial from the New York Times:

Dinh Dzu is a prominent figure in the South Vietnamese opposition movement, and his imprisonment is a serious blow to the democratic forces in that country. The Vietnamese Government should release him immediately.

HOME IMPROVEMENT: CHOOSE BUILDING CONTRACTORS WISELY OR YOU MAY LOSE EVERYTHING YOU OWN

CHEROKEE, N.C.—Last week, a young Cherokee man was the victim of a building contractor's scam. The contractor, who had been hired to build a garage, failed to complete the job and then disappeared with the money. The man was left with a worthless structure and a large debt.

The incident highlights the importance of choosing reputable contractors. Here are some tips on how to avoid being swindled:

1. Get referrals from friends, family, or neighbors.
2. Check the contractor's license and bonding status.
3. Ask for references and check them.
4. Get written estimates and contracts.
5. Pay in progressive installments, only after each phase of the work is completed.

If you suspect a contractor of wrongdoing, report it to the Better Business Bureau or your local consumer protection agency.
